General

Dear Sir

Being about applying for a situation in the Custom House here, and it being requisite to have certificates of Service and merit, I take the liberty of applying to you as the only General Officer now living except Gen^l Ward, who knows of my Service and the working of the Regt. I have a good recommendation from Gov Concl, in which he speaks of the 3rd being originally your regiment, and I think if you can give me a certificate it would assist me very much in obtaining a situation which I am much in need of, as I am now and have been for seven months at a great expence on account of the sickness of my Wife, who I regret to say cannot long be here with me, she is suffering from an inward cancer for which nothing can be done but to make her as comfortable as possible, which I well. This he has done in addition to his work for me personally, which is compensated a little bit in the morning and evening at dressing & undressing. Guy is quite well and I think getting into even better condition than when he came. He is a very good boy, obedient, kind and intelligent. Col. Wentland thinks very highly of him. I think Col. W. feels badly that he has no children. Before Guy came he kept saying how much he wanted my children to come & play in the yard to keep fit alive. All thanks about servants, housekeeping &c. I will leave to talk over with you when I come on. I shall surely bring you on when I come back. At least part way where I can see you occasionally. I feel too much like

Have received the report to the Hon.

Bedford L.I. July 22, 1865

Dear,

Sir-

I avail myself of this method to call your attention to the subject of this letter which will convey to you some ideas that may serve the interest of the Freedmen in the Southern States. In reflecting upon the destiny of these people & the relations & the power of the Bureau to control it, I cannot but hope that my efforts will be fully considered & will be approved by you.

The plan to give the Freedmen Homestead Right to lift them above the position of tenant at will originated from me as you will see by referring to the Washington Morning Chronicle of the 22 of April 1864 in which a communication was published written by me as the way mark to reach the solution of the great problem which is demanded alike for the white man & the colored man who must depend upon the policy of the Government as the guide to the future.

The power vested in you as Commissioner of Freedmen will open to you the way to treat the subject with the seriousness its importance demands as all that they will be in the future may come from the decision to establish these people in a permanent position on old plantations in the Southern States. The first requirement is protection with a field open to them that they may become the industrial class of the South. How can they obtain this without the agency of the Government & what Plan will it adopt to lead to that result?

To answer the question in a useful manner & without any presumption on my part that would infringe upon its dignity or the rights of your Bureau is the object of my solicitude. It has been my determination to make a mark in the history of the colored people & I believe that I have nearly reached the object of my ambition. The contents of the circular herewith transmitted is the key to the principles by which I am governed in writing you this letter which will serve as the link to the efforts to protect my people in the transition & open the way for their elevation. For I cannot but think that their destiny to some extent is in your hands as I will endeavor to show & which will be determined by the Plan you may adopt in their behalf.

The surrender of the abandoned Lands to those who may claim them is the turning point & may become the subject of the highest importance if the condition to provide for the Freedmen to retain their homes for three or five years & be supplied with means to plant provisions for their families under the guidance of your should be adopted. It will enable them on the other hand to cultivate the remainder of the plantation for any owner who will need the labor to carry on the culture of the Land until the Government can fix upon the Plan to establish them in a permanent position.

The vitality of emancipation depends upon a national organization of the Freedmen in to an industrial class to carry on the agriculture of the South & at the same time manage their own affairs on the homesteads. In every case where the owner of any land either from opposition to the Government or other cause fails to cultivate the soil, the colored people for self preservation must carry it on as the only means to sustain the system of industry necessary to establish the great principle of self elevation to govern them. To keep them from the allurements of the cities & beyond the reach of Whisky & the Policy of office & other degrading features of civilization would be the greatest blessing that could be conferred upon a people exposed to the pernicious example of the dominant class. I make the reference not in an offensive sense but it is referred to as a vice that would be decidedly against the moral & the intelligent work that must be done for the elevation of the Freedmen.

I apply to you per request of Capt Goodrel who is busy now at Louisville Ky, in arranging for the mustering out of the men of the Regiment, and as soon as he is mustered out he wishes to get some employment, until he can get a permanent position. HEADQUARTERS 4TH DIVISION 17TH ARMY CORPS, GOLDSBORO, March 27, 1865.

We have, after fifty-eight days of weary marching, arrived at our destination, where we are preparing for another and last campaign. Our march through South Carolina was a perfect success, compelling the Rebels to evacuate Charleston, destroying all their railroad communications, both north and south. We arrived before Columbia, South Carolina, on the 19th, of February. During the night of the 16th, Col. Kennedy, 13th Iowa, Lt. H. C. McArthur and Lt. Wm. H. Goodrell, of the 15th Iowa, and A. D. C. to Gen. Belknap, fitted up an old boat preparatory to crossing the river the next morning. The 15th Army Corps was on our left, fighting for the bridge across Broad River. We however crossed without opposition, and with nineteen men and the colors of the 13th Iowa Infantry, advanced through the city until we came to the main street, where we captured a horse and buggy, in which we mounted our color-bearer with the colors, Col. Kennedy and Lt. McArthur as passengers, and Lt. W. H. Goodrell as conductor, started on the "double trot" for the State House. We arrived in about one square of the Capitol building when we were attacked by a squad of Wheeler's Rebel cavalry, and one feminine. As usual, they fired their one round and "skedaddled." We gave them the contents of one gun, the only one we had with us, and proceeded on our way, amidst a crowd of "darkies" (dancing, shouting and performing all kinds of gymnastics,) citizens, &c., which had by this time surrounded us, thinking, no doubt, that the army was at our heels following us in. Col. Kennedy, Lt. McArthur, and the color-bearer started for the old Capitol building; the soldier that carried the banner and Lt. Wm. H. Goodrell proceeded to the new Capitol building, and planted the banner of the 13th Iowa on the Capitol of South Carolina. The colors of the 13th Iowa were planted and waved over Columbia an hour before any other troops reached the city. The town surrendered to Col. Stone, 25th Iowa, and he with his Brigade took possession of the city, with the exception of the Capitol building. The 15th Corps occupied the city first, notwithstanding the statements of correspondents to the contrary. At dark whisky was found, and the consequence was that citizens, darkies, and soldiers even, were on a general jollification, and the next morning the city of Columbia was nothing but smoking ruins. No one can be to blame, save the citizens themselves. If they had taken the precaution to destroy the liquors, all would have been right. Our march was through swamps, wading sometimes waist deep, the men ragged, and a great many barefooted, but all was endured without a complaint. We lived on chickens, turkeys, and whatever the country afforded, much to the disgust of the Old Ladies who prized their poultry very highly.

We have traveled five hundred miles through the very hot-bed of Secession, and are all packed, clothed, and fitted up for our onward march—probably via Raleigh, and hope to be in reporting distance of Gen. Grant soon. I send you herewith the report of our march by Brig. Gen. W. W. Belknap, and Brevet Maj. Gen. Giles A. Smith's order relative thereto.

Yours truly,
Wm. H. Goodrell

HEADQUARTERS THIRD BRIGADE, 4TH DIVISION, 17TH ARMY CORPS, GOLDSBORO, N. C. March 25, 1865.

CAPTAIN: I have the honor to make the following brief report relative to the movements of this brigade on the late campaign:

Leaving Savannah on the 6th of January, it moved from Pocotaligo on the 29th of the same month, entered Orangeburg on February 12th, and Columbia, the Capital of the State of South Carolina, on the 19th of February. Camped near Cheraw, S. C., March 3d, near Fayetteville N. C., on March 11th, and entered Goldsboro, N. C., on March 24th, having been transported 60 miles, and marched 484½ miles; destroying the roads, rebuilding bridges, and traveling much of the distance through swamps, which had to be waded by the men.

On February 7th the 11th Iowa Infantry under Lt. Col. Ben Beach, marched from Midway to the bridge over the Edisto River, which was defended by the rebels, and compelled them to evacuate their position and destroy the bridge.

On February 16th, a detachment of the 13th Iowa Infantry, under command of Lt. Colonel Kennedy, accompanied by Lieuts. William H. Goodrell and H. C. McArthur, of the 15th Iowa, of my staff, crossed the Congaree River to Columbia, while a portion of the enemy were in the city; marched through town and planted, in advance of all others, the colors of that Regiment on both the old and new Capitol buildings. Col. Kennedy and his men deserve great credit for the successful accomplishment of this movement.

On March 29th, near Bentonville, N. C., the brigade went into position, and on the 21st a new line being established, the skirmish line was ordered to advance, which they did, driving the rebel skirmishers from their pits, and actually charging a heavy line of battle of the enemy, only retiring when opposed by an overwhelming force. Our loss on the skirmish line was 25. Few fields show more traces of severe fighting than the ground occupied by this gallant line.

My thanks are especially due Lieut. Wm. H. Goodrell, brigade picket officer, for the manner in which he handled his men on that day.

On the campaign the following amount of Railroad has been destroyed: Feb. 8th, 3½ miles of S. C. railroad, between Midway and the Edisto River; Feb. 13th, two miles of the Columbia Branch S. C. railroad, near Orangeburg; Feb. 15th, 1½ miles of the Charlotte railroad, between Columbia and Winnsboro; Feb. 18th, one mile of the Charlotte railroad; Feb. 20th, one mile of the same road; Feb. 22d, two miles of same road. Total 11 miles.

The duties of the campaign have been performed, and the trials of the march endured cheerfully by both officers and men, for which they have my thanks.

I am, Captain, very respectfully, Your ob't servant,
WM. W. BELKNAP,
Brig. Gen. Comd'g 3d Brigade.

HEADQUARTERS 4TH DIV., 17TH A. C., NEAR COLUMBIA, S. C. Feb. 17, 1865.

BRIG. GEN. W. W. BELKNAP:—Sir: Allow me to congratulate you, and through you, Lt. Col. J. C. Kennedy, 13th Iowa Vet. Vols., and the men under his command, for first entering the city of Columbia on the morning of Friday, February 17th, and being the first to plant his colors on the Capitol of South Carolina. While the army was laying pontoon bridges across the Saluda and Broad Rivers, three miles above the city, Lt. Col. Kennedy, under your direction, fitted up an old worn-out flat boat, capable of carrying about twenty men, and accompanied by Lieuts. H. C. McArthur and Wm. H. Goodrell, of your staff, crossed the river in front of the city, and boldly advanced through its streets, sending back the boat with another procured on the opposite shore for more troops and on their arrival, with seventy-five men in all, drove a portion of Wheeler's cavalry from the town, and at 11½ o'clock a. m. planted his two stand of colors, one upon the old, the other upon the new Capitol.

The swift current of the Congaree River, and its rocky channel rendered his crossing both difficult and dangerous, and the presence of the enemy, but in what force unknown, rendered the undertaking still more hazardous.

Lt. Col. Kennedy and his regiment are entitled to great credit for its successful accomplishment.

I have the honor to be, very respectfully,
Your ob't servant,
GILES A. SMITH,
Brevet Maj. Gen. Comd'g.

I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your communication of the 15th. I was not aware that my Battery was mustered-out, & since writing to you I have rec^d. a letter from it, which states that a portion only (the non-veterans) was sent home, rather indicating that the organization was to be retained, I suppose however that it is liable to be mustered-out at any time.

The last regiment of my Brigade will be mustered-out tomorrow, or next day, when

I will be ordered to Quiermont

Your reply to my last letter is received and is satisfactory. Accept my sincere thanks for it.

I cannot believe that the impressions of Gen. Grant - though my confidence in him is perfect - concerning Gen. Lee are quite correct; but you could only act as you saw fit.

My dear General

I have delayed writing you for some time hoping to have something of interest to communicate but very opportunities for observation here have been limited to the City and its immediate surroundings. And I presume that could be said of the status of the freedmen here would apply equally well to all Southern Apartments. I have noticed them closely and it seems to me what is most needed by them is an increase number of their appointments by the Government whose duty it is to provide employment for them at proper wages and homes for the poor unfortunate who are unable to work. By mixing freely with the people here I and noticing the mistaken hatred they almost universally manifest for the Negro free and the sorrowing way they speak of all efforts to enlighten and instruct him. I have been able more fully to appreciate the great weight of impossibility the Government has put upon you. There seems to be a determination on the part of former slaveholders to withhold their support of the Government in any indirect way, by allowing their estates to lie idle & thus as they have lost many of their best hands to drive the balance upon them to be supplied by the Government. There are hundreds without clothing or employment that draw their subsistence from the Government at this point - who seem to be entirely without the encouragement or opportunity to obtain which ought to be afforded them. This is deep although compulsory, in a great degree is an organized work against them. And the ignorance and stupidity of the poor creatures who have hardly ever before been outside the boundaries of the own plantations is another. I have had my Sympathies so far only enlisted in their favor and have so much faith in the effect of kindness & encouragement - with a proper system of labor and remuneration - that

58 were I out of the Service I would make application to lease a plantation myself and give the Subject a fair trial -

Br. Brig. Genl. Brimmer is in command of this District is generally liked & believed. I hardly think his Sympathies have kept pace with the policy of the Government in relation to the Negro. Br. Rusk is permanently attached to this post. Col.
Hubbard has resigned which leaves one in command. You will be kind enough to inform me when I can render you
