To the President of Howard University, Washington, D. C.

DEAR SIR:

A copy of "WOMAN'S RECORD, OR BIOGRAPHY OF DISTINGUISHED WOMEN," by MRS. HALE, will be sent, directed to your care, by Avery Bill, agent of the Publishers—HARPER & BROTHERS—New York. It is my desire to present this work for a place in the Library of your Institution, if, on examination, it is approved.

In the preparation of this volume of nearly a thousand pages, it was my endeavor to make it worthy to be an aid in the best mode of education, namely, that which does justice to both sexes. The knowledge taught in our schools and colleges is necessary for men and women; but the wisdom learned must, in its application to the duties of life, be used with differences.

Men, generally speaking, must use their knowledge in labors that subdue Earth, by the improvement of material things. Women are the teachers of childhood, and the moral cultivators of humanity; their work, if well done, leads to Heaven. These differences in the duties of life are themes set forth and illustrated by examples in these pages.

The book is inscribed "To the Men of America." It was my design to draw their attention to the principles on which the work is founded, and therefore it will be sent to Institutions where young men and young women are educated together as hopefully as to the Colleges for young women only. The former, being under the care of religious denominations, and presided over by Christian men, have a deep interest in the subjects of "Woman's Record."

The character of the work may be learned from the Introductory. The General Preface explains the plan, and the authorities that sustain the truths set forth; the scope of knowledge respecting past events of history, and the present condition of the world, may be gathered from Remarks on the Eras.

I trust "Woman's Record" will be found fitted for what it was intended—the textbook of knowledge concerning what women have done, and concerning what their capacities fit them to become by a higher culture, namely, the good helpers of men in all their good works.

Sarah Josepha Hale

Gen. Oliver Otis Howard.

An answer is requested—and a copy of the annual report will be welcome.

Gen O O Howard,

Dear Bro -

Your letter came in the midst of pressing duties & has had to wait for an answer until this Monday morning which is my weekly vacation. I am happy to furnish the desired information so far as possible at present. <sup>29/10</sup>

My arrival was just too late to observe the Week of Prayer with the Ch. I found a very pleasant Ch-edifice. Its exterior is clean and fair giving evidence of taste & skill in its

Mr. Ellis says the building is construction & that it has been recently re-painted. The interior is in need of repairs wh<sup>ch</sup> will be made ere long, we think. [The ~~sitting~~<sup>seating</sup> <sup>capacity</sup> is 350. The ch lot is large & rarely beautiful, having several of the native oaks distributed thro' out the area & ~~the~~<sup>its</sup> front half sloping gently to the South.]

According to our State Minutes the membership of this ch is 72. The no of absentees I cannot give at this writg.
I find this people cordial, sympathetic, warm hearted. I certainly deem myself fortunate in having <sup>my</sup> lot cast among them. — But, if I am right in the matter, the religious people, with some exceptions, had been cowed by skepticism so that they hardly dared risk their religious belief. I may be in error but so it seemed; I did feel as if God's people had been silenced.

I made no direct attack upon the infidelity. Instead, I fearlessly proclaimed a candid, kind, plain, bold Gospel of salvation wh from the first word with the ch & community. Then your coming last month was God's time for revival. The effort has just closed, leaving the ch itself 10 in fine condition & many souls saved from among the students & citizens.

God has been here, too, in severe afflictions with <sup>some</sup> of wh you are acquainted. And all together a marked change has been wrought - the skeptics are the silent ones now while the sons of Zion rejoice to bear testimony to the sweet spirit of the Son of David.

Sabbath School interests increase also. Attendance yesterday was some 16 in excess of any previous day.

If you find any items here that you care to gather for the Advance, be assured I have cheerfully noted them.

Ever grateful for your help here I am humbly yours

Dear General

your kind note of the 19th I duly perused in due time. and I confess that I am somewhat exercised as to the interpretation to give it. you say "that you think I am not wise to perpetuate a difficulty with a Presbyterian minister" the inference I would draw from that is that you are displeased with me. if I am correct in my inference. then I regret that fact exceedingly and that fact alone. and I desire to say also that I don't single Mr Weeks out because he is a Presbyterian minister not by any means. far from it. It would have been all the same to me who and what one he might be. any body who insults me must take the consequences of his act. But why does "my friends" say that it would "not be worthy of me as a man a christian or an officer to pursue" this said Mr Weeks. except in the spirit of charity was it in the spirit of charity. that Mr Weeks couched his letter to you. commencing it by insult-and injecting into it lies and deception, as well, you General and my friends are all looking upon them as I mean to pursue Mr. Wicks either in charity or any other spirit. I have done with him. I have paid him all I owe him, and henceforward I shall endeavor to forget the said Mr. Wicks.

You further say that you have called upon him to make a complete sacrifice of himself to the Lord. what is this sacrifice to consist in. I am anxious to know.

Again General to a point you make in your letter to wit: "this little thing may be the turning point in my life and that of my children!" for the life of me I can't understand what this abiding passage means. does it mean good or evil to me and my family. does it mean that you will withdraw your friendship from me. it really does look to me General as though you were enlisted in the interest of the said Mr. Wicks as against me your old war comrade and sincere friend. Altogether General your letter is an enigma to me. and I await anxiously your reply to assist my understanding you class your letter like a true Christian. as I know you are. but does it mean that I shall forgive somebody or that I may be forgiven, which

My dear sir,

I hear from Portland that you have delivered publicly a lecture on the Battle of Gettysburgh, in which you complimentarily mentioned the dear boy and the brave officer, my son, who was killed in your first day's fight.

I can not express to you the sorrowful joy and the profound gratitude kindled in my heart by this public honor of my son by his distinguished commander.

Will you permit me to beg from you a copy of your lecture. I fear that it was delivered extemporaneously — but if you gave it from manuscript, I pray

Whatever you say about

Dear Sir

I received your kind and welcome letter just one day after I dispatched my second letter to you. I was very sorry but could not recall it.

I thought I would wait before writing you to see the effect of your letter to Genl Pope. I heard that he referred the matter to the Judge Advocate of the Department (Major Swain) and that was the last I heard about it.

Your kind letter gives me courage to write to you more freely. I have thought a great deal lately on the subject of religion and have made some good resolutions that I hope

I can keep but you must be aware Sir that this place is enough to drive good thoughts from the mind of a person much better than I am.

If I were only in some situation where my associates and companions were good upright men I think I should be able to lead a better life. I should much like to serve you Sir in the in the humblest capacity wages no object. although I have not a good education by any means, I think I may say I am tolerably intelligent and well informed and am not afraid of work.

On the subject of religion I am swayed first one way then the other by what I hear or read on the subject. my conscience tells me I am a great sinner and when I read a good book or hear a good preacher I make great resolutions only to be broken again.

If you are not tired out by my importunities I beg you to make one more effort to effect my release by writing to the Secretary of War I do not think he would refuse your request but you Sir know best what to do

I know that Sabbath day morning

Though for a special occasion

Dear Sir

Will you be pleased to pardon the very great liberty which I, as a stranger, assume in addressing you. The object to be attained must be my apology.

Late last evening I learned that you are expected to be present in this city on Sabbath 14th inst.
to address the churches of this city in a great union meeting at the Opera House, the service to take place in the fore-noon; and I at once concluded to write to you to ascertain if it would be convenient to make a visit to the Penitentiary in the afternoon and holding a meeting of an hour or two with the inmates say from one to three, or about that time. It is true that it is an obscure and neglected part of the Master's vineyard, still it is a part, and by no means an insignificant part. O I wish you would be pleased to spend a part of that Sabbath there to speak to the men and also hear some of them speak and pray.

He who is able to do as much as this, looks with infinite compassion upon the precious souls there and commands his disciples to go and labor to have them come in to the marriage supper which infinite mercy has prepared. But alas the general answer is, where of say brothers keepers There are there men of genius, men of talent, who if converted to God would prove a power for good in the world, instead of per evil. There are there, too, the sons of many prayers, and I am blessed to be an instrument in God's hand in accomplishing an answer to those prayers. But, more than all, there are precious souls for every one of whom salvation full, free, perfect, present has been provided and the command laid upon the church is Go out into the highways and hedges and compel them to come in. There is power in divine truth to reach the most fallen, when applied by the Holy Spirit; to raise them up and to make them new creatures in Christ Jesus.

My Dear General:-

By the last mail I received a letter from you informing me that you had received a letter confidential and private in character, stating that I am "constantly under the influence of strong drink." As I am not informed of the words in which this charge is given by your informant I am at a loss how to reply to it. I will state though that I keep no liquor about my quarters and have not kept any for three or four months and have drunk but seldom during that time, as I have been trying to quit the use of it. Therefore when I am charged with being "constantly" under the influence of strong drink

I must say that the charge is false and malicious and if I am not very greatly in error the charge is made against me by parties at the Agency, as I have heard so before the receipt of your letter, and I believe on account of dissatisfaction with my official actions. I will state that I have met only the Agent and Doctor from there once or twice in the last three or four months, and I cannot conceive whence they derive the grounds for their charges. If it were not for the circumstances under which your letter is written I should demand an investigation as I deem myself wronged. I thank you most heartily, my dear General, for the kindness you have shown me in this matter and for your words of encouragement and counsel, and I shall endeavor to merit your confidence and esteem. I have resolved upon, my bended knees before my God, that with the assistance of his sustaining grace I will refrain from drinking intoxican-ting liquors; hereafter; neither will I offer it to others. No one knows, but my God, the efforts I have been making to quit their use, and the charge made against me I deem very unjust. My brother officers can testify that I am wrongfully charged, when I am charged with being "constantly under the influence of strong drink." I can only add that I sincerely hope that I may be enabled to show to you that I am determined to give no cause for complaint, by refraining from the use of intoxicating drinks by the assistance of God's blessing upon my endeavors.

Again thanking you for your interest in me, believe me, my dear General, that I am sincerely and gratefully Yours Harry M. Smith.

Recd O O Howard,

Dear General:

Washington, D. C. March 8th 1875 [87]

Please find enclosed Statement for the month of February. On the 27th of Feby I succeeded in discounting the next note of Mr Presbrey due Oct. 1st 1876 and realized (as statement shows) $2415<sup>00</sup>. With the proceeds I sent $1080 to Mr Bueh, paid $154<sup>41</sup> taxes on Buffalo property and $1093<sup>83</sup> taxes on Washington property. The item "Expense" includes these payments.

Today I paid N. B. Clarke $127<sup>00</sup> in cash, and <sup>gave</sup> a 6 months note for $82, and loan note for $110; and also a receipt for $43<sup>85</sup> being amount (the last) of distribution of Surplus funds to you. I send the receipt of the Company to you that you may inspect the items in the margin and advise me as to their correctness. You will know from previous transactions whether the items in this receipt are correct. — To use your own thought, it is very hard going, but thus far all your obligations here have been met, as far as they have been made known, and your credit maintained. I indulge the hope that Spring will bring favorable opportunities to dispose of some portion of your property. Thus far it has cost much more than has been realized from it. Even the 1st houses are continually out of repair and calling for additional ~~expenses~~.

I wrote you in a previous letter, I think, that the land deed
- Mr Presbrey will fall short of the number of feet named in your deed. He now notifies me that he will expect a pro-rata deduction in paying the notes. The actual number of feet will be determined as soon as the survey of 16th street is finished. What say you? Will you make the deduction in money or offer him land? I said land but he said, he was not under obligation to accept land.

The D. P. Stewart note will be paid, when the next note is discounted by Mr Presbrey. I made them a proposition to sell them (~~Presbrey & Green~~) the remaining notes on Meridia Hill unpaid. They are considering my offer (made subject to your confirmation by telegram when they reach a conclusion).
They are pretty tough men to deal with. I offer to make the notes less per cent and allow  $\frac{1}{2}\%$  commission, that is accept such a sum as placed at interest at 10% would realize the amount which will be due on your notes at maturity, and  $\frac{1}{2}\%$  com.
As yet they think they can realize more by using their money in business transactions connected with the P.O. &

I thank you for your advice in the matter of my This is a critical period in my life. A severe cold would perhaps ruin me. Though no worse, I am by no means well and strong. As as I can turn your property into money or good notes, and thus get you out of the woods; and also pay for my own home, I propose to leave this city for some more steady climate.

Sincerely Geo. H. Cook only get something to do to pay for my board I would be so thankful. Is there any way by which I could borrow $15,

Respected Dear Sir

Knowing

the interest you feel in efforts to elevate & Christianize the Indians and the power your official position gives you to render efficient aid in this important branch of Christian enterprise, I take the liberty of addressing a few thoughts to you, suggested by circumstances of recent occurrence on this Reservation.

Our experience here has made us pretty well acquainted with the advantages and disadvantages connected with the presence of soldiers. It is a great advantage to have them at hand in case of a threatened Indian outbreak, and in case of proceedings like those of Langford during the past winter. But a garrison in the midst of an Indian Reserve, as is the case here, may become the source of unspeakable evil, unless the officer in command is a man of good principles and in sympathy with efforts to protect the Indian <sup>from</sup> the influence and example of vile men. Let the commandant of a Post be habitually intemperate and indifferent, if not at heart opposed, to measures for the elevation of the Ind<sup>n</sup>, is it not almost morally certain that his subordinates will be influenced by his example and sentiments and the settler will be <sup>the</sup> minister to their appetites. Under these circumstances, intemperance and licentiousness besetting sins of the Ind<sup>n</sup>, instead of being frowned upon and discouraged are encouraged and paid for, and thus a military Post becomes a source of pollution and crime among the already debased Indians. The display of Drills & parades excites the admiration of the Indian and draws them to witness these exhibitions and then an unprincipled settler improves his opportunity to demoralize and corrupt. I do not know how far it is possible to find the right kind of men to place in command of military Posts in or adjacent to Indian Reservations. But I know that such officers would greatly add to the efficiency of Agents who are striving to improve the Indian. And it seems to me that the Indian Dept in connection with the War Dept, ought to make special effort to place such men in these positions. With men hostile to the present Ind<sup>n</sup> policy in command of Garrisons in or near Ind<sup>n</sup> Reservations, it is a very difficult matter to bring offenders to punishment.

I am informed that a petition is in circulation in Lewiston asking that D.C. Kelly be continued settler at Fort Lapwai. I know nothing about the probable result of the investigation recently made into the charges brought against him.

but it would seem that he is fearful of the result; hence the petition in his behalf. I need hardly say that the signers of this petition will be all the saloon keepers, whiskey-drinkers & gamblers <sup>in Lewiston</sup>. The appointment of a good man as settler at the Fort would curtail the sale of whiskey there and to the same extent at Lewiston. In the interest of the Indians it is to be hoped Mr Kelly will be removed and replaced by a better man. His return would be hailed as a victory over the true friends of the Red man.

It has been intimated that in case of the removal of Kelly an effort will be made to put into that position a man by the name of Tom Bell. This Bell has been keeping the store for Mr Kelly during the past fall & winter, Kelly being absent. Bell has if possible descended to a lower depth of infamy than Kelly. In addition to all the bad qualities of Kelly, Bell is bestial in his conduct with Indian women. The evidence of this came out clearly in the examination of two women, when <sup>Agent</sup> he was collecting testimony to show the character of the store kept by Kelly. As however it involved the conduct of some of the soldiers, he did not think it advisable to lay it before the Commission. One of Bell's half-breed children was in our school nearly a year but was removed by Bell and sent off to a distance where he will not be known.

Dear Sir:

You are doubtless aware that I have been dismissed the service (May 27, 1874) I have been trying to get reinstated on the ground that my case was similar to that of Lieut Tiddes (G. O. M. Order No 28. Sept 18. 1872) and that my previous conduct was such as to render it highly improbable that I could have intended to defraud any one. I have shown that as a matter of fact no one was defrauded and the whole matter turns on what my intentions might have been.

I served under you in the Ordnance Bureau and it was partly on your recommendation that I was appointed in the regular Army.

Would it be asking too much to ask you to write me a letter recommending me for reappointment and stating that I have served under your command &c

I would like to have you say that from what

Dear Gen

I arrived on Sunday 14th inst and saw Mr Hammond that night & presented your letter and told him I had petitions from the several churches. He is continually on the move and putting papers before him are only consigning them to the waste basket so that I have simply confined myself to perreading his meetings and he always sees me and I never let him go without presenting "Portland".

This morning I saw Mr Ladd for the 2nd time about the same subject and he has promised to meet me at the 9 o'clock meeting to morrow morning when I am in hopes to pin Mr Hammond to something definite. He seems to be afraid of the sea voyage and I suppose also wants to settle it that he is not to be on his own charges.

In coming out of the meeting on Sunday night I was relieved of the envelope containing the signatures of your church and of the Baptist I told Mr Hammond of it the next morning who related it to the audience and called on someone to pray for Portland. I was on the platform & responded at once as did also Capt. Wilkinson who is this is I hope with you. I think there's little doubt that Hammond will come when his labors here are closed. He has preached on Change now three days but the noise and confusion are so great that I doubt the propriety or usefulness. He had a furniture room with him in which were children singing. I have seen Mr Bemis about the Inspectorship of Hulls he will give no definitive answer and is said to be under Senatorial influence whether Mitchell or Kelly. I don't know.

He is coming up in a few weeks. I have very first hopes of getting the situation. Judge Brewster seemed willing to accede to anything Bemis said and Collector Scott I suppose wants the former apt of the New Post Office Mrs. B. is going. What I shall do I know not but feel at my wife's end & did hope to be able to

I pray that a path may be opened for me
