General O. O. Howard.

Dear Sir,

I arrived here about two months ago and since my arrival have been in the employ of the N. P. R. R. I have been fortunate enough to secure a very good position thus far but it is not a permanent one. I have been very kindly treated by the officers of the Company since my arrival. If you have sufficient time I would be very grateful to you if you would write a letter to Mr. H. M. McCarthey recommending me to him. There will be ^{no} locomotives placed up on the road until July and I am in doubt as to what I will do between now and then. The road is progressing very slowly now for the reason that the company have no iron or ties on hand, and on that account I am at any moment liable to lose the position I now have, and I think if you would write a few lines to Mr. McCarthy your influence would be sufficient to help me in obtaining employment until Socomotines etc. are placed upon the road and then I think I can secure some position where I can work my way up. I am very grateful to you for what you have already done for me and hope soon to be able to repay you in some way for your kindness. Hoping that this letter will reach you safely and find you in good health I am,

Very truly

P.S.

I would be pleased if you would acknowledge the receipt of this letter.

He is next to me in rank so when ever I am compelled to be absent from the Post he falls in Command and you know as well as I that he is not the proper person to exercise the Command. He though the Senior 1st of my Company is one of the Junior 1st of the Regiment. Some objection may be raised upon the ground that his consent has not been obtained but I know of more than one case

Dear Cousin

Your postal was recd yesterday - were sorry for your delay -

Friday evening I went to The Palace at 10 o'ck, then at 7³⁰ Saturday morning, when they told me the steamer was 8 miles out - then again at 9⁴⁵ and found you had left on the overland. we were badly disappointed, as we tho't we would have you over Sunday.

On the 16th of this month Edmund Sanford died - about 3 1/2 months ago he broke down, from over work, in the both body and mind.

he rallied at times but only to fall further back - he had no power over his speech and his mind was so far gone that death was a happy release.

Mr McLean read a very handsome and deserved tribute to him, which will be published - I will keep a copy for you till you return.

We shall expect you to make us a good visit - arrange to come direct to our house.

The overland now arrives about 11 ock A.M. -

We are all pretty well - Dora is at work with her penicil, and Ollie is in the Business College.

I have very strong hopes of the nomination of E. B. Washburn for President - Ever yours

Dear General Howard:-

It was my desire to see you at Vancouver, but you started for the East, before I was able to put in an appearance. Believing that you appreciate my services, while in your Department and feeling that you have ever been ready to keep my welfare, it is my privilege & desire to inform you as to my present intentions.

When I left your Department in November last, I feel that my debt of gratitude for having graduated from West Point was about

Cancelled, And it was my intention to tender my resignation at the close of my leave of absence.

But, at the instigation of my friends in the East and supported by your kind letters now on file in the War Department, I applied for a transfer from the line to the Quartermaster Department. I went directly to Secretary Ramsey & the President, both of whom promised me a favorable consideration of the matter.
I based my application solely on comparative record & merit. I have informed General Morrow that I do not expect to return the Regiment again - that I will either get the transfer or resign after my return to Washington.

Believing that you will now be pleased to personally assist me, in the matter of my transfer, I send with this a request, fearing that you will have left Washington before my arrival.

I should personally address the President or Secretary of War, And my claim as your sense of duty & justice might dictate, you will bear my sincere gratitude.

Gen. O. O. Howard

Highly Esteemed friend

When Bayard Taylor was about to start on his first European trip, he asked Anne Guth, what she thought of his writing short sketches of his travels, for the press. With characteristic frankness that Lago replied, "omit writing until you have something to say, and then say it." Feeling that I have something to say to you personally it affords me great pleasure to say it just now. A little over one year ago, and just about as I was starting to Washington, I felt it my duty, as an honorable man to inform you, touching the unjustifiable efforts that were being made to degrade you in the public mind. I rec'd your Excellent letter, while in Washington and now return my sincere thanks. In the Building of the Methodist Church of this place, a debt was contracted, that has been hanging over it for years. The present

Rev Mr Hawes conceived the idea, that a course of Lectures properly conducted, might possibly, wipe out the last vestige of this indebtedness; the last lecture of the course was delivered last evening; and the fondest hopes of the pastor now were realized. From this day, hence forth, he can preach in a free Church.
There were many good things said, by different speakers, during the course, and in my humble opinion (and I heard them all) nothing better than what Esqr Olmstead said in his lecture last Wednesday Evening, touching the life, and services of Gen. Howard. It was judged from my stand point, absolutely grand, and reflected much ^{credit} upon his head, and heart, as well as your own. I cannot do justice to the subject; but I will give you the points. He had been a Soldier, and an Officer in the Union Army during the great struggle, and he graphically described some of the exciting scenes ^{which} ~~through~~ he had passed; and finally described the Grand Review at Washington, where an Army of 600,000 men, with at least 1000 tried Generals marched, and received the heartfelt, congratulations of a grateful people, and there and there Gen. C.C.

Howard stood out, the most conspicuous of all those honored Generals demonstrating beyond doubt that a man could be a true Soldier, a Patriot, and a Christian gentleman; and justly entitled to be recognized as the Hero of the Union Army.
Years passed by; and the speaker found himself in an obscure town in the County of Grant Oregon; where a set of political demagogues got up petitions, for this same General Howard, removal from the Command of the Department of the Columbia. But the Secretary of War knew his man, and paid no more attention to the rantings of them. would be great men; there he would to the Pope Bull against the Comets. And now some of those self same yard stick Napoleons, were engaged in an other intemperance, with this War Department, as indicated by the open letter to Gen Hager. Such in short is a simple outline of his remarkable ^{speech} on that occasion. I assure you it did my heart good to listen to him; it would have been good anywhere, but to me, it was doubly so, in as much as it was delivered in the presence of many of the signers of that infamous petition, and in
