NOW READY.

A BRIGHT AND CHARMING NOVEL OF CAMP AND SOCIAL LIFE.

"ONE OF THE DUANES."

By ALICE KING HAMILTON.

12mo. Extra Cloth. $1.25.

The author, Mrs. Alice King Hamilton, being perfectly familiar with the social customs of military life, has written a very delightful story, varied by the adventures incident to the camp, and interwoven with many bits of description of Florida scenery. The plot is located mainly at Fort Barrancas, from which an occasional military expedition is sent out.

Will be sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of the price, $1.25.

EARLY ORDERS SOLICITED.

Dear Sir

I Received a letter from your lawyer here in Washington concerning the date of $16.00.50 and it surprises me very much as you had told me not to send you any more money not to inconvenience myself to send you any But if I had any to spare I could send and if that was satisfactory and all, so you said you would tell - your agent not to ask me for - any and then I had paid you $12.00.30, twelve hundred and 30 - - and I thought you was satisfied and now exactly how much

Was paid and after you left Washington I paid your agent one hundred $100. P-Dollars. More. thinkin you had been so Cited I could not pay you, enough. I did not think you intended me to 16. hundred and 50. dollars for a small house of 4 rooms and a small kitchen I thought that you charged that amount because you thought that I would not pay for it and when I ask you if you would take a deed of trust you did know you was building the house to help me and now at the expiration of 9 years you send to me for a settlement I have been down with rheumatism for 5. years in my right arm this is the Best Winter I have had for 5. years. Barely able to earn enough to keep -

Provision and fire I have supposed so much I did not - think I would be living this day only through the mercy of god he is not ready for me yet Please answer and let me hear the worst as I can do nothing towards satisfying the debt I have not seen your lawyer I wanted to hear from you first I did not know you were in the city till you were gone) general Please answer as soon as possible as I have Worid-dreadful about this and shall continue to write I hear from

5. In your judgement, what methods of temperance work has the closing century tried and proved?

6. What is the strongest argument, in your view, for or against the new "Liberty party" of prohibition?

Name,

P. O. Address,

Date,

SYMPOSIUM ON THE TEMPERANCE CENTENNIAL.

From Rev. W. F. Crafts.

106 East 81st Street, New York, Apr. 6th, 1885.

Inasmuch as the leading Temperance societies have decided to celebrate the first Centennial of Temperance in this year 1885, (not that there were not individual abstainers before 1785, and even churches which advocated abstinence, but that the temperance utterances of Dr. Rush in that year are related to the modern temperance movement very much as Robert Raikes' Sabbath-schools are related to the modern Sabbath-school movement) it has seemed appropriate to gather for publication and general circulation, into an inexpensive pamphlet, a symposium of the opinions of living temperance leaders in all departments as to what we ought to learn from the mistakes and defeats and successes of our first temperance century, that the second may be still more victorious.

May I ask, then, for a brief answer (before May 10) to the above general question, and, also, to some one or more of the following more specific questions. [Several of the pamphlets will, of course, be sent to all contributors.]

1. In your opinion, does the past teach that abstinence from alcohol in the new century should be really "total," including abstinence not only from 'distilled liquors, 'ale, 'wine, 'lager beer, 'new cider, but also from 'alcoholic foods, and 'alcoholic medicines*?

*The Popular Science News or Boston Journal of Chemistry, J. R. Nichols, LL. D., editor, a high scientific authority, said, editorily, in 1884: "The banishment of alcohol would not deprive us of a single one of the indispensable agents which modern civilization demands. Neither would chemical science be retarded by its loss.  In no instances of disease in any form is it a medicine which might not be dispensed with and other agents substituted." This declaration that it is no longer necessary to make exception for the use of alcohol in medicine and the arts, since science has available substitutes in each case, seems to me to flag the highest peak reached in our first century, and if the people can be made to believe it, we may in the second century leave out of pledges and prohibitory laws these harmful exceptions,

106 East 81st Street, New York City, 1885.

Dear Sir :

Enclosed find several copies of a threefold petition to Congress against needless Sunday work in government service and "inter-state commerce." It has been decided by the courts that the control of Sunday trains (except those which begin and end their journeys in the same State) belongs to Congress. Rev. Dr. Rufus W. Clarke estimates that 400,000 men are robbed of their Sabbath rest by American railroad corporations, which have no more right to use the Sabbath for works of gain than factories. The general assembly of the Presbyterian Church, at its last session, called upon the national government to give a consistent example to other employers by stopping the needless Sunday work required of United States soldiers in Sunday parades, and of postal employees in handling of mail. Other organizations should do the same. In this day of agitation against the wrongs of workingmen it should not be forgotten that few employees are so over-worked as government letter carriers with their thirteen or more hours per day for six days, besides night-watching in turn, and Sunday work.

These petitions are to be made weighty, rather than bulky, and so, instead of rods of unknown names, it is proposed to gather a few yards of weighty signatures—partly well-known names, but chiefly the official signature of organizations, authorized by vote, and accompanied by the names of President and Secretary. Please secure such official signatures from any organization, religious or otherwise, with which you are connected—from conferences, conventions, associations, churches, societies, clubs etc., giving locality and number of members in each case.

I am devoting to the promotion of this petition, some of the author's profits on "The Sabbath for Man," all of which are to be used for the promotion of Sabbath observance.

Please return petitions, as soon as signed, to my address, to be attached to others, for presentation in advance of the next Congress to the Chairman of the Senate Committee on Education and Labor.

Respectfully Yours,

WILBUR F. CRAFTS.

General:

Permit

me to trespass upon your attention once more: but briefly.

Upon terminating a connection of some years with the Erie Railway at New York I returned to this place, where, as stated in a communication several years ago, I had by a business reverse lost my fortune, which I have not, so far, been able to retrieve.

The U.S. Engineer Corps is building an extensive system of breakwaters at this port and the construction will extend into the next half dozen years. Col. Geo. T. Balch at present residing at Sacatoga Springs, N.Y.

to whom I am permitted to refer, is endeavoring to interest Genl. Newton in my behalf and to have me attached to the Engineer office here in some capacity (I have not forgotten my drawing and mathematical course) and suggests that I should request you to write to Genl. Newton Chief of the Engineers in my interest, as it would add greatly to my chances of success, in which he is kind enough to say he is thoroughly interested.

With the hope that you will not consider me importunate,

I am, with highest respect,
Very sincerely Yours,
P. Fondu.

My dear General

I have just heard from your daughter Mrs Gray that you did not receive my letter thanking you for your kind and complimentary notice of me in your Memorials. I regard it as a very interesting notice by a Genl in the Union Army who bore so conspicuous a part in thrashing the rebels. and of placing my name in a nick where it may go down to posterity that I was one of the defenders of the Union, like dear Genl "True Words Wounds". Did you ever expect to see or hear of a Rebel ^{4000 strong} disorderly ^{also in coffee uniforms} confed uniform headed by a Rebel Genl taking part in a foreigner or inauguration day in Washington 20 years after their summers. Such a spectacle to me would be about as impossible, as to see a procession in honor of the Prince of Wales in Ireland composed of "Hungarians" and "Hibernians". An officer who has just joined his regiment, and was in Genl. Slocum's staff and aid has just informed of the above, and further said that Lee had agreed to oration there and any other officers? does such a spectacle bode good or evil to this nation, I would not make any objection to the year. Then Genl of me that they would not flaunt their

Dear Sir:

I am informed that you are contemplating a visit to Mr. Hazard in the near future.

In the event of your coming, can the Presbyterian ladies secure your services for a lecture?

If so, please advise me as to topic and probable date of the lecture.

Hoping to have the pleasure of listening to you again, I am

Yours truly,

C. P. Bailey.

Brig. Gen. O. O. Howard.
Dear Sir:

I am desirous of securing an appointment in the army and, believing that a letter of recommendation from you will assist ^{me} I take the liberty of asking for the same and will feel extremely obliged if you grant the request.

I have a mother and two sisters who are, beyond what a pension received by my mother in recognition of my father's services is able to do toward their support, dependent upon me, and they, as well as I, will be grateful for your assistance.

I shall, of course, get letters from civilians as to certain requirements possessed by myself, but think that yours, also, will greatly assist me.

Very Respectfully,
