Theodore D Kellogg Esq. has seen me twice, and laid before me his system of educating children, based as he claims upon scientific principles. He shows me, too, evidence of his success, especially at Flushing, L.I., in demonstrating his work. His books are, some of them, in print. I am so convinced of the value of his claims that I would help him if it were in my power, but I am not financially able to do so.

"The Maples", 2131 Marion Street,

Denver, Colo., May 13, 1890

My Dear Brother Otis:

How time slips away when duties, cares and work press upon us. It must be nearly two months since your very welcome letter arrived. Then, I told Belle I must reply at once, but -

We have changed our home since you last heard from us and we are now residing on the East side of the River Platte on what is popularly called "Capital Hill". I purchased the lots a year ago, with money that came from Mother's estate, thinking it more appropriate to have that money in my future home than in business. Last summer I sold the old house in Highlands and as soon as possible began the erection of the house we are now in. It was in process of erection and completion from September till Jan'y 25, when we moved into the house. The house is larger than our old one, though it does not have so many any more living-rooms. But it has a bath room, up stairs, lavatory on first story and laundry in the basement more than the other house. Besides the rooms are all larger than those in the old place. Our room where we are now sitting is 20 x 14 feet with an alcove 10 x 8 feet, connected by a broad arch way. This gives some idea of the general size of the rooms, though they are not all quite as large as one. We have hot & cold water on each floor, electric light, annunciators and electric bells, speaking tubes, &c. The design was to have all the conveniences possible. The house is situated among the maple trees. We have three kinds of large well grown maples, - the sugar maple, the soft maple and the cut leaf maple. These are from a foot to 20 inches in diameter. They were set out many years ago and have matured rapidly under the stimulus of good soil and irrigation. In this County where trees are scarce, we are very proud of our maples. The street trees - ~~which~~ in front of our house, are so tall and wide spreading as to nearly arch over head. In New York, this might make things damp about the house, but there is no danger of that in this dry climate.

Soon after we moved into the house Ellie was taken with a modified Typhoid fever - or perhaps the Mountain fever. She was confined to her bed nearly five weeks, but was not at any time sick enough to cause us much anxiety, except one day when there were some bad symptoms. She is now pretty well, having got up much better than people sometimes do with that fever, and though quite thin, is rapidly gaining in flesh. I think she is better than before for many months. Our babies are well, and generally in good health. You forgot, in your comments on baby girls, that we have a baby girl who is now nearly a year and a half old - a bright looking little persons full of life and fun, running about the house and causing every one to lose his in return. She is a beautiful little creature and Belle says "looks like her papa!"

Hugh is our boy, most three years old, - bright, fringed-eyed, full of energy, fresh, strong will, curiosity and mischief. He is all boy; takes delight in noise, romps, out door play, riding a stick for a horse and wants to do things which he sees men doing. He has a wonderful taste for using hammer, screw-driver and monkey-wrench. He talks all the time when awake, in "broken English", of which his mother is the best interpreter. We have "great expectations" in regard to him and hope he will fill the place which we had thought would be filled by our noble Ralph. In my comments concerning the family I have reserved till the last, but not least, the faithful mother of the two little ones. Belle has not been feeling as well this spring as I could wish. The children are a heavy draft upon her. And though we have "all the modern conveniences" in our house, I am persuaded that a large house requires more care and attention, than a little one. Just now she sits by my side in front of our open grate, engaged in the laudable economy of mending my night shirt. I trust you and she may some day meet and I believe you would enjoy it. The one having become acquainted with a new brother and the other with a new sister. I wish you might make us a visit. Once I invited you to attend our Chautauqua Assembly and deliver a lecture or two. You could not come but said that such assemblies were accustomed to pay you $50.00 for each lecture. I suppose they ought to, as you deserve. But we have to get our lecturers for nothing or go without them. For two years I have managed the Assembly alone, securing speakers as best I could without money, except paying their expenses and entertaining them while in Colorado. That costs from $800 to $1000 while the receipts do not exceed the amount. We have managed each year to come out even, though I give all my time and experience, without any hope of a return. The D & R. G. Ry, which has branches running all through the Rocky Mountains, gives me passes to enable our speakers to visit the wonderful scenery of this region. If an invitation would avail, I would like to urge you on such terms to be one of our speakers. I would have your time to speak come on "Patriots Day" and we would have a good turnout of the Grand Army and members of the Order of Sons of America, who are quite numerous in Colorado. We could have special trains run from all parts, and so give you a good audience. Could you take a horse back, or carriage trip through the mountains accompanied by your wife and some other friends, it would invigorate and refresh you wonderfully after living so long down there by the salt water.

I have a client who owes me $200.00 who has a saddle horse which he wishes me to take to apply on the indebtedness. I may conclude to do so. He would furnish you with an excellent opportunity to explore the winds of the wild region in which Glen Park is situated 7500 feet above the level of the sea. When you learn that we are at Glen Park this season you can reflect that we are nearly a mile and a half higher than you are above tide water.

I wish you would seriously consider this - not in the interest of your personal finances, but in the interest of benevolence, and of your own good health. What do you say? I have been urging Rowland to take a trip this way for his health and rest. But like most Eastern people he ^{seems to have no} ~~has no~~ idea that health can be found ~~so~~ far away from Massachusetts Bay. I am convinced that if he would come out here and take my prescription of horseback rides and camp life, he would go back in a month a new man.

Give much love to Lizzie, in which Belle joins me, and also to all of your numerous family of children and grand children,

Your affectionate brother

Dear Sir and Bro.

I was very much disappointed, Sunday morning, that I could not keep my appointment with Mrs Wood and see you.

You may remember of speaking once in Lincoln, Nebraska, before a Y. M. C. A. convention, I believe. I met you then, and as your residence in Omaha makes you a Nebraska man in my memory, I wished to see you again before sailing for Africa.
I am the only one from Nebraska

In our party. But I wished more to see you because of your service for the Lord.
Not many soldiers in the U.S. A. are also efficient and faithful soldiers for the King Immanuel, for but I have often heard of "your work and labor of love, which you have showed toward His name."

I am sure if you ever
visit the Soudan, Africa, none will be more glad to see you than the missionaries from Kansas, Nebraska, and Minnesota.

We sail tomorrow, 1:30 P. M.,
"City of Chicago," Inman Line.

May the Lord bless you in His service.

Yours for the King,
Roy G. Coddington
