

Order United American Veterans,

THE BLUE AND THE GRAY.

DECLARATION.

WE, participants in the civil war of 1861 to 1865, believe that the end of that war ended all causes and conditions which created it, and established the unity and integrity of the Government for all time. We believe that twenty-five years of peace ought to have obliterated all animosities and prejudice engendered by the war.

We believe that our children, who were innocent of the cause, as they were ignorant of the curses and devastations of that war, should be protected from the moral, social and political evils arising therefrom.

We believe that men who gave patriotic service in response to duty (as they saw their duty) deserve honorable consideration of their countrymen. We believe that brave soldiers, though enemies in war, are and ought to be friends in peace, they and their descendants forever.

In order to perpetuate these principles we invoke the blessing of Divine Providence, pledge fealty to ourselves, our families, and our common country, and band ourselves together for mutual benefit and fraternal good will, under the name and title of the ORDER of UNITED AMERICAN VETERANS, with the motto, "Charity and Unity : the Blue and the Gray" and for the purpose of union of all veterans who did honorable service in the armies of the United States or of the Confederate States during the civil war, and agree to be governed by the articles of incorporation.

For United American Edition

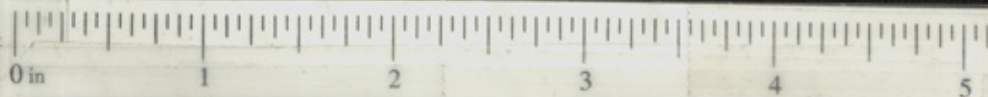

THE BURN AND THE GRAY

DECLARATION

The United American Edition of the Declaration of Independence is hereby published in this form, which is the only one that has been published in this country since the original was first published in 1776. The original was first published in 1776, and the United American Edition is the only one that has been published in this country since the original was first published in 1776.

Dear Sir:

You are invited to examine the principles of the Order of Veterans of the Civil War of 1861-'65, and should the sentiment meet your approval, to express it by signing and returning the enclosed application so that your name may, upon due election, be placed on the rolls of a grand order, designed to effectually destroy all remains of the animosities of the war, if there be any such, and to unite in lasting harmony the good people in our country, upon whom its future, for weal or woe, must depend.

Very respectfully,

Dear Genl.

It was proposed to know the Institute.
A gentleman offered $5000 if we secured
$15,000, so as to make $20,000. We proposed Enormous Membership of $100. Tax-filled and signed ^{Oct 17, 1891} one of the notes for $100, which is to make you a life member. The gentleman now agrees to donate the $5000 ^{when} if all the present subscribers pay up, ^{and we wish to secure this}. No wonder you forget when it's nearly a year and you are so frequently doing good things.

Very truly

My Dear Sir,

From the minutes of the State Committee held the 23d ult., it will be seen that the partial report of the Joint Com'te given below, was referred to the members of the State Committee for their careful consideration. It is thought to send in this way, rather than through the STATE NOTES. Any thoughts you may have bearing upon this matter will be very gladly received, and will aid the Com'te in preparing a report for submission at the next meeting of the State Com'te, Jan'y 13, at which time, recommendation should be made in accordance with resolution six, page 80 of the 1890 State Report.

Very truly yours,

George A. Hall.

ADVISORY AND FINANCE COMMITTEE'S JOINT MEETING.
Held Sept. 23/90.

PRESENT,

Dr. Warner in the chair, & Messrs. Law, Lyon, McConaughy, Schenck, Sloan and State Sec'y Hall.

After discussion, it was VOTED that it is the sense of this Joint Com'te, that no change is desirable at present, in the method of selecting places for holding the State Convention.

It was VOTED to recommend to the State Committee, the following amendments to the By-Laws of the State Association (page 101, 1890 State Report)

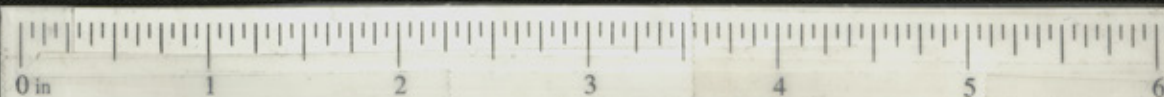

Sec. 2.- After the word "successors," add, - "and the members for the time being, of the Executive Committee."

Sec. 3.- To read as follows:-

"Every Association belonging to this State Association and every Branch of such Association, may in addition to its General Secretary appoint from its active members to the Annual Meeting, three delegates for the first one hundred or less active members, and one additional delegate for each additional one hundred active members or fractional part thereof, and every Association or Branch which does not have a voting membership (See note below) may appoint three delegates from its male members who are members of Evangelical churches."

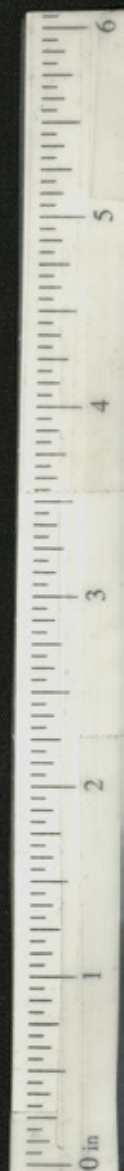

NOTE.- Such as some of the Railroad Branches and provisional Railroad Associations.

On another sheet will be found a Comparative List of delegation representation under present and proposed basis of representation, figures being exclusive of President and General Secretary.

It is the policy of the State to encourage the development of the State's resources and to provide for the welfare of its people. The State's policy is to encourage the development of the State's resources and to provide for the welfare of its people. The State's policy is to encourage the development of the State's resources and to provide for the welfare of its people.
