Dear Gen -

I have tried in vain several times to see you at your office or home I am interested in a very simple & very cheap device for increasing speed of Ocean Steamers. It has not been practically tested but experts pronounce it quite wonder ful in view of its cheapness & simplicity -

Now is there any way by which I can get you to in -troduce me & my friend the

Stam L. inventor & the managing head of one of the great Steamship Co's that are interested in the matter of swift ocean passages.

If you can appoint a day hour & place to meet you in New York within 10 days we can call on you & talk the matter over.

I am staying here trying to rest & get well after my many woes & sorrows. I hail this above matter as something that will greatly interest me & fill my mind with some new hopes & new ideas - Sincerely

My dear uncle Otis.

Your letter has just come.

The monument, as I understand it, is to be placed on top of the big round hill, back of the church, which is the most commanding position in the vicinity. On this hill, there would be no necessity for such a high monument as you describe, which would cost a great deal of money. A shaft in the shape of an obelisk, 20 ft from the bottom of the stone <sup>(above ground)</sup> that shows, to the peak would in my opinion be high enough. This would be from 3 to 4 ft. wide on each side at the base and gradually taper toward the top, ending in regular pyramidal form, the cap being one stone. The top of the solid ledge should be smooth of and big stones, laid in mortar, be used for a foundation, to the height of 2 or 3 ft., then the shaft, built of "split ledge stone" be built from this point up. After this the elevation made by the foundation should be covered with loam and sod so that the monument will rise from a mound covered with grass. On two faces or on each face, low enough down to be easily read, should be a slab, bronze, or granite tablet with whatever cutting on it that is desired.

I think this covers the thing. If a bigger monument is desired, of course it can be built but it will cost a large sum. The masonry will probably have to be done by a Portland man as they can not, I think do the job there (I mean Leeds people).

Here is a little sketch.
Yours Truly, Nephew
Frank. G. A

P.S. I will make a working drawing as soon as this has your approval and get estimate of cost.

Dear Sir:

I am now looking speakers for a series of mass meetings for men only, to be held under our auspices during the coming fall and winter months.

We are a strong organization, owning our own building, and doing a four fold work for young men. Col. J. E. Bryant of Mt. Vernon, addressed our meeting last Sunday, and he also promised to Hillman, O. N.

speak for us again on October 16th

On behalf of the young men in this city, I hereby extend to you an earnest invitation to address our meeting on Sunday October 23rd it being the Sunday following Col. Bryant's address.

Our Methodist friends are building a new church here and they expect to dedicate it about that date, so I will try to arrange an evening service for you, where a collection will be taken for your benefit.

Hoping for a favorable reply,

Respectfully yours

Dear Sir:-

The boys of this institution have fairly besieged me with requests that you may address them on the 4th of July. There are many here yet who have listened to you, and the frequent references made by visitors has caused the boys to look forward to another treat. Some weeks ago a personal friend of mine, Major George A. Fisher, now in civil life, in San Francisco gave us a reminiscence of army life which was universally enjoyed.

I doubt if you remember me, but I was one of the officers on board the

My Dear General Howard,

I have this morning received your very kind note of yesterday; there are two points in it about which I think I ought to say a word or two in reply.

So far as is known to me, and indeed I have positive information to that effect, Mr. Coudert's efforts to keep his daughter near him are without the co-operation and without the knowledge of his son-in-law, who has said from the first that his regiment was good enough for him.

Mr. Coudert has one of the most affectionate hearts in the world and circumstances have made his daughter particularly near to him, which is the reason of his being so anxious.

It would be very unjust and also unfortunate to regard him as in any sense an enemy of the army. I do not think he is the enemy of any living being, much less of any body of men of so great value to the country as the army, a value which I am sure he most cordially recognizes. On the other hand, I think the army has gained, by his daughter's marriage, a most valuable friend in him, and should Mr. Cleveland be nominated and elected, I do not know any man who would be likely to be more serviceable to the army in case of need. I personally, am greatly obliged to you for your kind answer to my former letter.

Yours very truly,

My dear General,

I know of no one but yourself whose friendship I can so far trespass upon as to ask a favor.

We have taken a home in Washington & it is indispensably necessary that Dr. Sprague should get something to do while he is working up a practice, which of course will take time. It has been suggested that the position of "Examiner of Revenue" can be had through proper political influence.
The salary would tide us through the present financial stress & put us on our feet.

Can you give Dr Sprague a letter to General Butterfield. whose influence I am told would be potent. and can you suggest any other name that would be influential?

Please let me hear from you at your earliest convenience.

Dine fashre:

We arrived here last night after a very pleasant visit in Göttingen for a week.

We have just come up stairs after seeing the Queens of Germany & Italy pass escorted by a troop of cavalry and a little later the Emperor & the King of Italy escorted by his body guard.

The queens rode in one carriage which looked pretty. The kings were together in another & looked many.

General Howard.
H. G. June 3d

The procession passed our hotel & we had a good view from the yard. Bessie and I took a walk down Leipziger Strasse, bought a Bauder's guide, then walked up Königsplatz stairs to the beginning of Unter den Linden and had a fine view of the Magdeburg Gate.
Near that gate we saw a guard "turn out" for a general officer & I was much interested in seeing with what precision they went through their manual.

We are to have dinner at five o'clock & then take a drive to see the city.

Jamie came with us & has finished his business so will take us around also go one day to Snodden with Bessie, & back.
Mother & I will remain here as picture gallery time us. We leave here next

I am not coming to Göttingen again until I learn to speak German. I would like to study in Göttingen.

We did have a good visit there. We made purchases in the little stores, visited the old Rathaus & saw the other old houses & streets, & were entertained at Frau Bodomeyer's every day. One day we all drove to Mariaspring to what we would call in America, a beer-garden, but which here is a refined amusement place. Wednesdays all the nice people of Göttingen go there.

"MY JOURNEY TO JERUSALEM."

(SUPPRESSED BY THE TURKISH GOVERNMENT.)

This recent volume of travels in Europe and the Levant, by the Rev. NATHAN HUBBELL, D.D., of the New York East Conference, has already reached a second edition. It is replete with valuable information, incidents of travel, revelations concerning Oriental life, including startling and amusing personal adventures. It furnishes the impressions formed by the author while journeying through England, Ireland, Scotland, France, Belgium, Holland, Germany, Switzerland, Italy, Greece, Turkey, Palestine, and Egypt. Great Britain and the Continent were twice visited, in 1886 and again in 1889.

Among the points of interest described are the Giant's Causeway, the Homes of Scott and Burns, Windsor Castle, Oxford, London, Paris, Tomb of Napoleon, Versailles, the Alps, Battlefield of Waterloo, the Catacombs of Rome, Vesuvius, Garden of Gethsemane, Mount of Olives, Holy Sepulcher, Bethlehem, Suez Canal, Home of Howling Dervishes, Boulak Museum, and the Pyramids. Illustrated with 71 engravings and a portrait of the writer. Adapted to the family circle, Sunday-school libraries, and as a gift-book. It makes an elegant 12mo book of 311 pages, bound in substantial cloth, sold at the low price of $1. It is read with eager interest in homes of all denominations.

"Will be read with pleasure and profit."—Pittsburg Christian Advocate.

"So well written that readers will be edified."—Zion's Herald.

"An intelligent and valuable work."—Independent.

with men that are strong.

& healthy. I'd like a chance to read some more, but there is one consolation a man that owns a place (when he gets the mortgage off) feels a kind of contentment that he does not get working for others. Then we always raise enough of good wholesome food - sometimes even better than a Major Gen. has because we know it is fresh & pure food. I certainly enjoy looking at my green fields.
I've raised or am raising about 60 Chickens. I've not got them as well parked as
