General O.O. Howard,
Burlington, Vt.

Dear General Howard:-

Can you do The World the favor of sending me a short article of five or six hundred words, or thereabouts, for our signed editorial page on Sunday next? The subject we wish you to write upon is "The Established Amenities of Civilized War."

I enclose you cuttings of articles from the Sunday world and from the World of this morning, which give the details of the alleged massacre by British lanciers of Boer soldiers, who pleaded for mercy and offered themselves as prisoners. What we would like you to do is to bring out clearly what the well-settled principles and rules of civilized war are in relation to the treatment of prisoners and of men who offer themselves up as prisoners, with such cases in point as may occur to you.

Of course we shall be happy to compensate you liberally for the service. We need the article if you can write it for us not later than Friday morning next week.

Please telegraph at our expense if you can oblige us in this matter.

Yours very truly,

James W. Clarke

Dear Father

What reply if any did you receive from Mr. Edwin Loomis? Mr. Father is writing for information.

You said to me that perhaps you would visit Mr. Holly so I have been looking for you. Miss Atkinson rec'd word about her brother going to the Soldier's Home on the Pacific Coast. She wrote you a letter but I have been holding it at my house. When I get home this eve. I will try to remember to mail it to you. It explains all except that today she has been surprised by receiving a letter from him saying he had just arrived in Phila^a. from Erie, N.Y. where he left the Soldier's Home (there) because it was so cold he thought every breath was endangering his life by bringing on pneumonia, etc. He is in a Lodging House in Phila. but where she can put her hands on him any moment.

He is almost without means & too feeble to work as her letter ~~the~~ explained.

I would not have troubled you with any of this matter by mail had you called, ~~but for~~ ~~the fact that~~. Miss Atkinson, who is about 75 yrs. old (?), met me again today & told me the above

Dear Father:-

Your letter of December 9th with enclosure of check for $100, is received. It repays me for a like amount which I loaned the University on November 23rd, 1899 in order to complete the payment due about that time upon a balance of a mortgage.

I am glad to hear of the complete success and the ability to repay my loan so quickly.

If in the future I am able to add another gift to the $25 which I gave some time ago, I will do so, but for a few months to come I will need all my income.

File this letter for a receipt if you desire.

Affectionately your son,

Gen. O. O. Howard:

My Dear General:

Excusing sicknesses in my family and pressure of other duties, have hindered my writing to you. Enclosed I return Bro. Myers' letter so kindly sent by you. Since I left him at the end of September, I have secured for his use some personal comforts, ^{an} equestrian outfit, carriage and belongings and money for horses. Of these we keep the ownership and he has the sole use. To this I may add that we have sent him a teacher, now at Tenton Penn. who is to be later, at the Girls Home; and that a friend here and myself, with Bro Myers, have secured the Harrogate Inn and the Arthur Property. This has been thus forwarded in the two months, and with gratitude, to God, we hope to accomplish yet more.

In addition, ² several friends ^{from here} have already visited Cum. Gap, some on business looking to the purchase of large timber interests in the South, ^{at C. G.} (there, if the properties are satisfactory). I hope you have seen the results that you unreasonably laboring for.

Replying to your question as to whether you should personally pay the half of Mr. Eager's salary, I should say: By no means, but rather that he should pay it himself. I think that for him to have authority to demand that all students or parents shall come to his store to settle ^{their school} bills, is likely to make other Store Keepers there think that so he will get an unfair advantage in trade, while no better friend to the Educational work than they are.

With highest esteem believe me

Yours very truly,

J. J. Lansing.

For addition, several friends have already written to me, & I hope you have looking to the purchase of large tracts interest in the town, there of the paper has been satisfactory. I hope you have seen the results that you were working laboring for.
Replying to your question as to whether your studies have been kept up the paper
Mr. Rogers is busy. I should say, you mean, but rather that he should himself. I think that he should sincerely & honestly that the of present which come to the case to better, well, is likely to make other then keep them think that as he will get out of his way in the while no other friends to the

Dear Gen. Howard;--

Yours of the 9th at hand. I shall be glad to see that editorial in the N. Y. Tribune, your letter etc.

I will speak to the teachers about interesting their wealthy friends in the work. I know that they will be glad to do what they can. We are pushing with all our vim to get ready to open the School of Practice etc. at Grant-Lee the first of 1900.

It was a great undertaking but you can understand that it was just the thing to do. It will save the property from ruin and this will be saving thousands. It will head off this Shewanee College movement of the Baptists of this locality. That was getting some headway before I arrived. They bought the boom hotel there and are boarding and teaching students for a dollar per week. They will soon get tired of that unless some million-helps them out. Our move will inspire confidence about us. It has done so already. Students are arriving every day now. It will present an object lesson of discipline and cleanliness, which certainly is needed. It will help to straighten out some of the peculiar work of Mr. Myers. For this purpose the sooner it is done, the better.

You must not let Mr. Myers know that I write you confidentially.

He says that some one has been giving you wrong ideas. I asked him why he did not confide his plans to you and he cunningly replied that it would not do, that you would give him away and cited the fact that by ordering the short road/ to the farm you made Harrowgate cost him twice what it otherwise would.

You have of course seen that letter that I refused to print in full because it did not mention the L.M.U. but called for money for the Midway school, published in Herbert's paper. This is being re printed in Baptist papers North and West. I am surprised that Mr. Herbert should have published such a misleading article. Dont mention it to him, however. He will see it himself yet. It is getting late and I must close. I shall be glad to get the promised remittance you referred to. Mrs. L----joins me in love and sympathy.

Yours fraternally,

Dear General.

In addition and in regard to a new issue of the letter you wrote from Lovejoy Station and of which you will find a true copy amongst the papers of yesterday I will say: that I have received from Germany two autographic letters one from Lincoln and one from Grant both are written in Sept^r and Oct^r 1864, Lincoln is addressed to me and was written on my request by him for my fathers autograph collection. To show Lincoln who I was I had sent him Shermans, Your own, Logan, Blair and Sheridans letters. He refers to yours and the other letters and credits my service and says, I had served with credit to the land of my birth. Grants letter was written by Blairs request to the Governor of Mo, and I received it from the Adjutant General John B. Gray of Mo only several years after the Lincoln letter. I kept it and when Grant visited Kansas City, we gave him a reception. I lived then in Kansas City, I was elected Commander of his Escort, and when returned to the Hotel, I showed him the letter he written several years ago from Petersburg to the Governor. He then endorsed it addressing me as Cmdr of his Escort and in regard of the dishonorable discharge he writes, "what you call a 'stigma' on your name is a stain on the name of Congress for not correcting long ago your otherwise undisputed good record." I read it then to Germany & had them returned to me lately ^{after my father's death}. Both are in very good condition, excepting showing the age, but having been in the drawers of my father's collection, have not been exposed to light and air. Sheridan's letter is written under Lincoln's letter, but Sheridan's is half gone, the commencement was on another sheet and it is missing. The letter of Lincoln and Sheridan are the size of this sheet. The letter of Grant about the same. Now I would like yours about the size of this sheet, ~~about~~ a little longer, then I would place yours in the Centre of the Picture frame, and Lincoln and Grant on each side. I of course wish to have it look to the best of advantage as much as possible as the old one, dated like it, and describing my service, by referring to Logan, Sherman's Blair letters and saying something of having served as a foreigner with honor to Germany etc. Yours Kreber.

My dear General-,

Answering your letter of 9th. Sorry to say Mr. Hall of the Tribune has not yet sent those papers up. I will write him. When they come I will with pleasure comply with your request. I note what you say about having sent Mr. Danforth a check for $115. Thank you very much for this.

Yours of 11th. received this morning with a check for $20.00 being full commission on the Seligman check, Mr. Danforth and I both appreciate your promptness, thank you for same.

I called on Col. Adams yesterday and everything was satisfactorily adjusted. Your son from No. 1 Broadway was present and assisted in fixing everything all right. Everything is now all right and hope we will be able to serve you well. The Union League book arrived all right this A.M. will take the best of care of same and return when through. Hope it will not be so very long before we will have the pleasure of seeing you here again.

Dear Father:-

Col. Adams has sent a check, as per your letter, for $230. to the Boston office of Mr. Wm. H. Miller and his principal, as commission on the Carnegie subscription and in full of demand to date of deposit of that subscription on December 4th. A receipt corresponding to the above accompanied the check, the receipt to be returned to Col. H. H. Adams, Treasurer. Mr. Miller was present and asked that it be done in this way, after finding that 20% was not due him, two or three of us in my office having overheard the conversation where you clearly stated that in cases where you had to give the matter your personal attention, more than the bare letter of introduction, the commission would be divided in two and only 10% given. This I stated pleasantly but firmly to Mr. Miller as requested by Col. Adams, and he ^{finally} acceded to it.

Since December 4th he states he has sent in an additional subscription of $100 and therefore beyond taking a receipt in full for services, etc. up to and including everything to date of the payment of the Carnegie subscription, your arrangements with Mr. Miller, so far as Col. Adams and myself are concerned, remains as before. He states it is not wise to be too persistent and go too often and that he has a few names from you of persons whom he will visit as rapidly as possible, I think, on the whole, it is best to let him have a few names, those he probably now has, and give him no more and soon consider the advisability of terminating all connection with him and his.

I understand from him that he is sent out from someone in Boston, who has money (or who may not have money), but will furnish Mr. Miller with means to move about and exist. The matter is one it is not best to correspond about but can easily wait until you are again in New York, within a few weeks, a month or longer.

I am glad you are not going to be connected with Mr. Miller in business as I have reason to feel sure it would not be of benefit to you socially or financially, as I know of several firms and men doing the same kind of publishing work with but temporary, if any, financial success. This is a business which cannot be reduced to paper nor records and remains in the heads of the interested persons, and therefore, one that no one could follow unless he were personally soliciting pay from men for having their biographies, etc. written up. Mr. Miller stated to me that you had said at the beginning, you could not be connected with him if your wife or family objected and on that ground ^{says he} he cannot undertake to ask you to remain connected with their enterprise. He said they had gone to the expense of incorporating a ^{Company,} ~~name~~, but I answered, the expense of incorporating a name is but a few dollars, sometimes less than ten, and if his enterprise regarded such a small expense as important, I was sorry to hear it.

On the whole, Mr. Miller desires to solicit further subscriptions to the Lincoln University, using the names he now has, Gould, Greene, etc. An easy way is to furnish him no more names ^{at present,}. He will be very busy in his own affairs in his new little office at Room 912 Presbyterian Bldg., Fifth Ave. I hope, however, you will meet him in my office and use my office as yours, as I think Mr. Miller is a man whom you should quietly drop, although not abruptly.

Sir :

Referring to your kind & gracious letter of Sept. 9. 99, in which you told me to call upon you for a helping hand, when the matter of securing a more equitable retiring law for the enlisted men of the army was brought to the attention of Congress.

As the matter will be submitted as soon as the Military Committee of the House is formed, by Mr Shrague, of Mass. who will endeavor to have it introduced by a member of both Committees or else introduce it him self.

I would therefore respectfully request your valuable assistance in securing this relief, it is needless to say that your influence with the members of both Committees would be invaluable.

[Faint, illegible handwriting on lined paper]

It is with great reluctance that I make this request, and nothing but the extreme urgency of the case and the friendless condition of the soldier, would induce me to invade your privacy at this time.

I also beg to assure you of the respectful and hearty sympathy of the enlisted men in the loss of your distinguished son.

Very respectfully
Your obedient servant

Dear Gen. Howard:--

Enclosed you will find a letter I have just received from Mr. Nettleton, the Gentleman who stands behind the Harrowgate purchase. What do you say to writing him a kind letter asking him what his plans are? I dont think it has been deeded to any board as yet. I know one thing, the Nettletons are at their wits end to know how the work is to be supported. I assured them that Mr/Myers would not be allowed to serve on this board and at the same time spend his time in securing support for outside schools. They saw and acknowledged the justice of this. Mr. Myers did not intend to have the Nettletons fall into my hands, but as Myers dont go to church and the Nettletons do, I naturally made their acquaintance and got a good team to take them around first, Harrowgate, and then to Grantlee. They were delighted with the plans, and said that it was the first time they ever knew them. etc. "If people only knew what you are planning to do", he said, "you would have no trouble in raising funds."

I return herewith Miss Fairchild's letter.

Dear Brother.

We have finally succeeded in making all the necessary repairs in the different school properties . And have rented all the rooms available . I find that we shall not be able to locate nearly all the students coming this way . . as there are no houses in reach .

We must not talk of a small endowment . But of several Millions .

Then we can take the small sums as they come to hand .

I much regrette that you are not able to see that I must in any event act as a reception committee to the many students and friends whom I incouraged to come to this school . We cannot afford to do otherwise.

I also am powerless to say anything more about my devotion to this school Unless I have so destroyed my health in this years work as to fail to continue the fight . I am willing to keep silent while other people do the talking . ~~mis~~representations and abuses do not hurt me now as in former days . And it must do some people much good to tell stories as I judge by the amount of missrepresentation they manage to make . . But I do not wish to be understood that there will not be a reckoning DAY . Let us rejoice and be glad . and bravely work on . And do Gods work ! Yours with thanks .

With reference to the Carnegie subscription I fear you had the debit balance in your mind of $2,300: and so quickly uttered it while you could had $5,000: or possibly
