BRIEF OF ADDRESS AT OCEAN GROVE, AUGUST 2<sup>d</sup> 1894.

*****

- I. There is a common belief that Alcoholic drink taken in some form is healthful.

An English physician says:- "Time and again I have been assailed even in tee-total households, by pressing entreaties as to whether I did not think some 'nourishing stout' some 'blood-making claret' or 'port-wine' or 'sherry' with an egg beat up in it' or 'good sound whiskey' or 'brandy' would 'stimulate' and 'strengthen' the weak sufferer."

This able practitioner cries out with indignation: "Nourish! stimulate! strengthen!! What utter humbug! Alcohol does not nourish but pulls down; does not stimulate but depresses; does not strengthen but excites and exhausts. Alcohol is the pathological fraud of frauds, degenerating while it claims to be re-constructing; enfeebling while it appears to be invigorating; destroying vitality while it professes to infuse new life!!"
