U. S. CAVALRY ASSOCIATION.

FORT LEAVENWORTH, KANSAS, November 9, 1887.

DESIGN AND MEMBERSHIP.

The design of the association contemplates professional unity and improvement by correspondence and discussion; the reading, translation and publication of professional essays; and generally, the advancement of the cavalry service.

Cavalry officers and former officers of that arm, of the Regulars and Volunteers of the U. S. and Confederate Service, are entitled to become members, without ballot, upon their application and upon payment of dues.

Officers of the General Staff and mounted service, other than cavalry officers, may become associate members upon written application made to the Secretary and upon payment of dues, and are entitled to the same privileges as members.

The entrance fee is $2, payable upon joining the association, and this is in lieu of annual dues for the first year's membership.

A journal of the "Transactions of the Association" will be published and distributed to the members free of expense.

The Association is very desirous of obtaining essays, translations, books, pamphlets, and any information of interest to the Cavalry arm, and officers who will so favor the Association, are requested to communicate with the Secretary.

Members of the association will be afforded facilities for the purchase of American and Foreign Military Works, at reduced rates, by applying to the Secretary, from whom a list of military publications may be had.

CIRCULAR.

WAR DEPARTMENT,
Washington, March 20, 1889.

By direction of the Executive Committee the members of the Association are hereby reminded that at the annual meeting, to be held Tuesday, April 16th next, are to be elected successors of all the officers of the Association and of the other two members of the Executive Committee—the several terms of office expiring on the date stated.

It is most desirable that every member unable to attend in person select as his proxy some member who will be present. To facilitate the appointment of proxies, postal cards are inclosed, which should be addressed to the members chosen, and as soon as practicable mailed to the Secretary (to whom they are already directed), who, after recording them, will transmit them to the persons named as proxies.

The following is a list of the members residing in or near Washington; it may be assumed that all these officers will attend the meeting:

Anderson, G. S., capt., 6th Cav.	Kellogg, S. C., col., U. S. A.

* The members of the Committee now serving are: General Drum, General Macfeely, Colonel Wilson, Major Smart, and Mr. Duvall.

† Paid from benefit surplus. The next benefit, also, will be paid from this fund.

For twenty-two of these entrants the dues at date of joining (estimated in accordance with section 2, Article II of the Constitution) were insufficient to pay the assessments required for the mortality since experienced; hence extra assessments had to be made in these cases. The benefit surplus fund will pay the next death claim; but should more than one death occur before April 1st, several other new members will have to meet extra levies.

In this connection the following extract from the eighth annual report is republished, with the hope of obviating much correspondence and discussion:

Apropos of entrants and extra assessments, it seems necessary to explain a subject not at all understood by members, and especially by new members, whom alone it concerns. Nearly every year it has happened that certain of the entrants of that year were required to pay extra amounts—that is to say, amounts in excess of those estimated for them at entrance (according to the Constitution), while other members were not so assessed. They apparently will not understand it, but insist that the Secretary's calculations were erroneous, &c. The whole matter is very simple, and arises from the irregular or non-uniform distribution of the deaths occurring during the first year of membership. In the first place, every entrant has to pay as many twelfths of his full year's assessment as, at date of admission, there are months yet to run—counting his first calendar month as an entire month of membership (Sec. 2, Art. II). But it by no means follows that the actual death losses will conform to this uniform scale of twelfths. Perhaps an actual case may be cited to advantage. On December 14, 1885, a certain officer joined, entering in Class 5. He paid as assessments, according to Art. II, sec. 2, one-twelfth of 13 × $4, or $4.33. On December 29, a death occurred, and his account was debited $4 (the assessment of a member of his class), leaving a credit of 33 cents. December 31, another death occurred. The member's account must be debited $4, as before, but as there is but 33 cents to his credit, an extra assessment for the difference ($3.67) must be collected from him. In the letter of transmittal of the check, however, he insisted that it was to cover an error in figuring made by the Secretary. This was the only member in the Association who had to pay any extra assessments, because for him alone was the actual death-rate, during membership in that year, in excess of 1½ per cent.

The fluctuations in membership since April 1, 1888, are shown in the subjoined statement.

Membership April 1, 1888	1,012
Joined since April 1, 1888	42
	1,054
Resigned since April 1, 1888	1
Dropped since April 1, 1888	6
Died since April 1, 1888	17
	24
Present membership	1,030

The membership being 1,030, the Constitution requires the levying of 15 assessments (1½ per cent. of membership) for next fiscal year, and the cards are herewith inclosed.

The total business expense for the year is $1,643.33, necessitating a per capita assessment of $1.60, entered on the inclosed cards. (See sec. 9, Art. II, Constitution.)

This expense assessment should be paid in one sum.

Any new member inclined to object to being thus taxed for the full year (though his membership may have extended through but a small fraction of it) should bear in mind that this seeming inequity is more than offset by the fact that although he has not contributed, at date of joining, anything whatever to the Benefit Surplus Fund, yet this fund affords him exactly the same relief as that enjoyed by any other member of the same class, irrespective of dates of joining; and, further, that this relief greatly exceeds his expense charge.

Please fill up card and return at once.

Military Service Institution,

Governor's Island, N. Y. Harbor.

NOVEMBER 30, 1890.

TO THE

MEMBERS OF THE MILITARY SERVICE INSTITUTION :

At a meeting of the Executive Council of the Military Service Institution held on the 14th day of November 1890, a committee was appointed for the purpose of taking into consideration the subject of the biennial election to take place in January, 1891, with instructions to furnish to the members of the Institution information as to the places to be filled: the branches of service not represented on the Council; and the members available to fill these vacancies.

THE COMMITTEE REPORTS AS FOLLOWS:—

A President, and six members of the Executive Council are to be elected.

For President of the Institution the Committee recommend that members vote for one of the Major-Generals of the Army.

The Committee finds that the six members to be elected to the Executive Council should include one representative each from the

Adjutant-General's Department,

Inspector-General's Department,

Subsistence Department,

Pay Department,

The Cavalry,

and one other.

The following list of names include those available to fill the first five vacancies, but for the sixth vacancy the list is altogether too large to print. The Committee adds five names for this vacancy.

Gen. G. D. RUGGLES, A. G. Dep't.

EXTRACT FROM THE CONSTITUTION.

ARTICLE V.—GOVERNMENT.

Sec. 1.—The officers of the Institution shall be a President, two Vice-Presidents, who shall reside near the Headquarters, and as many Vice-Presidents, in addition, as may be required to preside over Branches; a Secretary, a Treasurer, a Vice-Treasurer, an Assistant Secretary, and one Corresponding Secretary for each Branch.

Sec. 2.—There shall be an Executive Council, consisting of the officers aforesaid ex-officio, and one representative from each Staff-Corps and Department not represented by a Vice-President; two representatives each from the Cavalry, Artillery, and Infantry arms, and one representative from the Retired List: Provided, that these proportions may be disregarded if, in any case there should not be officers from all such branches of the Service available.

The affairs of the Institution shall be conducted by the Executive Council, which may make such By-Laws, not inconsistent with this Constitution, as may seem necessary.

Five members of the Council shall constitute a quorum.

The Executive Council by a majority vote of the meeting may fill, for the unexpired terms, all vacancies which occur among its members.

Sec. 3.—The President and Executive Council shall be elected by the Members of the Institution, at a General Meeting to be held biennially, on the second Wednesday in January, or as soon thereafter as practicable. Six members of the Council shall go out biennially, by rotation, but may be eligible for re-election.

The general meeting of the Military Service Institution called for by Art. VI of the Constitution, will take place on the second Wednesday in January, 1891, at Governor's Island, N. Y. Harbor, at 2 o'clock, P. M.

You are cordially invited to attend.

NOTICE OF MEETING FOR THE DISTRIBUTION OF THE SOUVENIR HISTORY.

AFTER A PERSISTENT AND CONTINUOUS LABOR OF FIVE MONTHS your Committee is able to report the completion of the Souvenir History, which includes a full account of the proceedings of our last annual dinner, together with an historical sketch of the Regiment from 1847 to 1861, also an account of the Campaign of 1861, and other matter which will be more fully indicated in the index of contents which is found enclosed.

EACH BOOK WILL BE NEATLY PACKED IN A BOX and will be ready for delivery to members who have qualified and to subscribers December 29th, 1894.

THE PUBLICATION HAS BEEN MADE VERY MUCH LARGER AND MORE ATTRACTIVE, and in this has exceeded our first anticipations, while the subscriptions have not met our expectations, we have therefore decided not to add to the expense by delivery of the books as was at first contemplated, but do herewith call for the distribution of the Souvenirs.

A Special Meeting at the Armory, Saturday Evening, December 29th, 1894,

ALL WHO WISH EXTRA COPIES can have them at $3.00 each until the limited number issued have been disposed of.

THE ROLLS OF 1861 have been copied from duplicates which have been furnished by officers who were in the front during the first three months of that year. After these copies were in type the proofs were submitted to those furnishing the copy and others for revision and correction. At the outbreak of the late Civil War there was not the same care taken in regard to the strictly accurate details of names which was subsequently

ALL WHO HAVE SUBSCRIBED, or have intended to subscribe, whether large or small amount, but have not yet done so, are requested to send in their checks and thus assist the Committee in paying bills which are now due.

Notice of Meeting for the Distribution of the Souvenir History

A special meeting of the Association was held on Saturday evening, December 29th, 1892, at the residence of the Secretary, Mr. Charles E. Sprague, in New York City. The purpose of the meeting was to discuss the publication of a history of the Twelfth Regiment, N. G., N. Y., and to determine the mode of distribution of the same. It was decided to publish a history of the Regiment from 1812 to 1861, and to distribute it to the members of the Association. The cost of the publication is estimated at $1,000, and it is expected that the subscription list will exceed this amount. It is therefore requested that you will contribute to the fund for the publication of the history of the Regiment.

"It is the business of the old soldiers of this country, whether they fought on one side or the other, it is their business to see that the Union which was saved shall be preserved forever. The liberty which you achieved means responsibility and means duty. Duty is God's order, and when once obeyed, liberty is safe and the law supreme. I am glad to know that the veterans who fought for the union of the States are to-day almost to a man touching elbows in support of public honor and personal honesty. Standing in the presence of these tattered flags, glorious emblems of a glorious cause, inspires patriotism in every heart. You know what they cost in blood. Some things are so priceless that the nations which buy them pay only in blood." Comrade Wm. McKinley to the Delegation of Veterans of Allegheny Co., Penna.
