

Bowdon College

Commencement 1979

BETTY WERLEIN CARTER, author, journalist, active churchwoman and devoted co-member of the Class of 1927; writer and researcher, par excellence, she has gained respect in the business world by the example of her own adherence to the highest standards of perfection, not only as publisher of the newspaper in which she was an active starting partner with her late husband, but also in her relationship with people in all walks of life; intolerant of insularism, she is both nationalist and internationalist; her “beat” ist he world; her perception and acuity worthy of emulation.

Honoris Causa, Doctor of Letters
