

HAROLD HALE MURCHIE, of Calais, Chief Justice of the Supreme and Superior Judicial Courts of Maine, Bachelor of Arts of Dartmouth, Bachelor of Laws of Harvard, Doctor of Laws of Boston University; Maine born and bred, a justice with legislative experience in both House and Senate of his state, being at one time President of the Senate; for many years in active practice of the law, thus bringing to the high office he now adorns qualities so essential to the ermine; learned in the law, of calm judicial temperament, holding the office that in many ways is the highest in the state, and interpreting the law humanly and generously; honored by a college several of whose sons have held that high office and which holds him and his title in high esteem.

Honoris Causa, DOCTOR OF LAWS