

ALFRED WATTS NEWCOMBE, of the Class of 1914, Bachelor of Divinity at Newton, Doctor of Philosophy at Michigan. Historian and professor, member of the Faculty of Knox College for thirty-seven years, the high regard in which he is held by his students and his colleagues has been demonstrated many times. A spokesman for the Knox Faculty on all matters of college policy, he was the first and to date the only member of that Faculty to hold the rank of Distinguished Service Professor, in recognition of loyal, dedicated, and outstanding duty as a teacher, and demonstrated ability to awaken in the individual student a burning desire to learn. For those years of devotion to the ideals for which Bowdoin stands, we honor him.

Honoris Causa, DOCTOR OF HUMANE LETTERS
