

ARTHUR VANDERBILT, of Harpswell, Maine, and Newark, New Jersey, graduate of Wesleyan University, with more LL.D.'s than can easily be counted; Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of New Jersey; almost a renaissance man in his versatility and activities and thoroughly American in his principles and career; former President of the American Bar Association, former Dean of the School of Law of New York University where a building is named in his honor; a most influential member of the committee that recently gave New Jersey a new, modern and workable constitution with an effective reorganization of the state's judicial system; member and former Chairman of the Board of Trustees of his alma mater; outstanding lawyer, administrator, reformer, judge, and above all a fine and friendly man.

Honoris Causa, DOCTOR OF LAWS