

CHARLES THEODORE BURNETT, a graduate and honorary doctor of Amherst, Doctor of Philosophy of Harvard University, Professor of Psychology of Bowdoin College; graceful and thoughtful writer whose biography of William DeWitt Hyde is a clear and loving appraisal of that great leader; scholar who maintains high standards for himself and for his students; earnest advocate of the claims of Music and Art in a liberal education; held in highest esteem by College and Community alike, modest and kind Christian gentleman with all that phrase implies.

Honoris Causa, DOCTOR OF HUMANE LETTERS