

HENRY POMEROY DAVISON, of New York and Washington; Chairman of the War Council of the American Red Cross; philanthropist who gives generously himself, and patriot who has taught the American people the joy of giving cheerfully, so that they have poured out over two hundred and sixty millions for the War Fund of the American Red Cross; fitting representative at home and abroad of the greatest army of mercy the world has ever known.

Honoris Causa, DOCTOR OF LAWS