

BOWDOIN COLLEGE
Commencement 1986

CAROLINE DUBY GLASSMAN, teacher and jurist, community servant and leader of the Bar, you have made certain that Maine is a more humane state in which to live, especially for women who are widowed or divorced. Three years ago, you became the first woman to be appointed to the Maine Supreme Judicial Court, where today you continue to defend the principles of equality and fair play which you have championed throughout your public career. It was for us a happy day when you, a daughter of Oregon, exchanged the Pacific for the Atlantic. We thank you for joining us down east and for serving our State of Maine so well.
Honoris causa, DOCTOR OF LAWS.
