

SIR WILFRED THOMASON GRENFELL, Medical Missionary, whose best-known address is Labrador, but whose influence has extended throughout the English-speaking world; fittingly honored by Bowdoin, whose great President, William De Witt Hyde, was an earnest advocate of the Grenfell Mission; and whose sons, Peary and MacMillan and Gould have known of that work at first hand; one who is as true a hero as our modern world has brought forth.

Honoris Causa, DOCTOR OF LAWS
