

HORACE AUGUSTINE HILDRETH, of the Class of 1925, Governor of Maine; showing that high office the same qualities he displayed when as an undergraduate he was known as one of the Hildreth twins – capable leadership, conscientious devotion to duty, and high character, learning from week to week and from month to month that politics, as the word implies, is the art of getting on with one’s neighbors, and that political sagacity requires understanding of the highest kind; proudly acclaimed today as the Chief Executive of the State of Maine by his Alma Mater which is older than the State over which he presides, but ever grateful for the friendly relations which have always existed; a good Governor and a good man.

Honoris Causa, DOCTOR OF LAWS
