

DAVID JAYNE HILL, of Washington, D.C.; for some years President of Bucknell University, then President of the University of Rochester; Minister to Switzerland and to The Netherlands; from 1908 to 1911 Ambassador of the United States to Germany; delegate to the Second Peace Conference at The Hague; author of many books in literature and on diplomacy; recognized American authority in international law; distinguished and patriotic American citizen.

Honoris Causa, DOCTOR OF LAWS