

EDWARD PRINCE HUTCHINSON

Edward Prince Hutchinson: native of Auburn, Maine, summa cum laude and Phi Beta Kappa graduate of the Bowdoin Class of 1927, with whom today you share your 55th Reunion, you are an internationally recognized authority on statistical methods as they apply to immigration and to population. While a Professor of Sociology at the University of Pennsylvania you helped establish and direct the Population Studies Center at that institution. Your wise counsel has been sought and given in foreign lands and in our own government. Your alleged retirement in 1976 has resulted this year in the publication of a distinguished volume: The Legislative History of American Immigration Policy, 1798-1965. Your College is understandably proud of you -- demographer, historian, teacher, scholar, generous and loyal alumnus.

In exercise of the authority given me by the Governing Boards, I now create you,

Honoris Causa
Doctor of Humane Letters
