

PHILIP ISAACSON

Philip Isaacson, graduate of Bates College and Harvard Law School, as lawyer and citizen you have played a major role in the community affairs and cultural life of your native State of Maine. Especially notable has been your support of the visual arts. As art critic of the Maine Sunday Telegram, you have quickened our appreciation of the galleries and museums to be enjoyed in this state. As Chairman of the Maine State Commission on the Arts and the Humanities you have set high standards of appreciation and enlarged a receptive audience. Bowdoin values your contributions to the catalogues of the Museum of Art and your distinguished essay on Primitive Art in the museum collections. In honoring you, we honor one who has helped to enrich the lives of many.
