

PRESTON KYES, of the Class of 1896; Professor of Preventive Medicine in the University of Chicago, who has given all his time, all his energy, and too much of his health to the pursuit of pure science, and has already made very important discoveries for the treatment of pneumonia.

Honoris Causa, DOCTOR OF SCIENCE