

WILLIAM EDWARD LUNT, of the Class of 1904; Doctor of Philosophy; formerly Thomas Brackett Reed Professor of History at Bowdoin, then Professor of History at Cornell; since 1917, Professor of English Constitutional History at Haverford College; after the war, Chief of the Italian Division of the American Commission to negotiate peace; thorough scholar whose work on the medieval papacy has brought him international recognition; effective and inspiring teacher; one of that long line of eminent historians who have been trained at Bowdoin and have continued their service in the academic world outside; known by all his classmates and friends as honest and true.

Honoris Causa, DOCTOR OF HUMANE LETTERS