

FREDERICK MAYER MEEK, Minister of All Souls' Congregational Church, Bangor, where as in his previous pastorate at Biddeford he has won in a very few years the affection and the respect of the entire community, not only by his scholarly and literary sermons but by his Christian service and wide sympathies; pastor of one of the most important Congregational Churches in New England, bound by many ties to Bowdoin not the least that it was the church of Charles Taylor Hawes who we may think is looking down on us today and saying, "Bowdoin, it is a good thing you are doing for yourself and for my friend."

Honoris Causa, DOCTOR OF DIVINITY
