

JAMES FLACK NORRIS, Bachelor of Arts, and Doctor of Philosophy of the Johns Hopkins University; Professor of Organic Chemistry at Massachusetts Institute of Technology since 1916; during the war Lieutenant-Colonel U.S.A. in charge of the Chemical Warfare Service of the United States in England; former President of the American Chemical Society; eminent scientist; human and inspiring teacher, who recognizes that not only knowledge but imagination are necessary to good instruction; in grateful recognition of qualities of character and attainment and of generous service to Bowdoin as Visiting Professor of Chemistry during the past term under the Curtis Foundation.

Honoris Causa, DOCTOR OF SCIENCE