

EVELINA PIERCE, of Dobbs Ferry, New York; headmistress of the Masters School; progressive and courageous administratrix in what seems to most Bowdoin men one of the most difficult fields of education, that of the independently supported school for girls; with wide experience in such work in Portland, Indianapolis, Washington, Dobbs Ferry; daughter and sister of Bowdoin graduates; by inheritance and attainment now admitted into the formal Bowdoin family in which like so many other members of the Society of Bowdoin Women she has long informally had a place.

Honoris Causa, MASTER OF ARTS