

DAVID RICHARD PORTER, of the Class of 1906; Bachelor of Arts and Master of Arts of Oxford University, honorary Doctor of Divinity of Colgate University; Bowdoin's first Rhodes Scholar; known to thousands of schoolboys and college men all over this country for his splendid work as Secretary of the Student Division of the National Young Men's Christian Association; now continuing to influence youth as Headmaster of Mount Hermon School, called to that important post in days of crisis and tragedy; author and editor of many books and treatises on religious themes, who has constantly, conscientiously, and consistently contributed from his liberal education begun at Good Will and continued at Bowdoin and Oxford, to advance the religious and secular training of boys; honored representative of the preparatory schools.

Honoris Causa, DOCTOR OF HUMANE LETTERS