

ROBERT CHAMBERLAIN PORTER

Robert Chamberlain Porter, member of the Class of 1934, there are few sons of Bowdoin who can match your long record of devotion to the College. Bowdoin's history is your family's history, for your forebears may be found in the College rolls in every generation since 1810. Born in Pennsylvania, a summer resident of Maine most of your life, you have excelled in the New York world of finance, and yet you have always found time to serve your community and to serve your College -- on the Alumni Council, in our Capital Campaigns, and now as President of the Board of Overseers. A hardy sailor and a wise friend, you help to keep the helm steady as Bowdoin sails on. Today you join the ranks of your five uncles who received honorary degrees as your College awards you her highest honor. Honoris causa, Doctor of Laws.
