

EARL BALDWIN SMITH, of the Class of 1911; Professor of Art and Archaeology at Princeton University; who entering Bowdoin with small Latin and less Greek has since shown the value of the classics and has become one of the important archaeological scholars of the country; author of important studies in early Christian art; inspiring teacher at a university which stands for so much that is excellent in American culture.

Honoris Causa, DOCTOR OF HUMANE LETTERS