

FRIEDRICH ALEXANDER VON HUENE

Friedrich Alexander von Huene, of the Class of 1953, you have pioneered in the reproduction and appreciation of historical woodwind instruments. The music of the Renaissance gives us a fresh delight today because you have helped us to hear it. The Guggenheim Foundation has honored you with a Fellowship. So widely acclaimed is your knowledge and your craftsmanship, that musicians wait for years to possess a von Huene instrument. As a performer and teacher, you have helped to preserve a priceless musical heritage. In honoring you, Bowdoin honors its own concern that the best in the past give shape and sound to the present.
