

Brunswick Dec. 4th 1857.

Dear Horace;

Mother says we shall come on Tuesday next, or, if it is not a pleasant day, on the next fair day.
Fanny gets along pretty fast; still something
may happen to prevent her coming to board.
However Mother & Daisy will come at all events as above appointed, & we shall come when we can.

I have only time to write
this in season for the mail.

W. J. Chamberlain
