Gentlemen:

I have your letter of March 29, enclosing sample pages of diaries with prices. I fear I was too indefinite in my inquiry to give you an adequate idea of what I wanted.

My conception of the diary I can use to best advantage is one of about a page per day, size of page about 3 to 3 3/4 in width to 5 1/2 to 7 in. length, unruled, not loose-leaf but permanent opening on side, good quality of paper, and bound in flexible black plain leather. I wish to use this as a personal diary of impressions of the environment, activities and characteristics of our party during the long three years' complete exile from civilization among the rigorous conditions of Northern Greenland and Ellesmereland where we are left next August. I hope to use these in a literary way upon my return.

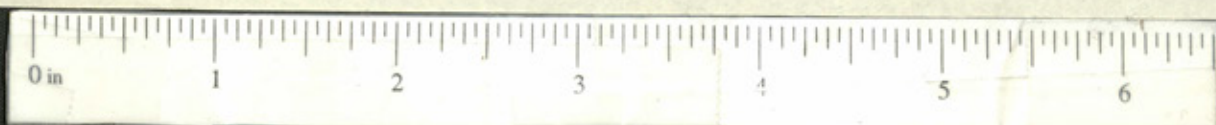

With this more careful account of the purpose to which I shall put the diary, I hope you can better tell me of what you have that will serve my needs.

Thanking you in anticipation of your further attention to my inquiry, I remain

Yours very truly

Gentlemen:

As scientist to the Crocker Land Expedition which will spend three years in scientific exploration and research in the extreme north of the Arctic Archipelago and which is being sent out under the auspices of the American Museum of Natural History and the American Geographical Society, with the cooperation of the University of Illinois, I wish to learn what discounts you could make on any goods which we may order of you. I find that you handle a great deal of the equipment which my associates and I shall need, and I shall probably wish to order no small part of it from your firm. Because of the great cost of the expedition we are endeavoring to reduce expenses as much as is consistent with proper equipment.

Also I wish you would send me your catalog of equipment for botanical, zoological, entomological, ornithological, and microscopical supplies, and such other scientists' and naturalists' literature as you think may prove helpful to me in selecting the material.

Thanking you in anticipation of your early attention to my request, I remain

Dear Sir:-

Replying to your favor of April 9th, we beg to state that we are mailing you under separate cover a complete set of our catalogues, which we have ready for distribution and have also placed your name on our mailing list so you will receive copies of the new editions of our catalogues of Biological Supplies and Entomological Supplies, as soon as we receive the same from our printer.

In the meantime, if you desire material which is not quoted in the price lists sent do not fail to send us your list of requirements so that we can procure the same with our lowest prices.

We hesitate to print new editions of our catalogues of glassware and apparatus, on account of the uncertainty of the new Tariff Law.

Awaiting your further inquiries which we assure you will have our best attention, we remain

Professor Frank Smith has referred me to you as being most competent to pass upon what equipment I shall need for the collection of data and material, for the study of the arctic avifauna on the Crocker Land Expedition which I shall accompany as geologist, botanist, and ornithologist. May I ask you to make out a list of such equipment sending me one copy, and another copy to Dr. E. O. Hovey of your Museum? Would you also make out a similar list of the books and other literature on birds which I ought to take with me, and any suggestions that will be of aid to me.

My dear Professor Flom:

Will you please advise me as to what Swedish - and Norwegian - American dictionary would be best adapted to the translation of such scientific publications in the Scandinavian as I shall likely take with me on my trip to the Far North?

Though I am of Swedish parentage, and can understand the language when spoken, and read it fairly well in the ordinary Swedish newspapers, I find great difficulty in thoroughly understanding the scientific treatises I have encountered, and still greater difficulty with the Norwegian.

If you know where I can get second-hand copy of some such dictionary or dictionaries I shall appreciate your telling me so.

Dear George:

All your suggestions about the mittens are good indeed, and I heartily approve of them, more especially the cord between the fingers. I'm ever so much obliged to you for all you're thinking and doing for me.

Now I've been promising for a long time to write you a list of some of the things I'll want and need on my trip, which my friends can put into my Christmas boxes if they wish to be real nice to me. I haven't much time to write this evening but I'll make out a preliminary list, nevertheless, and add to it as I think of things later.

Dictionary - as complete and full as possible. Thin pages and as light as is consistent with completeness. Clay Webster ought to know a good one.

Bible.

Chas. G. D. Robert's animal stories - "Watchers of the Trails", etc. (I shall use the whole set as models. I think the folks at home have some.)

Stewart Edward White's "Camp & Trail."

Any practical camping books.

Washington Irving's works.
