Gentlemen:

Will you please send me your catalogues of thermometers and other scientific supplies? As geologist and botanist to the Crocker Land Expedition which sails from New York for three years' scientific exploration and research in the North, I am completing my list of equipment as fast as I can. The particular instruments concerning which I wish data now, are soil thermometers for botany work. I shall also require several self-registering thermometers, maximum, and minimum, perhaps fifteen in all. May I have your lowest prices on these instruments?

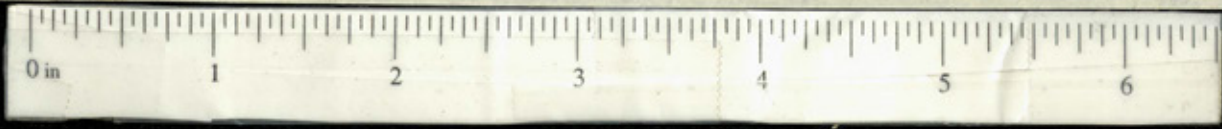

Thanking you in anticipation of your early attention to my request, I am

Yours sincerely
