The traitors to the south.

The men at the South who stood steadfastly by the Government of the United States through all the dreary months of the Horrifying war to subdue the rebellion—the faithful among the faithless—the loyal among the disloyal—the true among the false, have been, time and again, slandered and traduced by their representatives in Congress and in the newspapers as traitors to their section. No word of scorn is too bitter, no expression of hate is too rhetorical, no denunciation is too strong, when applied to those natives of the soil who would not be seduced from their allegiance to the national authority. But, although held up to public detestation as outlaws, renegades, traitors and traitors, the objects of so much persecution have sought to return good for evil. We had a case in point in Alabama. That State probably contains a larger number than any other of the class which suffered from the Union. That State probably contains a more needy and suffering, poor than any other. Starvation sits by the roadside of hundreds, perhaps of thousands. The people of the South in one year alone consumed large quantities of provisions for a portion of these destitute, many of whom cursed the source whence the assistance came, even while sharing in the benefits of the bounty. The abhorred Freedmen's Bureau for a considerable period alleviated the wants of the poverty-stricken with liberality, which were not too often accepted in a spirit of gratitude. Not long since, the issuance of these rations ceased by military order, and the destitute once more began to feel the gnawings of hunger. At length the suffering became so wide-spread and so appalling that it was feared many would die of absolute starvation. Then what did these scorned traitors to the South? Did they pass by, like the Levite, on the other side of the road? Did they remember the greatness with which they had been persecuted during the days of the rebellion? Did they treasure up the maltreatment and depredations of their own families throughout the war? Nay, nibly they buried all animosity. The leading men among the hated and despised traitors to the country called it upon themselves to appeal to General Howard to re-erect the issue of rations as before. Letter upon letter poured in from these traitors to the South, beseeching him to extend the bounty within his power. And he listened to them, and ordered that provisions to the amount of one hundred and dollars per month should be distributed to the famishing poor for three months. Now, in consequence, an ugly and suffering hospitability is invaded daily from without by the beneficence of the Freedmen's Bureau, induced by the stirring appeals of the stagnated, the hated, the persecuted traitors to the South. Though Alabamians give so much to these men, will her people do them justice? Will she cease to excoriate them for doing voluntarily what others have been forced to do by the force of arms—submit to the national authority, as we fear not, but time will Circular No. 4,---Oct. 20th, 1866.

Gen. O. O. Howard.—The following are all of Gen. Howard's appointments for the "A. W. L. S.:" *

    Thursday, " 21 Chicago, Ill. "Y. M. A."
    Friday, " 22 Racine, Wis. "Lect. A." Saturday, " 23 Milwaukee, Wis. "Y. M. A." Monday, " 25 Janesville, Wis. "Y. M. A."
    Tuesday, " 26 Madison, Wis. "Madison Inst."
    Wednesday, " 27 Dubuque, Iowa "Y. M. Lib. A."

*Gen. Howard makes the above appointments with the distinct understanding that he shall be released from them, without prejudice, in case any unforeseen circumstances should arise to prevent his fulfilling them. He is to lecture at Kalamazoo, Mich., on Wednesday, Feb. 20, but not for the "Y. M. Lib. A.," as I understand the matter.

His terms (as fixed by himself) are invariably $100 per Lecture, and Expenses—i. e.—Hotel Expenses and R. R. fare from the preceding point lectured at.

Since sending out the above Route of Gen. Howard, I have written him again, asking him if he could not favor a few more Societies, and have received answer from him, to the effect that the above are all that he can possibly serve this season.
lecture at the succeeding place on its own proper evening—distinctly understood, as it will save much trouble. (And I will here state this. I shall abide by this rule in all of the routes which I shall lay out in future; that the Societies may not think I wish to be arbitrary or unaccommodating, I will explain that I do so because I am unable to fix the places in which I shall lecture."

* Am not certain whether his Lecture at Cleveland is for the "Library Association" or not—will the Sec. please inform me?

As previously stated, the above list comprises all the Lectures Mr. Gough will be able to give before the Societies of the "A. W. L. S.," this season. I have done my very best to induce him to favor all of our Societies applying for him, and I know Mr. Gough strongly desired to do so, but he could not fill all of our applications without breaking some positive engagements, made before our Convention in June last. I had hoped that he would have been able to have served Ionia.

My dear C. O. Howard,

(Washington, D.C.) Dear Sir,

Your favour of Sept. 21st was duly read, stating that you will not be able to give any more lectures to the M.I.L. than those specified (in all) in the list contained in your letter of Sept. 15th, previously acknowledged by me (Sept. 15th).

In behalf of the Associated Western Literary Societies, I hereby formally accept your proposition to lecture at the following places, and before the Societies named, on the dates given below, all being the same as specified by yourself.

Major Gen. O.O. Howard
Washington, D.C.

General

Some two months since I requested the Hon. O. C. H. Van Horn, M.D. to ask for me, the appointment of Civil Agent in the Freedmen's Bureau to go to Texas.

This letter of reply was received stating that if I would accept the position of Capt. in the regular army, you would try and get it for me, as no Agent would be appointed from civil life, as long as they could be obtained by detail from the Army. I replied accepting your kind offer and thanking you for the attention it had received. Referring at the same time to my application for a position in the Army on file in the War Department, accompanying it was a letter from O. C. Vaudey, M.D., having
I have heard nothing further in relation to it. I take the liberty of writing to inquire whether it has been re-period, and if so, will any action be taken upon it.

Hoping you may be pleased to use your influence to secure me a position,

Dear General,

A few days ago I wrote you, but having received no answer, I write again lest my first may have failed to reach you.

Our D. M. C. A. is starting a course of lectures, partly to benefit the public, partly to try and lay the foundation of a library.

It has occurred to me that possibly you might be coming East this season either to Maine or at least to Boston, and might go...
argue as to give me
the pleasure of a call, and our good friends the pleasure and benefit of a talk upon the foolishness in any other subject you might think best.

Please let us know
if such a thing is possible,
and if so, please state
time and terms.

You have the sympathy,
interest, and prayers of us
all, in your trying position and faithful and successful labors. In them whom self-sufficiency would have so thoroughly alienated

I beg you to accept our loving my thanks for this invitation to meet you at this hour, which it would be inconvenient for me to accept this evening.

Dear Sirs,

Herewith I enclose a check for one hundred dollars for the benefit of your church in Washington, D.C. in compliance with my promise at the time you wrote me. Please do not allow the matter to become public. It is only a trifle—and I fear that my motive would be misapprehended, should it ever become known. I have moved my Head Quarters to this city in compliance with your request for orders from Major Genl. Stor. T. Thoms. I have my report ready to be copied and I shall mail it to a day or two, if nothing prevents.
