I did not mean to let a whole month pass before ans'g y<sup>r</sup>s of 9th June - but I have been meanwhile either trying to get funds fr. others for y<sup>r</sup>. Co., or waiting for funds of my own. I am very sorry to succeed so poorly. As to the College officers, the new Memorial Hall - absorbs all their spare contributions - & when I applied to Dr. Adams I found him so full of other projects th<sup>t</sup> he co<sup>u</sup>ld not make space for this, tho' he wd<sup>d</sup> gladly have done so.

Dear Sir 159

It came to the knowledge of the writer last Saturday, that contributions from the Churches and Sabbath Schools of Hartford would be acceptable to you in aiding to erect your place of worship in Washington. I presented the claim to the Union Mission Sabbath School last Sabbath and the Older members voted five dollars and the Infant department five also and the enclosed Ten dollars ($10) is the result, which you will please accept as a small gift to aid you in your good work. God has by his good providence given us a large & beautiful Chapel for our mission work. & we feel it to be a great pleasure to add our mite to help to secure a place to worship

My Dear Teacher

If in withdrawing from your class, I have caused you any pain, I regret it exceedingly. My manner yesterday may have been too abrupt in telling you of it, leaving you, as it seems, in doubt as to my reason for withdrawing, but there was no time then for an explanation, and I hardly supposed it necessary, thinking you would understand at once why I had left. In any difficulty between my father and another,

it is perfectly natural,
of course, that I should
side with my father,
and there has been
so much unpleasant
feeling manifested in this case, that it
does not seem to me
consistent with my love and respect for father, to remain in
your class.

I beg you
will not attribute
this move of mine
to father, nor let it prove the means of further separation
between you and him,
for it was my own
wish. My connection with your class has been a source of great happiness and profit

to me, and the memory
of it will always
be pleasant.

The whole trouble
existing between you
and father is so unfortunate and
apparently so unnecessary,
that it has grieved us all. We regret it as deeply as you and wish earnestly that it may
all be reconciled.

Very affectionately & truly

I have examined the abstract of Little to Square 1025 comparing it with plot on record in Surveyors office and am satisfied it is all right.

I can see a difficulty <sup>that might arise</sup> (not in the purchase) but in conveying the property as you suggested this morning and doubtless the only safe and satisfactory way to all parties concerned will be for you to take the property in your own name and have

Opening of a New School for Colored Children, under the auspices of the Protestant Episcopal Church.

It will be remembered that some time since it was determined by the Board of Missions of the Protestant Episcopal Church of this Diocese to enlarge the educational advantages of the freed people within its jurisdiction, and that, in furtherance of this purpose, Rev. A. TOOMER PORTER, one of the members of the Board, visited the North, and solicited aid for the building of a School House, and support of its teachers. He was cordially received, and met with liberal responses, one of the contributors to the good cause being His Excellency the President of the United States, who donated one thousand dollars. Other pecuniary assistance was obtained, and the hearty co-operation of the Freedmen's Commission of the P. E. Church in New York secured.

Mr. PORTER returned to this city and entered into negotiations which resulted in the purchase of the building on Franklin-street, which for some years before the late war was occupied as a Marine Hospital, for the sum of nine thousand dollars. It was immediately put in thorough repair, whitewashed and painted, and also received some other important improvements. As it now stands, the building is, perhaps, more convenient for use as a school house, than any other in the city. It is exceedingly commodious, well lighted and ventilated, and possesses the inestimable advantage of being in a portion of the city apart from the distractions of business and pleasure. The necessary furniture, consisting of desks, benches, &c., for the accommodation of seven hundred pupils has been placed in it, and thus properly prepared for the reception of scholars, it was yesterday thrown open to the public, and its organization perfected.

The general management of the school will be under the control of the Board of Missions of the P. E. Church of this Diocese, which consists of the following gentlemen:

- |                      |                      |
|----------------------|----------------------|
| Rev. C. C. PINCKNEY. | E. L. KERRISON, Esq. |
| Rev. G. P. GADSDEN.  | G. A. TRFNHOLM, Esq. |
| Rev. A. A. PORTER.   | W. C. BEE, Esq.      |

The teachers elect are all white persons, and, with one exception, the Superintendent, natives of this city. The fund for their support is contributed by the Freedmen's Commission of New York, to which we have already referred. The School will be self-supporting, except, perhaps, in the minor matters of fuel and incidental expenses, for which trifling taxations may have to be made on the scholars hereafter.

The following ladies and gentlemen have been selected by the Board to fill the positions as teachers, to which list others will be added by election hereafter, if required by the increase of scholars.

- |  |             |
|--|-------------|
| W. W. TAYLOR, Esq., of New York, Superintendent. |             |
| Mrs. HUME SIMONS,                                | Assistants. |
| Miss VIRGINIA HAMMOND,                           |             |
| Miss H. HAMMOND,                                 |             |
| Miss CELIA GIBBES,                               |             |

The books to be used will be the same as those now employed in the instruction of the children of freed people in similar schools, and will be furnished at wholesale cost, which will bring the price of them within the reach of the poorest parents.

At an early hour yesterday, the principal room in the building, which had been chosen as the place for the inauguration of this Christian enterprise, was densely filled by respectable colored people of both sexes, and their children. A number of white persons, amongst whom were Reverends C. C. PINCKNEY, G. P. GADSDEN, JOHN HANCKEL, A. W. MARSHALL, W. B. W. HOWE and A. TOOMER PORTER; and JOHN HANCKEL and E. L. KERRISON, Esqs., were also present.

The exercises were commenced by the singing of the fifty-second Hymn of the Episcopal Prayer Book, after which prayers, embracing the Lord's Prayer, the Collects for Ash Wednesday, the First Sunday after Epiphany, the Second Sunday after Trinity, and the two final Collects after Communion Service, and Bishop HOBART's prayer for schools, (from the Clergyman's Companion, page 126,) were offered to Almighty God. The chant, "God be merciful unto us" was then sung, and after the reading of the 8th chapter of Proverbs, from the 1st to the 22d verse inclusive, the following report was read by Rev. C. C. PINCKNEY, the Chairman of the Board of Missions:

The Convention of our Church, in the session of 1866, appointed a Board of Missions to the freedmen, to which they committed the whole subject of their instruction. This Board was requested to take early action in revising the missions of our Church among the colored race, and in organizing congregations for their special benefit. It was also instructed "to establish and maintain parochial schools for the secular and religious instruction of the colored people in our cities, towns, and parishes, to be conducted by teachers, male and female, of our own communion, and under the supervision of the clergy, within whose cures they may be established—the industrial feature being engrafted thereon whenever practicable."

Under this authority we have established the school which we open to-day. By the industry of one of our members, funds were obtained to purchase this large and commodious building in which we are now assembled—the President of the United States being the largest contributor. By the aid of General Howard, the head of the Freedmen's Bureau, the necessary repairs have been completed, and the furniture provided for our use. We are thus enabled to offer accommodation to seven hundred scholars in one of the best school houses provided for colored children in the South.

The Teachers are, one Superintendent and four Assistants, appointed on our recommendation, by the Freedmen's Commission, of the Protestant Episcopal Church, in the United States.

The Superintendent, Mr. Taylor, comes to us with high recommendations from different quarters, as to his Christian character and qualifications for this work. He appears earnestly desirous to co-operate effectually with us in the object which we all have in view. The other teachers are ladies, personally known to this Board, and actuated, we believe, by Christian motives. They are all supported by the Freedmen's Commission of the Protestant Episcopal Church. The aid and sympathy of that Commission was freely proffered to us in all efforts to improve and elevate the colored race. Encouraged by this proffer we have undertaken a scheme for their education, which would have been quite beyond our own ability in the present impoverished condition of our land.

The education which we offer here will, therefore, be gratuitous. "Freely we have received," "freely would we give" of every facility which can be imparted within these walls. The means of education thus put within the reach of this class of our population, we desire to make as free as the Gospel of Jesus Christ. We provide the opportunity, and invite all to avail themselves of it, "without money, and without price."

The education offered here will be also religious. While the ordinary branches of education taught in common schools will all be carefully attended to, there will be a religious basis underlying the whole system. The school is established by the Episcopal Church with reference to the moral and religious welfare of the scholars. The intellectual improvement we value chiefly in reference to that end. The knowledge which will elevate and stimulate the moral and spiritual faculties we appreciate far beyond that which cultivates only the intellectual. The education of the intellect merely may make a man a more dangerous villain, while the cultivation of his moral nature will fit him for his duties both to God and man.

In addition to the daily religious exercises, we propose to devote one day in each week chiefly to instruction in the Word of God, and "in the Creed, Catechism and Ten Commandments, and all other things which a Christian ought to know and believe to his soul's health."

It is our earnest desire and prayer to God that a religious, wise and suitable education be given in these walls to fit our pupils both for time and eternity.

The Church, which has confined this duty to us, has for many years past endeavored to teach the knowledge of Christ to those who were then entirely dependent upon us. In the changed relations of this race, we feel the same desire to do them good according to our ability and opportunity. Our policy coincides with our duty in this matter. The political privileges with which they are now invested, imposes upon the Southern people a new motive for educating and elevating them to their new responsibilities. It is the only guarantee for peace, for right, for property, for life, in the Southern States.

Patriotic considerations combine with religious motives, to urge upon us the duty of improving to their utmost capacity the minds and characters of every member of the community of whatever color or race. Our future weal or woe are inseparable.

As one means of aiding in this good work, we inaugurate to-day this Public School for the benefit of the colored children of this city, and we pray God to bless it, and make it a blessing to those for whom it is designed; that it may prove a centre of light and salvation to our own land, and perchance reflect upon the shores of Africa the light of the glorious Gospel of Christ.

At the conclusion of the reading of this report, the audience was addressed by Rev. A. TOOMER PORTER, who explained elaborately the circumstances under which the School had been projected, and said that there was to be no restriction placed upon the education of the children, and that in order to remove any distrust which might possibly arise in the minds of the parents of the pupils with reference to the manner in which they were to be taught and the character of the instruction they would receive, the Board had applied to the Freedmen's Commission to nominate a suitable person to the superintendency, and this had been done. That no objection to, or prejudice against, teaching colored children existed in the minds of the good people of this city, and that an evidence of this lay in the fact that over twenty applications for positions as teachers had been received from ladies of high position in society here, when only two vacancies had been advertised. That as the School advanced in numbers, additions would be made to the corps of instructors, and whenever the necessity for this occurred, and elections were held, the Board would be governed in their choice of the applicants entirely by their qualifications, and not by any discriminations as to color. Although the School was to be a free one, and the tuition was concerned, he was surprised to find that the report, which had just been read, contemplated the payment of all incidental expenses, such as fuel, buckets, brooms, &c., out of the school fund also. This he had not anticipated, as he did not believe that the money could well be obtained in that way, nor did he think that the parents of the children would desire their exemption from such charges. He had always found that where people obtained everything gratuitously they placed little appreciation upon values. That such expenses as he had referred to would not tax the pupils more perhaps than six cents each per week, and although there might possibly be no occasion to call upon them for these payments by reason of a sufficient amount of money being in the school fund to meet them, it might be as well to anticipate otherwise, so that if the contingency occurred there would be no disappointment.

The Management did not aim at having a large school; that would be secondary to the desire to have a good one, well organized, efficient and progressive, and that if they found children in it who were not disposed to learn, or who were badly behaved, negligent or careless in their deportment they would be discharged.

At the conclusion of these remarks, which were well received, Rev. C. C. PINCKNEY, the author of the report referred to in Mr. TOOMER'S address, explained that the latter had misapprehended its purport, inasmuch as although it contemplated that the tuition should be free, it was designed to exempt the pupils who enjoyed it from such trifling charges as might be found necessary to meet the contingent expenses alluded to, in the event of the insufficiency of money in the school fund.

The "Gloria in Excelsis" was then sung, and the meeting was addressed by the Rev. G. P. GADSDEN in his usual feeling and eloquently impressive manner. He said that he was deeply gratified at being able to be present upon such an interesting occasion, and to recognise so many faces which had been familiar to him in the Church for many years past. That they assembled to further no new scheme. The history of the Protestant Episcopal Church was replete with the records of the missionary labors which had been performed by its pastors amongst the freedmen, and that these had only been temporarily suspended during the war by the differences of political opinions which existed and necessitated the interruption. That now a change had taken place, not in the Church, but in the State, to which the Church occupied a relation similar to that held by the soul to the body—not controlling or overawing it, but enlightening, instructing and directing its movements. For this change the clergy were in no wise responsible, and now entered heartily and earnestly on the field of labor which had been re-opened to them in an enlarged measure. The organization of this school was no attempt at proselytism, and that whilst it was true that the Episcopal Church would like to gather to its folds all whom it could reach, its great controlling desire was to educate them religiously and mentally, without distinctions of creed, and to endeavor to elevate them to such a standard as would enable them to occupy any position to which they might be called by the voice of their fellow-citizens. In this work their individual hearty co-operation would be required, as otherwise all the energetic efforts of the Church and its friends would be powerless for the accomplishment of the good ends in view. He earnestly hoped that success would be attained, and that on the foundation which they were about to establish might be built an institution which would not only train them intellectually and morally for the ordinary affairs of life, but would send forth an army of missionaries to Africa to reclaim that land and bring all its children to the Cross and to the knowledge of the truth as it is in Christ Jesus. In conclusion, he wished them a hearty God-speed.

After the singing of the Missionary hymn, "From Greenland's icy mountains," the benediction was pronounced and the audience was dismissed.

The registration of children who desired to become connected with the school was then commenced, and, from the numbers who volunteered yesterday, we have good reason to believe that this school will soon rival all similar institutions in the city.

Members of the Board, or the Superintendent, will be in attendance at the school house every day this week for the purpose of registering such other applicants as may present themselves.

RARE THE MOST PERFECT PURGATIVE we are able to produce, and, as we think, has ever yet been made by any body. Their effects have abundantly shown to the community how much they excel the other medicines in use. They are safe and pleasant to take, but powerful to cure. Their penetrating properties stimulate the vital activities of the body, remove the obstructions of its organs, purify the blood, and expel disease. They purge out the foul humors which breed and grow distemper, stimulate sluggish or disordered organs into their natural action, and impart tone and strength to the whole system. Not only do they cure the every day complaints of every body, but formidable and dangerous diseases. While they produce powerful effects, they are at the same time, in diminished doses, the safest and best physic that can be employed for children. Being sugar-coated, they are pleasant to take; and being purely vegetable, are entirely harmless. Cures have been made that would surpass belief, were they not substantiated by men of such exalted character, as to forbid the suspicion of untruth. Many eminent clergymen and physicians certify to the public the reliability of our remedies, while others have sent us the assurance of their conviction that our preparations contribute immensely to the relief of our afflicted fellow-men.

The Agent below named is pleased to furnish gratis our American Almanac, containing directions for the use of these medicines and certificates of their cures of the following complaints: Constiveness, Bilious Complaints, Rheumatism, Dropsy, Heartburn, Headache, arising from foul stomach, Nausea, Indigestion, Morbid Inaction of the Bowels and Pain arising therefrom, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, all Diseases which require an evacuant medicine. They also, by purifying the blood and stimulating the system, cure many complaints which it would be supposed they could reach, such as Deafness, Partial Blindness, Neuralgia and Nervous Irritability, Derangements of the Liver and Kidneys, Gout and other kindred disorders arising from a low state of the body, or obstruction of its functions.

Do not be put off by unprincipled dealers with other preparations on which they make more profit. Demand AYER'S and take no others. The sick want the best aid there is for them, and they should have it.

Prepared by Dr. J. C. AYER & CO., Lowell, Mass., and sold by all Druggists and Dealers in Medicine everywhere.

Chicago Ill July 11th 1867
Maj Genl. O. O. Howard

My dear General

I take the liberty of addressing you feeling sure that my long Service with you in a measure entitles me to the privilege & am that ground you will not consider me intrusive - I have often wished to do so but after due deliberation each time have desisted from doing so knowing that your time & thoughts were fully occupied with affairs of more importance & that it would be very incongruous for me to annoy you -

Since leaving you I have been plodding along in civil life in a moderate way trying to maintain myself & mine by legitimate efforts, have barely succeeded, nothing more, am engaged in selling goods through the western country for Mitchells Chemical works of Rochester N.Y. which though different in its general features from Compaigny is oftentimes quite as enticing

When I mustered out of the U.S. Service I thought I should never feel any inclination to reenter it again unless in case of another war. But

I have been thinking for some months past quite seriously of making an effort to secure an Appointment in the Regular Army, with a view of making the Service my permanent profession as there is none more honorable within the latitude of my Ability & certainly none in which I could take more interest. — I think my past experience would make me eligible in common with many others to the rank of 1st Lieutenant and will go for the purpose of gaining your Opinion regarding the practicability of my making an application & the Chances for securing an Appointment — the best course to pursue &c. & whether you would feel willing to extend your influence in my behalf. — You know enough of my record to enable you to decide regarding my Adaptness & qualifications as well as my Worthiness. — Will you have the kindness to give the matter some consideration & reply at your earliest convenient opportunity — Addressing me at Battle Creek Michigan —

I am General

Very Respectfully Yours

Headquarters, Bureau R., F. and A. L.,
STATE OF TEXAS.

Galveston, Texas, July 11th, 1867.

To,

Maj. Gen. O. O. Howard,
Commissioner, &c.
Washington D. C.,

Dear General:-

I have the honor to acknowledge your communications of the 28th ult. and the 2<sup>d</sup> inst. in reference to the recommendation of an agent to the freedmen to whom their cotton can be consigned so the full market price can be received. As this is an important matter and I do not think I made myself clearly understood, I trouble you again with my views.

First not a single freedman will be forced or under any obligation to send his produce to the agent, but he possesses the same privilege of disposing of it as he pleases. There were a great many cases last year when the freedman could not get his crop to market for want of means and knowledge what to do. It was to meet these cases that induced me to recommend an agent who should give bonds so that he might be recommended by the different Sub-Agents when applied to for information. I do not propose there shall be any monopoly since every man will have the privilege of disposing of his earnings as he sees fit. It may be well to appoint one agent for Northern and one for Southern Texas. If you appoint more than two they will be tampering with Agents <sup>of the Bureau</sup> for their influence.

Large numbers of freedmen will undoubtedly dispose of their products to planters.

I have already issued an order stating that planters' accounts shall not constitute a lien upon the freedmen's portion of the crop, and if some method is not devised so they can get their cotton vc. to market the order becomes of no efficacy.

The plan I propose does not divert things from the regular channel of trade but tends to place the freedman in the same position he must fall into in course of time and after the Bureau ceases to exist.

If by this method these men in a

County where Cotton is raised send it to Market and realize its value the work is accomplished for the next year, all will know the value of their crops.

Your views must be my guidance.

Head-Quarters District of Alabama,

Montgomery, Ala., July 11, 1867.

Maj. Gen. O. O. Howard

Commissioner of

Washington D. C.

Dear General

Since the receipt of a letter commenting on the non-remission of the prescribed "personal reports" of the operations of the Bureau in this District, I have been personally attentive to having them prepared. A circular had been sent out by Col. Kinsman to bring in such additional and recent material as was required from the various sub-districts. Absence and sickness prevented some of these from promptly coming in. Afterwards repeated inquiries as to why they were not ready elicited the fact that Col. K. - while an unusually capable and assiduous business man,

Chief Justice

was so affected by a morbid distrust of his own powers of composition that after working for some time on, and no doubt doing uncommonly well with,
the plain statement which ~~is~~ all that is required had this morning turned over the materials to me. Until this time I have been much engaged with the new business arising under the military bills. I will however, go to work at once, but all the time I can on them and have them in your hands as soon as practicable, and regularly here after.

I have been for some days preparing my mind for a conference with General Pope about the best method of securing to the freedmen promptly and without expense the fruits of the year's labor. I shall have more to say on this subject before long.

I have been using Bureau agents pretty freely to instruct the freedmen of the existence and meaning of the work of registration, and with excellent results.

We have had thus for an excellent year for vegetation of all kinds and if it but continues there will be but little heard of destitution after the new crops come in.

Very respectfully
