A.P. Schung, Lieut. Deputy Superintendent

I am appointed by Gen. Ely and accepted it at the times earnest solicitation.

I request that you see atty. Jon. Naam in behalf of Mr. Schung at Ely and assure him that I have been and am a good military record.

I have seen Mr. Schung and his friends in this matter.

For myself I will take this as a personal
My dear [Name]:

I telegraphed you today in reference to my very intimate friend, Adna C. Schuyler. I have heard that your influence had procured General Ely's appointment and knowing that Mr. S. is at the full and entire confidence of General Ely, I presumed to ask you to influence for him in the circumstances of this case. The circumstances of his case are very peculiar. Mr. S. has a splendid military record — since the war he has practiced law at Doylestown, Pa., with marked success. General Ely requested that he act as his Chief Deputy — he declined and only after the urgent solicitation of the General did he consent, relinquishing his business and disposing of his homestead, when during the first week he was at his death.

This young man is fully qualified for the position, in fact, more so than many of the political aspirants on the list. He is a strong republican, a radical of the deepest grade and an exemplary man in every respect.

I am no longer wishing... delinquent soldiers but am prosecuting a lucrative lumber business, and never expect to ask an office under the government but claim this for a fellow soldier. My residence is No 834 N Broad St. where Mess and myself will at any time be pleased to see you.

Gent Sgreas will inform you of Mr. S.

Yours very truly,
Francis Wessels.

Geo. Howard,
Dear Sir,

I would like an interview with you, while you are in this city, respecting the work of education in the South, with special reference to ascertaining if the work is far from us, and I am far from the work.

I am a teacher recently from Texas, of many years of active successful experience, temporarily engaged in business here, a member of Rev. Mr. Smart's Church.

If I can have a half hour with you, may I hear from your mansion town
and place.
Very truly yours,
J. Fenney
Dear General,

Permit me to introduce to your favorable consideration Col. A. W. Wilson, Collector of Rev. at this point.

For more than two years I have known the Col. as an efficient officer, a good republican, and a good gentleman. Any aid you may render him will not be misplaced, but will be esteemed a personal favor by your humble att'nt.

Yours truly,

General

As you might not object to a story (left in the course of your experiences) part of which you entertained with in your lecture, the writer of this note to state that perhaps even at this remote period from place and circumstance some of the good personal influence you exerted may still be beneficial still of good results. It was his duty to forward supplies to Genl. Stanley's division at Cleveland, Tennessee when you came to the command and occupied as headquarter the house on the knoll opposite the rail road depot. A lady from Kentucky Mrs. Wofford died at the order that she was "So Glad" that Genl. Howard had come among us in account of the visit of the most influential the Commanding General would visit over the officers and of the strong hopes she indulges in that this influence would produce the best results in him she held so dear to herself. Permit me sir although not having the honor of a personal acquaintance with you after becoming commander of our department.  I feel that influence was felt and as few of the Army of the Tennessee reside in our city, I may as one of the member offer a salutation and welcome among us. There is a moment of the strong union sentiment felt by the ladies of Tennessee and Clevelands at one means of Military statistics should the General desire to visit it. This salutation is offered as one of the privileged class mentioned in your lecture, and the influence mentioned as having been felt as exerted by you was the "Temperance Influence."

Very Respectfully,
Angelo Craig

Dear General

If you have no sooner

in mind for your Church at Washington, I would call your attention to the following, and in the order I have named

Rev. A. H. Joint, New Bedford,

" Henry At. Stone, Brooklyn.

" N. B. Benton, Hartford, Conn.

" Geo. H. Gould, "

" J. H. Fitchall, "

" E. S. Nehmen, Chicago

I have never heard any of them preach except Mr. Nehmen, but all heartily recommended to us when looking for a pastor for our church.

 Remain Kv. Truly yours,

My dear General

I called this morning to see you but found you absent. I go to Philadelphia tonight but will return the coming week. I wish to converse with you upon a matter of some importance. I think it best to look into the matter before your return. I am in haste to see you.

Dear Sir:

We are under many obligations to you for your kindness in concurring to lecture for us and for your very kind offer of last evening; but after our many urgent requests for you to lecture before the citizens of Albany we feel that we cannot conscientiously permit you to do so much for us without some return.
Enclosed we hand you fifty dollars.
On behalf of the Committee I have the honor to be, General.

Very Truly Yours

Dear Mr. General C. U. Armstrong, M.D.

General

I arrived safely after a somewhat tedious journey of six days. I represented the Medical Department of the University at the Medical Association. After a conference with General Washington, I have at last succeeded in closing the St. Orleans Hospital. I yesterday turned over the patients to the physicians to Dr. W. M. Ampleo, the Surgeon-in-Charge of the Hospital.

General Hatch is still here but expects to leave with his family for Jefferson City to-day. He wished me to inform you that all the patients advanced to Volunteers have been released except about $250 that he thinks will be collected. Colonel Mensen is busy engaged in the payment of Boarders; it seems to have his hands full. Governor Warneer, General Hatch and all the Staff must wish to be remembered to you. With regards to Mrs. Armstrong I remain

Robert Armstrong

P.S. Expect to leave for St. Louis to-morrow to be in Washington by the 10th.

May Gen. O.O. Howard
Dear General

 Permit me to introduce to you Mr. Alexander S. Wilson of this city, the U.S. Post Office Collector of this District. He goes to Washington to prevent his removal from his office. I am very anxious that he should be retained because from an intimate acquaintance with Mr. Wilson I know that he has always been a truly consistent Republican. He was a faithful Reconstructionist and a zealous advocate of Grant's election. Further than this he has been one of the best friends of the colored man manifested by various acts such as going bail for accused persons of color and liberal assistance to them. He has done this all his obliged to endure the attacks of the people and the press. Further he is an honest man No one doubts this. No stronger or better Republican could fill the office. He can do more for The cause we have at heart, than most anyone else. He is virtuous and above all a Christian.

I trust to you not to remove any general any influence that you can exert to this end must be well directed and highly appreciated.

I am very truly yours
With much respect
