Office of the Supervising Architect,

June 1st, 1869.

Dear Sir

I returned this morning from a very extensive trip and find your favor of the 28th ult<sup>o</sup> inviting me to be present at an investigation into the duties and responsibilities of an architect to take place this day at your office.

I deeply regret that the pressure of business renders it impossible for me to attend. I should, however, be glad to aid you in any manner that I can. If you will furnish me a memorandum of the points on which information is desired I will endeavor to answer the same.

Regretting that I was unable to see you today I remain

Yours Very Respectfully
J. S. Fowler

General,

I have the honor to apply for the appointment of Supt. of Education for this State in case of the occurrence of a vacancy in that position. I presume that you are familiar with my records in the Bureau, and for my character and standing I would refer you to the prominent men of this community.
I am General

Very respectfully

I would respectfully recommend the favorable consideration of Maj E. L. Deane's application. He is in every way worthy and competent.
R. C. Scott - Governor

House of Representatives Columbia S.C. June 1. 1869.

There is no man in this State con-sistent with the Bureau who is, in every respect, as well qualified to attend the educational interests thereof as Major Deane. I know him and I speak an affirmatively. If the Government desires that the duties of the educa-tional Agent shall be well performed every one agrees that Major Deane should be that Agent. In the re-sults of the people purely I heartily recommend his appointment.

I cheerfully endorse the foregoing Application

I take great pleasure in endorsing above, and will say that Major Deane is entitled to more than consideration as the hero of the South for his gallant services during and I hope he will get the place he desires. There is no officer in the State so well acquainted with the wants of the "Colored people" as Major Dean, and he has been their firm, and steadfast friend from the commencement of the war.

My dear Brother

Mother received your letter last evening & we were very glad to hear that you will come to Maine.

Will you not spend Sat.
July 18th with us? Please not to engage elsewhere.

You can come up from Cannemuncus & I will go to Portland with you - Ella will not leave home, she thinks, at that time - as I move Kitty. "for the same reason that she did not last year". We all want to hear your Lecture on "Christian Experience the Army" so you must bring that I reflect & see on Tracy and for Hobson for what he was & that the would have my nearest support & con-

Ella + mother both think of going to Bangor with me to the State Conference June 23<sup>d</sup> and then we will see Kittie + "Mac".

Give a great deal of love to Lizzie + the 2 children too - Otis went to meeting yesterday + was a good boy.
It seems to me there are objections to Dr. Loring's appointment to the University - He will bring to it neither the fire of youth - nor the worth of a well known name - He will not secure its influence or money - He has poor health - is deficient in Classical Education and is not fitted to have weight with men of culture, for because we know that I will not mention - I think the necessity the positive number the debt of the lowest work I get discouraged over that want of substance which will not promote reforms here to suffer - He has not learned in the school of adversity - has a tendency to be selfish + selfishness - I wish you do better - he is not a solid Methodist. But his little training in want of studying seems to have failed of that certain noble spirit round, back and forth, till it seemed as if the leg-bones would give way and break. When at length she screamed for the Doctor's protection, they took hold of her throat and choked her: till she was nearly dead. This I think could not have been done. The Superintendent done his duty but he did not care for any one. He even thought of the person to say nothing about the manner in which she treated, but to try to make a place for her as if one could be happy in hell seeing themselves and their neighbors abused and crushed to the death and no sensible <sup>of</sup> ~~of~~ <sup>decide</sup> applied for their restoration to health. Even those who were sick had no medicine given. The person in question ran away three times and was recaptured by force. This so operated on her mind that when at length discharged, she fled State entirely from prudential motives, fearing some one might return her to that place. She left her books and best clothes there, for it was out of her power to bring them with her. They having been put out of the way by her absence. You can offer no redress for this. Could you promise to recommend an close investigation into the inner workings of Asylums and Hospitals by women who will watch closely and look after the wretched of the insane.

Gen. Howard,

Dear Sir, I felt yesterday if you could spare the time to listen to a narration of facts; you would at least sympathize with the sufferer. I have read of you and your labors in the cause of religion, till I have learned to respect you. I know you tried to promote Temperance in the Army among the Officers in high rank, for which I respect you. To come to the case of which I would speak, is the case two years ago a person fell sick among strangers, she was supposed to be poorer in money matters than was really the case. No nurse was provided for her. In brief, the consequence of their <sup>in her affairs</sup> ~~indifference~~ <sup>indifference</sup> was removed to an Hospital in about 4 weeks from the time she was first taken ill. At first she suffered severely in mind and learned this in concealing some things against herself and others, she had sinned against God grievously. After awhile she thought the Saviour talked to her and told her of his <sup>any</sup> life when in this world. After a time she met with two more accidents; the first was was a severe blow on the head causing the loss of ~~half~~ a pint of blood or ~~more~~ into the basin.

She thought it was her ~~own~~ <sup>own</sup> blood. The other injury was worse, and hurt the spine, causing intense agony for two weeks, particularly in the limb and spine: No word of sympathy met her ear at this period. All energy from human beings seemed to have ceased. Some liniment was provided <sup>it was</sup> but there was no nursing or waiting on by any one, except as the Insane patients performed some little thing for her. Those injuries seemed after a time <sup>seemed</sup> to heal miraculously soon after which she ran away and was gone some hours: but was recaptured and tucked <sup>after this</sup> with great severity and closely watched; even denied the privilege of going into the Chapel for fear she would try to speak to the Minister, and tell him she was not insane, and by that means get clear. But her prison was too closely guarded, and no friend among all the jailers could she make.
They knew she was not crazy but because the Superin-tendent was at fault in not understanding how to man-age her case about sending her home; he allowed her to remain on; thinking the cruelty and <sup>of the regimen</sup> rigour would cause her to keep quiet and not to trouble him any more by asking him to be sent home.

There was one lady to blame besides those in the Asylum. She had ~~the~~ <sup>person's</sup> watch and some papers, and should have come for ~~her~~, and removed her to her home. Gen. Howard, I think you would con-demn all Slavery, towards White or black sane or insane. In the Asylum Slavery reigns with the utmost rigor, and there is no redress for the slaves or prisoners; the more they complain to the Matrons, or the Doctors the worse ~~after~~ <sup>after</sup> they treated.
The woman of whom I speak was beaten many times most severely, because knowing she was not crazy, she wished to go away - from such a humid abode which seemed almost like hell to her. I will mention two modes of punish-ment. One was knocking her shoulders against a board above the bench, till it loosened the ribs. This was done to her 3 times during two weeks. The other strange mode of punishing was by taking hold of her arms by two persons and another standing behind to push and making her run the entire length of the
