Dearest -

July 9, 1869

Yesterday after I wrote you - I met Professor Porter of the Wash. Univ. College Washington and he told me where Mrs Fisk & Cousin Lizzie Lee were living - I had failed to find them - Then getting to Mrs Clark's I found her and giving her some information. My & I visited them in the afternoon - They live on the West side & in the suburbs of the city on Freely St.
We have promised to take tea with them tomorrow night. I am making rather slow progress, considerable homesick on your account - I am enjoying myself, particularly in riding <sup>after</sup> driving Mr Clark's fine horses - He & I are going down to see Galt's factory this morning - Gen. Franklin of the Army, is now the Supr. We rode around the extensive grounds this afternoon (Wednesday) but too late to go in - I have not had letters from Mrs Alcott - We spoke of the "home fire work" after we left - I wish I could have a line from you - but you don't write on such short intervals - With much love -

Yours ever - Otis

My Friend.

A most unexpected proposal has been made to me, viz to go on account of the Press & Spain, Egypt, the Holy Land, Persia China, returning via California.
As I think it will both benefit my health and enable me by increased information to wield a greater influence for good I have consented. I think you will say I have done wisely.
Doubtless I shall have the pleasure of again grasping your hand in about six Months time.

But I have a favour to ask. It will very much assist me in gaining information if I could have an introduction to the American Consuls of the various places through which I might pass. Would it be possible to obtain a letter to them from the honoured President of your Country, and would it be trespassing on your goodness to ask you to procure it?

I leave for England on Tuesday next so that I must ask you if you assent to my request to address to Mrs J. Hastings 57 Tufnell Park Road
Holloway
London Eng.

I expect to spend about two weeks in my own country.

Your last letter was quite a relief to my soul in that it decided my course (unwillingly).
& confirms I did have been glad to have had the opportunity of writing with yourself in this matter. I trust we shall be much in common. May all prosper around you in the Church, the University & your efforts among the poor people. Always ever Yours truly
J. G. Hastings

My dear Mr. Hastings
Washington. D.C.

Yours truly
J. G. Hastings

It I shall not probably be in the city longer than to-morrow. I thought it best to take this method of communicating to you these suggestions.

Respectfully & paternally

Yours -

Samuel Porter.

Gen. O. O. Howard.

Dear Sir.

I have learned a fact about Mr. Twichell, which seems to render it somewhat unlikely that he would be induced to leave Hartford for Washington. I understand he had last winter an urgent invitation to a church in Albany, with the offer of a large salary, which he declined. I ought perhaps also to have told you that he is such an open-handed, uncalculating sort of person, that in such a place as You may perhaps meet with some one who knows more of him as a preacher than does my informant.

As for Mr. Burton, he is so able as a preacher, besides that he is a man, whose heart is in the right place, & his character every way so estimable and worthy, that I with you and others of the brethren could have some knowledge of him. At least as much parish-work might be expected of him as could be of Mr. Gould.

Washington, any salary, however large, would probably leave a "deficiency" to be made up in some way. His friends here will not willingly let him go, nor without the most strenuous efforts to retain him. I wish we might get as good a man as he is.

I have heard of a Mr.
Fiske at Rockville, in this county, who is highly spoken of, as remarkable for a practical organizing efficiency, and is said also to be a good preacher. He is a brother of the famous Simon Brown, and if like him at all, is of course a man of bright parts.

Dear Sir,

I have just received a note from Prof. North requesting hints for an obituary sketch of Mr.
Robinson. Thinking you might be able to make some suggestions in regard to his work here & especially in con-would interest the Professor & all con-

Dear Sir, If you have time for a few words please send directly to Prof. North —

If I have trespassed on proprieties, please find apology in the wish to throw a few more rays of light on a course so much obscured,

"I learn from Rev. Mr. Love, who is with me tonight, that you have recently lost your husband.
If his statement is true — it pains me to believe it — May I ask you to send me facts & hints for a sketch of his life & character, to be read at the Alumni meeting next week Wednesday, July 16th."

"As our Commencement is close at hand, your reply to this should be made without delay, or it will be too late for this year's report."

"I counted your husband among my most valued friends, and was grieved with sorrow at the tidings of his death."

General;

The enclosed papers have been distributed in the army with a view to presenting the petition to both Houses of Congress upon their approaching session.

This petition was shown to the General of the army, and Secretary of War, and the President, and they were fully cognizant of its intended circulation.

The paper has not been sent to the General Officers of the army personally, but it has been considered that the weight of influence which their support will give the measure will be more powerfully exerted if (consistent with their views) they will each address such good words to the Chairman of the Military Committee as shall aid in obtaining this much needed increase of pay. Your influence is respectfully solicited.

Very Respectfully,
Your obedient Servant,
Mr Winthrop Cady

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 10th, 1869.

Dear Sir:

I enclose herewith a Petition, to be signed in duplicate, which it is desired may be circulated for signatures and returned to my address by the middle of November next, in time to have it presented to both houses of Congress at its next session.

There is no question but that the items of small increase in the pay of officers since 1860, viz:

Increase of servant's pay and clothing;

Increase of pay proper for Colonels, Lt. Colonels and Majors of Artillery and Infantry; are more than counterbalanced by the reductions due to the loss since that date, of

Brevet Pay;

Double Rations for Commanding Posts;

Commutation for Forage;

And by deductions arising from Income Tax.

Moreover, strictly speaking, the increased commutations for servants, ought not to be considered among the items of increase of pay, as they are contingent allowances made to just offset the increased cost of the persons to be employed.

No attempt has been made to give direction to any action of Congress, in case they determine to increase our pay, as whatever method they may select for that end, it is believed, will be agreeable; but it has been suggested that all officers having acquaintance or influence with members of Congress, should write to them early in December next, urging an increase of compensation.

Very respectfully,

Your ob't serv't,

Washington, D. C., July 19th, 1907.

Dear Sir:

I enclose herewith a Traction, to be signed in duplicate, which it is desired may be presented for signature and returned to my address by the middle of November next in time to have it put into the hands of Congress at its next session.

There is no question but that the item of small increase in the pay of officers since 1905, viz:

increase of current's pay and clothing increase of pay proper for Colonel, Lt. Colonel and Major of Artillery and Infantry are more than counterbalanced by the reductions due to the low state of the rate of present pay.

Lieut. Colonel for Commanding Post Commandant for Company
And by deductions arising from Income Tax.
Moreover, finally speaking, the increased compensation for services ought not to be considered against the issue of increase of pay, as they are contingent allowances made to pay for the increased cost of the business to be conducted.

No attempt has been made to give attention to any other of the items, in case they determine to increase our pay, as otherwise indicated, but they will be taken into consideration with the other matters having connection with the subject of Congress, should write to them early in December next, and an increase of compensation.

Very respectfully,
Yours truly,

Dear General

Yours from H. of C. Camp dearly. I am <sup>glad</sup> you are in with Mr Ballard.

+ hope that all round you will get deeply into the hearts + pockets of the Heathen miss. There is great wealth in that cell city. + much of it is in the hands of Christian men,

I will try + arrange the transportation with Genl W. — Permit me to say, respectfully, this Department has not been supplied, as you suppose.
The horse assigned only a horse / is the one Mr Kimball has for a long time been driving, & in his frequent tours over his field, he made it entire service more more there was.

This leaves me with nothing, as I do not ever think of using his house. My visits to the Schools, the Bank & for other not a frequent purpose are therefore all on foot, or as I can obtain outside conveyance. I do not complain, for as you <sup>know</sup> I am a modest man. But if the regulations permit other heads of Departments a horse & carriage, I must, as of late I am unable to use my feet in any protracted walks - Excuse me for troubling you with this matter.

Shall we say that the 30 pupils in schools / ap.
-plying for travel is to be the "average" attendance? If not, there is temptation to push in pupils for a few days only in order to secure the payment.

Shall the travel be only for the actual time of teaching, & not for vacations? So the Attest Super-intendents. The first Attest, & most of the others do not in-clude it. Allow me to say that the former plan is best - at this full time but to be kept - Reports for the metal will tally with all other reports - & there will be a considerable savings of our fund. All will be satisfied with this if you so decide - Please instruct me on both the above points.

My family are all well - Grace
- in whole I was at lunch, 10 minutes ago, gave me the word - She looks fat & fine, as do all the boys. I wish my children were as healthy.

Wishing you all prosperity

Dear Sir,

Myself & I left Mr Clark's this morning by the 6 A.M. train for Boston. Yesterday I had a pretty hard day. Just after breakfast we went to the "Pearl St" Cong. Ch. to the Sunday School and after a few moments delay I addressed the children for twenty or twenty five minutes. Then Mr Clark took me to Mr Gintchell's Ch. where Mrs Gisk & Dizzie Lee attend. Myself riding over to see Mr Clark's Cattle at pasture on Saturday <sup>(19 miles)</sup> had stopped at Higgins on Friday St. I called to see Professor Starns (the husband of Harriet Beecher) and then went to Mrs Gisk's & took tea. They have a charming location, as do all the people of Hartford. Sunday morning my met me at church (Mr Gintchell's) He had a real good sermon - We stopped at Mr Deys Baptist S.S. on the way to Mr Clark's. Here I made my second speech. It was a really good school and are to give me a scholarship. Then we dined & rested till 3 P.M. When I met the Sunday School of the Center Ch. Mr Roland Gifford Mr Gifford. This is Mr Clark's church. A thunder storm came up & made the people children & all restless & I had hard work to interest them. After this we took tea & then went to Weatherfield <sup>at</sup> distance of three or four miles from Hartford. Here we found Mr Adams & his family. All inquired affectionately for you - & Lotie wanted to know about Isaac. We had a church full of people at 6 P.M. Mr Adams' voice was so natural that it called back more times when you & I stood at the altar together.. I did not know he had gone to Connecticut. He came on with us today. After the Adams service I spoke at the Marlborough mission chapel & closed this Sunday service - My & I went through each factory one day. Mrs. Franklin was very kind & attentive - afterwards called to see me. Another day we went thro. <sup>a shoe factory</sup> (I did not go with me) -- It was rather a "best" factory -- My boys have you told mamma about your shoes? Mr. Hunt one of the firm gave me a curious pair of shoes that have square toes & fit like a glove.. I think I was successful in the "scholarships" Mr. Clark handed me a check for a thousand dolls. I thought he would soon be able to forward amounts to every 20 young men through one year. He asks for it himself prefers to do so - This takes the laboring oor from me. I am very anxious today - have telegraphed Mrs. Whittier at Brunswick so that she can tell me before night if anything has occurred - Tonight if I get no word any & I will go to Portland by boat & take morning train for Brunswick -- This year is today in Boston - Our old friend Mr. Willard (the portrait man) is with us & gives me a trifle my God - grant me strength & bless you, my precious darling --

Travelling yours
Otis

OBJECT AND WORK.

The Commission was organized Sept. 28, 1865, to promote practical Home Evangelization, by seeking to stimulate and guide Christians to personal effort for the Salvation of men:

- 1st. In individual churches, by showing how Pastors and others have successfully organized and employed the membership of their Churches in systematic work for Christ.
- 2nd. In societies, by giving the experience of the many who have been successfully engaged in any branch of organized mission or philanthropic effort to all who desire it; thus demonstrating how practical questions have been solved by practical measures.
- 3rd. In Christian life, by indicating how individuals have operated in various spheres in Christ's vineyard, with the Master's blessing, in just such fields as lie before each of his disciples.
- 4th. Christian Conventions have been held, 35,000 copies of methods of organizing work in a local church distributed, 50 cities visited and some form of Christian activity much needed set in operation in many of them, and existing agencies stimulated in others. Thousands of people have heard the Gospel who before did not; hundreds have been led to Jesus, and Christians brought into closer sympathy, and more active co-operation, as a result of this awakened activity.

The funds necessary to carry on this work, are raised by private subscription and public donations.
