Mr. O. O. Howard

Dear Sir:

In the month of August 1870, after having had the honor of an introduction to you through Mr. E. H. Carver, I took the liberty to address you with reference to the tuition of modern languages and enclosed a certificate issued to me by the U.S. University after a philosophical examination, satisfactorily passed. - Said application remains unanswered to this day. As the certificate application, as it has not... been returned, as they stand, on the request expressly made for such effect. May I trouble you, dear Sir, to cause the same to be returned to me?

Yours very respectfully,

Gallus Thomann

Dear Gent.

Judge Bartley, Mr. Bell,

As I will not consent to your taking testimony under a Commission as the judge ordered, I had agreed to, consequently will have to get an order from Court, which will involve 10 or 12 day notice.

We will push things as fast as we can and will inform you when we are ready to send to Miss. T. Take evidence

Mrs. Bell is in New York. Bartley returned from her yesterday at morning.

We supposed they were to answer

to have the fact govern.

Very Respectfully,

DANIEL WELCH

Dear Gentleman,

The sudden news of one of my children, which I learned by telegram will compel me to leave the evening for home with my wife.

I cannot therefore speak the evening at Wauke

Chapel. I have enjoyed the service.
very much I believe got it and will write.

Sincerely yours,

Dear O.V. Howard:

I had to know of your action to put down the slavery. If only a squad of middling cured occasionally went, each school district of the North could have them at all the schools paid then go on.

Your article some time next page is in second or fourth of the same column. It is too long. It should have been condensed. It usefulness would have been increased.

If I get time I shall endeavor to reduce it so that rulers may not be frightened by the length.

I have not got that from Douglas. I am not off for Kansas Association. I must do for my benefit till May 2. 4 - Please send me this and if I have depended on time I shall want his article by that time. Wittig's

My dear Sir,

I am forwarding to you an autograph letter of a certain person who, at any time, has been connected with the government of Bombay. Since I take the liberty of writing you, I am asking you to send assistance as you can, without inconvenience to yourself. Object one, if any, securing your own, which I shall highly prize, but such others as you may be able to find are in the way of helping me hear from you. In regard to the subject in which I am deeply interested, I remain Give Johnny and Nancy a kiss for me. Grandma hopes one of your family will find time to write me, if only for a short letter. The times are very hard for all your family, poor woman, with her millions in London. I am on what estate besides me and without the grace of God in our hearts, continually, perhaps you think I am fit for visiting. But not so. I seem to be carried along by the wheels of time, do you think the plaster put on you serve the purpose of lessening your sufferings in to that place? Please tell me when you are better.

From your affectionate mother,

Elsie Gilmore.

My dear son,

Your's of 2nd December I have not received yet.

I am due. If you are anything of delight, to see your handwriting, and I respect so much those pathetic sufferings you are enduring and hope and trust you are better, this annihilating process. I think much of it, but I do, and certainly no human could come of it. I think Emma Jackson could do it, beginning very lightly and passing through this in this way, for a long while over a long time, and continue the process a long while, not to increase pain but to submit it until he has annihilated the whole affected parts. I have been with others, since Saturday noon, she is a great sufferer. She says she is more than for some time. Her family cannot do the no work for many companies, and indeed, hoping it is better.
I should have come here two days sooner but for the cold rainstorm of last week. I took dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Edward Whitman last Wednesday. The spoke of your visit there last Oct. I invited your aunt Louisa in Chelsea and we were slept in the same bed. We seemed to feel like two that are left behind our friends that have passed away. I spent for some while in这家公司, as we have encouragement to believe that we are comforted by the heavenly Father. His grace looks very heavy, but his kindness are outwardly quiet this morning. Her family have told me they thought she might live year but I do not think so. There is evident by a stagnation of blood about her face I think she will go suddenly. Dear Friend, told her yesterday that next winter she must probably go to Washington and if it would be healthy for her and the sick. But she will go. She would be in her grave before that time. She has spoken of the great sacrifice of going her husband was making at the present time. But have not been there yet as Miss Finley intends to visit Washington with me. She frequently talks of Washington and I cannot see as her mind is impaired her new house which she now occupies, is very pleasant the house has been in it about a month. How short lines are human affairs, but we know that some have been lasting to the good of mankind. I hope to hear you are gaining and that all your family are well. Tell your uncle and uncle Grandma expects much from their Present family. As I suppose the girls are gone home. I hope besides well. Fury and Grace they are preparing to fill the place of those who are going or anyone to the other world. I have had a letter from Mrs. Howard, she will be in Cheltenham or Cambridge the last of this week. To accompany me to Maine. I have written to Hannah of Mrs. L. Her intention to visit Maine. I have received a letter from Miss B. It is sick and not like, and she thinks I will not be able to hurry me to my home. Mrs. Means lives in sick and not like, and she thinks I shall return to Cheltenham from her home.
