My dear General,—

According to my promise, I herewith send you the names of a few of our more wealthy & liberal Episcopalians, who will, I think, respond to a letter from you for the proposed object.—

I would not advise you to ingraft the memorial idea upon the professorship, as you well know how soon the work of Christ servants is forgotten, & our dear brother has been dead for four years; neither would I think it wise to confine the contributions to the support of any particular man—An appeal to these gentlemen to aid you in the

Professor to the Faculty of the institution by the contribution of 1000 $ for the year, or until you may have time to arrange for securing the necessary endowment, would be sufficient, in my judgment, to insure their interest, if they know your just good work.

These times may have changed, somewhat, the circumstances of some on the list, I have therefore given you additional names.

Be kind enough to conceal my name, as I am also in the receipt of large sums from some of these brethren, & will probably call on them in the spring for another object — I have just returned from the North, & will leave again tomorrow — May God give you liberal hearts & open hands.

Very truly
Yours

fine men, wholly reliable and I write to ask if you will not please try and procure for me the appointment as Indian Trader to the Apaches at Camp Apache. I have been there so long, and know the Indians so well, that I think that I would be able to get along very well with them. Should you procure the appointment for me I assure you that I will not do anything to betray the confidence that you might place in me.

for one whom I had closely watched in Camp and in Battle. The number of our Soldiers is limited and in my opinion they should devote their whole time to their Special Duty - whereas the number of Civilians who devote themselves to objects of Education Charity & Religion is vastly greater, and these Spirit their professions give a preference towards one who does not strictly & technically belong to their order. Hence

Dear General.

I acknowledge with pleasure the receipt of your letter of Nov-27. announcing your determination to resume your appropriate Military Rank and duties, and am pleased to see that you recognize the fact that throughout your borne public testimony to your merits - as a soldier, and to your sincerity as a Christian.

One who served my day through a four years war, lost an arm in battle, and rose steadily from the lowest to the highest rank, should be free from the petty suspicion of which you justly ^{complain} ~~plain~~.

You must remember that at the very time you were called to Washington to administer the Freedmen's Bureau, ^{in 1865} I warned you of the result which seemed to me inevitable - Again the moment I reached Washington in 1869, I advised you to go to duty in command of a Department, and again renewed the offer of a similar command, which for reasons perfectly within the province of your own judgment you declined. So that you must realize the steadfast

not the principal causes which have led to the newspaper satirists ^{at} of which you naturally feel hurt - I know you attribute them to others in official position, of which you have far better means to judge than I have.

You are still young, the loss of an arm in your Country's Cause is not an impediment to future service, because since its loss you have borne a prominent part in the arduous campaigns of 1863-4 & 5, beside the hard fighting to Arizona

I am therefore glad you have come to the nearly conclusion, to

of our Army.

If I am consulted, which now is rarely the case, I will assign you to a Command, according to your Rank; which will be a departure, probably that in Oregon, now held by General Davis. Unless the President should move

My dear General:-

My application for the position of Instructor in the University of Vermont was forwarded as an official paper through the regular channel, and approved by each Commandant till it reached Washington, when, strange to say the Secretary decided against me on the "ground that I could not be spared from my Regiment" although Lieutenant Bell, previously detailed, belongs to a Regiment that has now no less than six officers acting as Instructors, while the 5th Artillery has but two; and this Company has only one officer with it, as I have been told, while mine has four! I have sent an official copy of my application to General Ames, and have asked him to interest himself in my behalf, with the President - can you yourself aid me in this matter. There is absolutely no justice in the Secretary's decision; for most of the officers who are now appointed to Colleges have entered the service long after the war, while my wounds, and running after Indians in Florida more than twenty years ago seem to be all forgotten.

I have written to the President of the College at Burlington, Dr. Buckham, asking him to interest the Senators of his State in my behalf, so as to get the assignment from the President. I write thus fully, knowing the interest you take in me as a man, who amidst the ups and downs of life has endeavored generally to act a manly part; and although I have been guilty of some follies like many others; yet I have generally endeavored to avoid whatever is disgraceful.

very sincerely

Dear Sir

A service of nearly three years in your command in the Army gives me assurance to address you. I would briefly state that the recent panic has caused me to lose nearly all my property & involved me to some extent - With a large family I feel this keenly. I thought perhaps you might do me the kindness to secure me some appointment that would eventually place me on my feet. I hardly know what to ask for as do not know where vacancies exist & will leave this to your self. I would state however that six years experience on the frontier has made me quite conversant with the wants and conditions of the Indians. And permit me in this connection to state that the spirit of murder and general lawlessness prevailing in the Indian Territory calls for demands the immediate attention of Congress. It is stated upon good authority that not less than twenty (20) murders occur there every month & not one murderer in twenty is ever convicted.

My theory is to appropriate a certain amount of land among the Indians - say any alternate section ^{White or Black} and sell the remainders to actual settlers in tracts not exceeding 160 acres each for the benefit of the Indian. Break up Tribal organizations and bring the whole strictly under the wholesome restraint of the laws of the land. Thus would the Church and School, the industrial habits of the white and all the advantages of civilization flow as it were in among and around them. The advantages of this system over the present one of allowing them to maintain their organizations and breed together a band of cut throats and thieves and brought in contact (as a rule) only with the most degraded of white men (often called and convicted - "who teach them the crime without the virtues of the white," is so apparent that I will not discuss it here. Should however the present policy be adhered to a Territorial Government should at once be adopted and laws and orders as near as possible secured.
I have traveled extensively in the Territory South of this and know whereof I speak and I write thus hoping that you will use your influence at Washington to better the condition of the waning remnant of the Red men.

I am unacquainted with the Congressman from our State and have no personal acquaintances in Washington - Vt.

Being a politician has few political acquaintances Being an ex Indian Soldier probably if you would confer with Senator Morton he would assist in securing me an appointment. I wrote a few days ago a short note on the subject to him. If reference desired would refer you to Canada Holmes Esq., Post Citizens National Bank and Mr. Pitts & Pitts Attys
