Dear Mother
 Jan 15 1871
 I received your kind letter and was glad to hear from you. I am well and hope these few lines will find you the same. I have not much news to write at present. I am still in school and will be home in a few weeks. I will write again soon.

Egotism and personal vanity that constantly lays us open to the world upon a point in pain, by trivial things and people. Your letters or articles in the Advance interest us in the family & hear them spoken of approvingly by others. You seem always more or more with things & events of which you have been a part, and your picture of religious & experiences with men in the army and Electric seem to some interesting & useful. They may be so prolonged & systematized, that if written with careless I mean as to the mood in which you write more than the factness of language employed - they will form an important part of any future compilation of your life-history.

My dear Brother

Your new year letter was joyfully received & all its affectionate messages are gratefully reciprocated.
I have little courage to reply to your kind suggestions, & apt as I like to see my people do, by a better life.
You will have forgotten what you meant by the time this reaches you (by the way of usual prescriptions for my blues. I may say this however, that it was more a mood than a habit of mind that you detected when here. Anything that enables a man to rise superior to his moods whether occasioned by dyspepsia, disappointment, or regrets & ~~frustration~~ & ~~disaster~~ of any kind, would be a very valuable suggestion. I hardly think I will improve by ~~firm~~ writing. I 544 have been at that 17 or 18 years & have used up ^{used up} most of your suggested topics & my nerves in writing upon the list of them.

The change a minister needs is one that lifts responsibility & promotes forgetfulness of certain things. But such a tremendous hole do our mental habits get upon us that we can shake them off with little less than an earthquake. I had hoped during the war that Providence would open the way for you to go to Europe for your own sake & that that my accompanying you would not be a burden to you a push aside others & be of real benefit to me who revolve so much in what gets ^{to} worn into ruts.
But everything is ordered wisely & there is plan & purpose for my own future, and long chiefly to be let alone & allowed to sink without changing places & tearing up roots. I would gladly have lived & died in Farmington or Wincetun, if God should give me that degree of success in winning souls at either place as to make my stay seem to them desirable. I still have that desire as to E. Orange, would be glad to ^{gather} ~~get~~ a congregation so large and so attached to me as to make my usefulness here permanent and perpetual.

But I try to be ready to go & do anything, any where, where Providence points. I probably inherited moods as well from father as from mother, and what I regard as for all, this introspection in the place of Horace, Helen keeps pretty well. I bring home my selfish & imitated & depressed moods & she is like a pillow to the sore nerves. Baby Ella is very fat & chubby - hands alone require constant attention & is seldom free from baby sicknesses of some kind - We have a Marine Miller stealing. I came here at 3000 $ - 2000 $ from Church -

As my work is chiefly editorial, if read at all it must be taken on its merits. Some of it excites bitter criticism - One Editorial was ^{by a respected ministerial friend} denounced, "mean cruel and unjust" and has probably injured the paper among those for whose benefit it was written! But generally my articles are accorded the mead of silence.
They are the expression of opinions matured in my school of life & put in the style that is now natural to us - Mother writes cheerfully & enjoys the increased religious interest in that self-satisfied little community at Glenora - She is wonderfully well & "smart" for her age & Generally when we consider her hardships, Sel. writes little but must be very brief & be tempted to devote much time to St. meetings when he receives agreeable social attentions and seems to do good - Charles is completely overwhelmed - his business suffers every day for want of attention. He loses by that want of attention ^(impossible to think of the result) what his hopes of recovering gain. We had a pleasant visit to Grace at Passaic in the fall. Perhaps it was the most restful day I remember. She has written a few notes from Boston.

I suppose our long separations and the address of her Aunt Keeley, who is so much a stranger to you all makes her cautious about writing. Possibly Fizzie feels this. Laura writes enthusiastically critically about Fizzie's letter to her. David grows very tall is not a very accurate scholar & is too willing to be helped. Otis is mercurial. "When he is good he is very good indeed & when he is bad he is horrid". David tempts him to the latter word very much as his father did his brother - Frank is in Portland Mr. in danger of being spoiled by attentions & admirations - especially since his Uncle Horace's death. He is with his Grandmother at Mrs. Rogers. Your call on Horace was a great comfort to his widowed mother with no son. She is broken hearted, always active in some good deeds. She sent us a each

I go, in the Advance.

Salvage is no great advantage to our Subscription list but served instead of Chomox the paper to his friends. Our old friends don't enjoy him & the mixture of him entire success. He is conservative in politics, high & unscrupulous in "style". Orthodox in sentiment, & rather superficial in thought, and decidedly & entire in conduct. Startling the proprietors & sometimes almost

Sir, enclosed

please find receipted bills for Mrs Elizabeth A. Howard's City Taxes for 1876. These are the only taxes with which I have anything to do, but I showed your letter to Lee Pickering Dec from whom I obtained your address and they told me that they would send you a statement of any other taxes that might stand charged against the property, if any. I'm making out the bill of Tax No 22998, & omitted the amt of Local Roll No 5397 viz: $2.⁶⁹ interest 10^c & fees on same 14^c Total $2.⁹³. I receipted for them, will you please forward the amt and oblige

Since the old sad days, both at Walla Walla & when you used to speak words of encouragement & hope - or wrote me before leaving my home during that dreadful time of darkness - how even God's providance seemed estranged - but for you & your friends - You prophesied these "brighter days" for us - strange! that your own words should be fulfilled. Under that - & now again I want to thank you & tell you of the hope of brighter days, if not happy, for me, at least free from the work for to day, & hope for to morrow. I always felt in admiration that you were one of God's people, that having been through the a lousy work for miles, my & hat, had taught you to feel this - you know how there are so many wooden people, in this world! selfish, cold, & unfeeling; worse than sticks - & when a woman has to battle for herself, if she is unfortunately sensitive as I am, she very soon finds it out. You may remember that I wrote you last summer on my return that through your letter & Mr Norris's kindness I was appointed a counter in the Bureau of Engraving & Printing. of course I was glad to do anything: but it was a terrible place: & when you visited here in the fall I asked you to use your influence & secure me a better position: you spoke of seeing Gen Sewall: but you left very suddenly & so I remained until Dec. I had my wish gratified. i.e. I (with many others) had permission & a ticket of leave & was sent adrift & left to my own devices. After many ineffectual efforts & feeling sorrowful & hopeless for it seemed there was no place for me in this great big world. I thought of your friend Gen Sewall & sought him to find: kindness & consideration. & the end is = through your letter & his own heart (for he acts like another one of the sons of Gods people) he has secured for me a temporary clerkship in his own office. & I see the dawning & am anchored: but - great is my inward tribulation. (Oliver asking for more) but I shall be turned adrift again. & lose my hope & shelter. so I want you please to visit him directly (if in Portland) & ask him to keep me under his protecting wing: & do for me as you would if here. always my friend in need & indeed. A woman is so helpless & I particularly so to battle with poverty & the world, alone. Gen Howard's you who have occupation, a home. the love of wife & children to

I miss the dear old Army life. & my few ~~few~~ true friends. why Genl. I cant aser be a "womans rights woman" & have a "sphere." So do be kind & write Gen Sewall. & I will write my own persuasions. asking for plenty of work. for the "heart's complaining." & trusting this long letter. finds you well. & with kind remembrance for yourself & Mrs Howard. believe me always your grateful friend.
Mrs Watteralls.

P.S. Gen Sewall wishes to be remembered to you.

Please remember me to Cap - Mrs Gladen & to the Boyles. & tell Mrs B. I think she has forgotten me. & I hope you will come to Washington again one of these bright days. I expect its raining in Portland "yesterday to day & to morrow." but I love Vancouver. & its many beauties. rain or shine.

Dear Sir:

I have heretofore notified you of the discontinuance of business by the above named Company, and sent you the Receiver's notice of appointment.

I have just returned from New York, where I went in the interest of the Policy-holders of this Agency. The amount which may be realized from the conversion of Company's Assets into Cash, will be returned to Policy-holders pro-rata. It is the wish of the Receiver to close up the Company's affairs as speedily as possible, and after consultation, I have consented to act as Attorney for all Policy-holders who may wish to have me settle their claims, and you will readily see that such an arrangement will greatly facilitate a settlement.

I enclose a blank power of attorney, which, if you desire to secure my services in this matter, you will please fill up at once, acknowledge, when possible, before a Clerk of a Court of Records, or a Notary, and return to me with currency ($2.00) Two Dollars, this amount being the ENTIRE CHARGE for attending to the business. In all cases where the wife has an interest in, or the Policy is made payable to her, she must join with the husband in the acknowledgment.

Respectfully,

Dear Sir,

In accordance with a purpose expressed to you last summer, I resigned my position in Pacific University, and temporarily accepted a place in Willamette University.

Dear General

I have about concluded to postpone asking for a leave until next year, consequently the change of Smith's Company will not be necessary, for the reason mentioned, i.e. to avoid leaving Smith in command of the post, one reason for deciding not to go on leave, is that Mrs. Perry enjoys so much better health at Lapewai than ever before, I hesitate about taking her from this climate, and another reason - the unsettled state of affairs East.

Our new room is completed and furnished, a vast improvement.

Mrs. Perry says the next you must bring Mrs.

It will be a de-

My Dear Sir

Your very gratifying letter of Jan. 6th came duly to hand.

I shall always hold you tenderly and gratefully in my heart for your generous and appreciative mention of my brave boy. He had rare qualities.

I noted with regret what you say of the costs of the suits against you as an officer — and immediately applied through proper channels for publication in the magazines of the two articles the march "To the Sea" — and "From the Sea".

The Editor of Scribner's jects have lost "freshness" of that magazine by your pu-cations in the Atlantic.

My Dear General:

Mrs. C. presented me with a bouncing boy on the 17th inst. — and I have been doing as well as could be expected ever since. Am at least six inches taller than I was — invariably duck my head when passing through doors, and feel all the time like I'm walking on stilts. I tell you, Genl., he is a fine boy — at least twenty-two carats, — and is very high bred — four stories! Nothing like heaving babies up in a gamut. He can yell too like an Indian. Makes about as much noise to the square inch as a high-pressure engine, and like a broken-winded mule ain't particular which end he makes it from. You should see him get away with catnip tea! He drinks more catnip in one night than my whole family does in

[Faint, illegible handwriting on lined paper] a month. Why, Sir, the expense of catnip alone would ruin me did I not hold a government position with a large salary!!

I don't mind the expense of this thing, however, but the misery of flying around like a loose button on a barn door all night in my shirt-tail waiting on the bleed baby is getting to be a bore.

Still I am happy - almost too happy to live - couldn't stand any more happiness; therefore it is a good thing the boy was not twins, for that would have killed me sure to say nothing of Mrs. C.

We have named him Oliver Howard; and Mrs. C. says if he turns out to be half as good a man as his distinguished name-sake she will be the happiest old woman in America.

Tell every body we have got a baby; and don't forget to say it's a boy.

Very truly yours,

Will you have the kindness, if consistent with your views, to furnish me with a brief statement concerning my efficiency as an Officer and General conduct, during the time that I was a member of your Military Academy while connected with the Bureau at Washington of which you were Chief.

I make this request in consequence of my standing at the War Dept. where my faults only are recorded, and to place myself properly in the estimation of our Representative Mr. Munroe who has interested himself in my behalf. He knows my record at home for the last two years & knows of my record at

Dear Genl. Your kind

letter so long ago need deserved an answer before this and the only excuse I have to offer is that I have been very busy and the grade a but slow change that came over the people after a careful and deliberate second thought. They felt that to leave with such a state of disrepair as existed there would be to sacrifice the most of their property. Now the excitement in regard to the Black Hills gives them another ray of hope and they will wait and trust in that Providence that has provided for them so far, to guide them in the future. Accept my thanks for your interest in our behalf and the information you sent.

I wanted to call your attention to some parts of Genl Sherman's Memoirs where I feel that he does me an injustice viz. In speaking to the Black Hills in the Spring if Mr. Duncan consents I would be pleased to hear from you at any time and you will ever be held in great remembrance by me. I am expecting Mrs. Duncan tonight on the train & know she would like to send her regards so I will take that liberty for her.

of the capture of Millidgeville he says that a detachment of Kilpatricks Cavalry entered that two days before the Army reached that place, as I have never asked for any recognition of my services from the Gov. I deem it very unkind to rob me of any honor that that cannot be disputed. At that time the Southern press published it all over their country, ridiculing their baby faced Mayor for surrendering the City to four greasy Gauds in the absence of any army and it seems to me that your reports ought to have set him right on that matter.

II He states that a detachment of Foragers entered Fayetteville among them myself &c. which is all wrong and the language between me & Genl Hampton that he states is untrue I would be pleased to give you a correct and clear statement on all those points, if you propose to continue your articles in the Atlantic Monthly. I feel very much inclined to think that Genl Sherman is very egotistic.

I wrote to Genl Sherman about one year ago asking if I could be reimbursed for the loss of my personal effects at Fayetteville he told me he had no influence and referred me to you. Now all I have to say in that matter is this at the time I was captured I had in my possession a watch belonging to Lt Jno A McQueen which I paid him $48⁰⁰ for afterwards, besides my own personal effects I thought it but just that the Gov should make it good. I feel the country filled throughout by men who rendered very little actual service aside from drawing their salary during the war now filling offices of honor and profit. While the attempt by Genl Sherman to rob me of my actual services seems a strange contrast but I am one that thinks all things are for the best and will try to reason it that way. I was elected by my people to represent them in the Sanitary Council this winter and consequently opened the winter here I think some now of going
