Dear Sir:

Will you please tell me where Bishop Hindman is? I heard from him since I read your telegram.

Yours Truly

Thos. C. Hindman

City of Kingston, Hudson, N.Y., Dec. 18th, 1882.

Major Gen. C. C. Howard
Commanding the Dept. of the Pacific.

Dear General,

Although I had the honor of your acquaintance several years ago at Washington, D.C., I cannot hope that you remember me now. The well-known kindness of your nature, however, makes me think that you will not consider it too much of a liberty for me to address you respecting some information that I...
The problem of obtaining accurate information about Washington territory and the settlements on Puget Sound is particularly important. As these places are in your department, it is hoped that you have the necessary facilities for giving reliable information. Should you then, dear sir, be as good as to instruct one of your aids to forward me a few papers or documents which are generally published for consultation on the climate, resources, and future prospects of the settlements on Puget Sound, I would feel extremely obliged. Or, which would perhaps be as well, pass this letter into the hands of some officer who wishes to learn the above information.

I remain, dear general, very truly and cordially,

You O. O. Howard,

Mr. Howard will be present. The meeting will be in a large Central Church. Mr. Howard, Mr. Abbott & Mr. Clark will provide. We expect great good to result from this.

My dear General,

Believing that you will come free and unbiased in the inquiry with which you had been charged to do while in this Department, and being willing to do your utmost in this behalf, I therefore communicate directly with you concerning a matter of the Big Bend Indians, great interest and importance.

Let me inform you that Charlie Montecito, brother and successor of the late John Montecito, has forwarded to Washington, an application for appointment as Agent to the Big Bend; having influenced from a very strong belief to favor him by giving him and their name and, youth, age, and other qualifications and without their knowledge, or consent, his friends, and other means. Indeed, further states that the chief friends of Mr. Monticello on the same side who voted in favor of our system as against military agents, thus far agree. He claims that the latter does not want him; and the Commanding Officer has concentrated his forces tomorrow, and to arrest the same without arrest (I do not know how long enough hard to acquire such knowledge of the tribe as to justify him in committing himself on the subject). It hinges on authority. Monticello's application may be acted on before this report was made Washington.

You know, probably better than I, the sentiment of the tribes toward the former agent, John Monticello, and the influence exerted at that time by Charlie. I therefore submit the matter, as it seems to me, that you may, in your judgment, exercise, or not, your influence in the matter, at Washington.

Dear sir,

Your note has just arrived. I am sure you are mistaken. I have placed as their to us such place on my marriage in Madison Co. by the name of Jeffersonville, my town Jeffersonville to the Fayette County. Have you ever been the land? I don't think so. You have never seen the place on this matter. I have traveled for it without seeing it.

My dear Howard,

I am greatly pleased with Mr. B's sermon on Sunday. I have taken the liberty of laying it to you in a note of this date.

May God be with him in his efforts to be not only officially the chaplain of his unit, but a real pastor (or shepherd) to the very interesting flock he has in the National Guard.

With good wishes, I am very truly,

Dear General O. O. Howard,

West Point,
New York

After kindest regards, you and yours, will you permit me for asking a moment of your time?

My friend, Gen'l A. T. Stewart, has been pressed to accept my attaining the eligibility of an appointment as a Chaplain in the U.S. Army on account of the opportunity. This would be either for study and culture which it would provide, or else for a Military Chaplain on this coast. Please do not think me a chronic seeker for place. I would rather fail than be thus appreciated in your mind. But an opportunity for labor and study have been the fondest dream of my thought. If gaining admission, Knowing your great kindness of heart & from always hoping that you... would help me in this desire. I am your Recommendation, from my own Church Guild. I do not want May I ask so great a favor of you as to forward the matter to the President of the United States. General Meade has encouraged me to believe that you remember me kindly, and will write recommending that the request be granted.

I then would render the present certain.
I am anxious, My Dear Governor, that I am asking that which, perhaps, will not have gone up for others more as well. I know it represents itself to your generous kindness.

With sentiments of highest regard, I am,

I also remember meeting you at my old home in Portland, just after you had graduated, and it seemed to me that this close contact for such a short time would encourage you to excuse the liberty I take in trying you with this request. There are so many on the lookout for opportunities to get into the service in the academy that I feel justified in taking every precaution possible. I may say that my son is the Godchild of Col. Audubon who intended, had he lived, to have made it a special work to have the lad appointed by the President— but of course his death has rendered that course impracticable.

I am, with much esteem,
