PLEASE TAKE NOTICE.

1 That we are completing the Biographical Dictionary of Notable men now living in the United States, begun by C Robson, deceased, on the plan of the English work, "Men of the Time," and the French "Dictionnaires Des Contemporains."

2. That, desirous of giving our country a work superior to the Englishor French, we entreat your co-operation by sending us data for your sketch (without which the work would be incomplete), or a revised copy of the solice published in the Standback of she wall illen of The Jim adding some interesting incident, angedote, or striking event in your personal or family history.

3. Advise us if you will contribute a Steel Portrait to illustrate the work. Over sixty prominent men. have already responded favorably, and their notice are not likely to be curtailed.

This work, a superb royal svo., will be of special value to journalists in preparing accurate obituaries, and to compilers of Biographical Dictionaries fight time. No monument, however costly, will so effectively perpetuate the memory. Advance subscriptions sufficient to ensure success of work already obtained.

Z Port of Boston, Mass., NAVAL OFFICE, May 29th, 1882. My lead Secret: I have not yet fully read Leu Doubleday's book giving and account of the battle of Settysburg, but I have carefully noticed that fash of his navration which relater to the events of the morning of the firsch day of buly 1863. Of those events, lo far as I had any Connection with thew, I have a distruct remembrance, and have an feveral occasion, stated in in conting, during the years that have intervened. The Eleventhe borgh, under yard Command, moved from Emmitte burg at an early have of that day, finalbaneously with the march of the Firsh Owly from marsh Run. as the head of your Column reached a point not fas from Marsh Run, where the First Corps had encamped the night before, heavy firing legan & be heard in the direction of letty budg. Reynolds, repeat to him the progress of the Eleventhe leorfs, and ask for his nder. I did as duicted, and reaching the artskirts of the twon of settyeburg on the Churchette burg road, I found hey indications that a battle was ofering on the West side of the two in the vicinity of the Seminary, Learning that Sew Reynolds had gone to the frank, and seeing him in the distance from the Semiary, I fillind with all speed and overtook him nearly and the Extreme advance of . air twops, where the skirinisher and Anne requirents were already holly

Port of Boston, Mass., NAVAL OFFICE, May 22°, 1882. Ar General : My belay in replying to yard letter of the gt int acode as follows . Some lix speak ago I had seeasing to write a letter to a distiguished n.M. officer on the same subject the battle of Gettysbarg. I then that I preserved a copy of that letter, and that it is would for obably show a fuller & foresher recollection of wents than my memory would now for mich me. I therefore thought I would find it and make it the bade's of my answer to you ! but a looking frich I had to milaid it that though

I turned my have afido down in search leaves of your article, for fature reference in of it it was all of no avail. I runnaged connection there with I found there also a letter among my books & paper might after night from you when you were at Portland, begin after a returned from Bostow, Ont finially gave and I think I lead you a copy of the up in Scepair and tat down and drawing letter to the h.H. officer in cepty. The fact in I upon my memory alere, wrote you the letter had Keph hos copies of the ablantic, and had used me, and carefully tied if and put away the which el enclose, in such shape as, perhaps, other with the milling paper, and a copy of (if you find nothing objection able is it) fits The Jalary cutaining Sentancocki article. it for your use. after writing this letter, I mention the meident partly to the you setting in my library very late Taturday night I happened to take up a copy of the that I am growing old and for get ful about Ime things, but mainly to show by and by. Allauter Monthly of Sure 18,6 which Conthat my account new from unaided menory Famed your settysburg article, and and dropped the paper I had been learching for to long corresponde to the account of gave thew : for Inony the day - I will have me of my which at had carefully put away between the

as given in your Atlantic asticle. In these admit to having rea other mereager die'cd from Reguelds that morning, besides the one of brought Am, My unfrección have always been otherwise - I had an idea that you are no a det franchin except that sent through me. One of the message you refer to was probably the one from ane of Kufnd' shaff, referred to by Haucock - and you may have rec' me from a shaff officer of Reynolds while I was gone, which I should permally have know nothing about. But you dee the difficulty into which this admission places you. Rosengarten days he thinks, "is guide positions", "thinks he can be michaken "te, that he heard leaky. nold give me the order for you to occupy Demetery

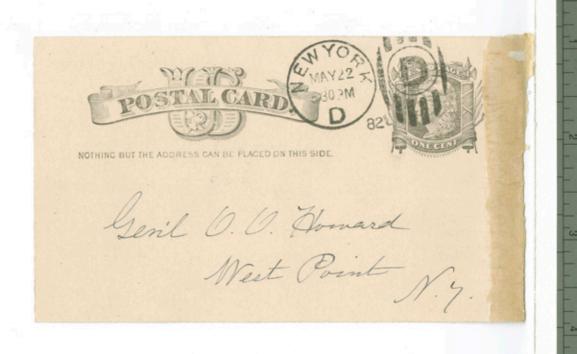

Hill -: hely when I fourticely dany that they then fall back upon a release statement, that if not begine it might have been by Some other officer that that ades was conveyed by you. Now my recollection is that you rea no atten order whatever except the one I bre, and if that be to them it is absolutely certain that Reynolds gave as buch order at all : But yours statement that other were ree ques them a chance to day that you ree that order through have alter. On that account - for fear of its being pointed only that your account and mine differ - I could at make the very lack lentence in the Enclosed letter to strong as & ranted to, by having it read as follows, "that I alme conveyed orders, from him by an , on that day ". At I have written it, it is thrickly true, is enturely defensible, and not incentistent with your fullished statement. But Ishald have liked it better, if the truth had been, and if your chatement had been a andonce with the infreccing I denow fronthe events of the day - which wald have excluded the possibility of them exclusions being tone, and cal of Europhilday, Eur Hancock, bol Rosengarten, Mr Bates and all that crow of maliquers from those recourses of minefrelentation which they Know so well have to draw upon .
