Dear Mr. Dodd,

I am writing to express my concerns regarding the recent developments in our town. The city council's decision to extend the construction of the new stadium has caused a great deal of controversy and dissension among the residents.

It is my understanding that the primary motivation behind this decision is the potential economic benefits it would bring. However, I believe that the impact on the environment and the community's well-being should also be taken into consideration.

Many of our residents have expressed concerns about the noise levels and the disruption caused by the ongoing construction. Additionally, there are concerns about the allocation of funds and whether this project is the best use of our resources.

I urge the council to reconsider this decision and to prioritize the needs and desires of the community. A thorough review of the project's potential environmental and social impacts would be beneficial in making an informed decision.

Sincerely,

Dear General:

The next meeting of St. Michael's Trustees is in December. The Executive Committee have the power ad interim to transact any business which the Trustees can do, but it will probably be as well to wait until December.

The A. T. G. has at last advertised the proposed condemnation of reservoir property, to which I have given as required an estimate of the value of your lot at $15,000. That I believe is about the rate at which others have estimated. Of course the Govt will not pay that sum.
We have paid Mr. Leman's semi-annual interest and with a good deal of exertion obtained a deduction of interest to six per cent for the future. We have a hopeful negociation going on for a sale of your Meridian Hill lots for $1500 - and also a nibble for the store.

General O.O. Howard,

My dear Sir,

I take the liberty to address you on a subject to which I feel sure you will respond kindly and therefore offer no apology. I have been intimately acquainted for the last three or four months with Mrs. Sarah Minnecula Hopkins to whom you have been a kind friend, & my regard indeed is so strong for her as I think that I do not hesitate to ask you to defend her from a vile slander attack by Dr. Bland published in the "Council Fires" of last evening of which I send you. Her husband wrote to Dr. Bland & requested his authority, and he invited him to that it was Wickenhaft, that wicked agent who is grievously mingled the Rutes, and was the means of depriving them of their Reservation by his misrepresentations to the Government. Secretary I البحر wrote and to Senator Hearst that the Reservation was thrown open to settlement because the Winters would not stay upon it, while the truth was, according to Mr. Hopkins, that he drove them from it by starving them. I believe reluctantly in every word that she says, and mistrusts you from what you have written of her. She also said of her Board that they went to San Francisco to leper the iniquities of this man and he had avenged himself by filing an affidavit in the Department against her reputation. This no more than one might expect from such a man, but it is injurious to her because not contradicted specifically by some one who has had a good opportunity of knowing her. I have been obeying the book she has written and think it a good answer to the slander, but many people have been so prejudiced by it that they will not even read the book and others will have no opportunity. A contradiction in the newspapers is the best way of reaching the public. I wrote to Dr. Kellogg and told him I should keep a copy of that letter and if he did not print it in the "Council Taxe" I should print it in some Boston paper, so he concluded to print it but accompanied it with a letter another shock at her. The Editor of the Boston Evening Transcript has taken much interest in her and published many things in her favor, and minds her. Questionably be glad to publish anything from you upon that subject. The book is destined to do a good work, if her reputation can be defended. I think her one of the purest noblest women I have ever known. She is now visiting my sister, Mrs. Elizabeth C. \nRoby, and has been in\ntitied to speak before me\nless than four large au\ndiences - in N. Y., Philadel\nphia, Longhorne & Jay \nBrook. But this repeats Hand\nder very much in the way \nand I fear it may interfere \nwith the plain friend's last \nSpring to furnish her with \nopportunities to speak. He \nis so eloquent that she \ncarries all before her when \nshe does speak.

Can you, dear Sir, do some \nthing to help? I hope you will \nfeel most to express your \nopinion publicly to St. Paul \nupon this Momentous Subject.

The book is new in the man \nand there is no book like it in \nFreeman literature. It is \nthe voice of an Indian from \nthe inner life of the Lake, \nWith great respect & admiration, \nMary Mann.

Washington, D.C., September 6, 1883

My dear Sir,

A careful examination of the records shows that you have been paid for four of the horses you lost, namely:

1. For two horses & equipments lost at Fair Oaks, Va., June 1, 1862, $360.00.

2. For one chestnut brown horse, which died in consequence of wounds received at Brooks Station, Va., June 6, 1863, $150.00.

3. For one black horse, which was abandoned in consequence of wounds received in battle at Beaufort, S.C., January 13, 1865, $150.00.

If I understand your letter correctly, there would, therefore, still be due you pay for the following horses:

1. For the horse ridden at Fair Oaks by your brother;

2. For the horse shot at Atlanta, Ga., which...
died afterwards near Savannah,

3. For the horse sworn out in the Chattanooga
& Atlanta Campaign, which died about the time you reached Washington.

4. For the horse which fell over backwards with you at Savannah, Ga.

The claim for the horse which you bought of Capt. Dessauver, is a bad one; I have not the slightest hope of succeeding in it & therefore do not mention it as a fifth claim you have.

Will you kindly advise me if I am correct in stating that you still have the four claims I mention? I fear I am not, as I suppose the first or second of the claims I mention, is identical with your paid claim for the horse lost in consequence of wounds received at Brooks Station, Va. - You don't mention this horse at all in your letter, as I read it.

Upon receipt of your reply, I will at once prepare & send you applications.

Please answer at your earliest convenience
sir,

Yours very truly,

Allan Reister
