Franklin has a high rank among the flourishing towns on the Republican River. Around it is some of the most charming scenery in the state. High rolling prairies, the river, the clear streams belted with timber, and groves nestling in valleys, give variety to the landscape.

The town is on the great thoroughfare between Kansas City and Denver. To the west, two important roads branch southwest into the richest portions of Kansas, making easy access to a large territory, giving to Franklin facilities for a good jobbing point.

In the place of a saloon, we have five comfortable churches well patronized. The chief attraction of the place is the

FRANKLIN ACADEMY.

This institution is under the care of energetic and highly educated teachers, great attention is given to penmanship, and a thorough business education, and this department has as accomplished teacher as can be found in the west. There is a company of cadets among the students, and they have an efficient instructor. It is proposed to have a thoroughly equipped of tents, arms, and camp equipments with an occasional outing among the grand mountain scenery of the west.

Much attention is given to rhetoric and elocution, and expert teachers in these departments have been secured.

This institution has made a splendid record in the students sent out, and among the Alumni, are those who are making their mark as speakers and writers.

MUSIC.

Arrangements are now made for a Conservatory of Music under a competent management to give instruction in band, vocal and instrumental music. The institution has three good buildings, among them the Ladies' Hall which is 60x60 and four stories high. Students for any of the departments will find comfortable and well furnished rooms.

While our facilities will rank among the best the terms of instruction will be reasonable and board only $1.50 per week, making this one of the best and cheapest places for young people to secure an education.

Franklin has two banks on a solid basis, doing a good business. It is claimed for the First National Bank that its stockholders are worth over a million of dollars.

We have fine water power for manufacturing, and already two good flouring mills, one with a complete roller system.

WANTED.

More families with children to be educated. We want a paper mill, starch and canning factories and a foundry, we want also to make this a center for fine stock. Abundant pastures and pure water give unusual facilities for this industry.

NURSERIES.

Already two nurseries are established which do quite a wholesale and retail business. The Academy nursery gives employment to students at the same time teaching them practical horticulture.

This nursery has a large collection of shade and ornamental trees gathered from different parts of the world.

Large attention is given in the vicinity to seed raising and this industry can be increased a hundred fold.

Our healthful climate, fine scenery, educational advantages, good society, the enterprise and the people, facilities, and bright prospects for the future present attractive inducements for people to cast in their lot with us.

Dear father

I delayed writing you about my thought of resigning until I knew more definitely what business offer I should receive, just having mentioned the matter incidentally in a general way for you both in my letter to Mother. Mr. Woolworth was asked to become one of the managers ^{or directors} of a loan company to be organized in Omaha by the men connected with the 1st National Bank.
He proposed that I go into it provided a sufficiently good offer was made me.
The organization of this company has however been delayed until the 1st National Bank Building is completed which as is usually the case with buildings is behind time.
I do not think anything will be done till fall the block which Mr. Woolworth has been building on Jeanie's lots on Howard Street will be finished this spring and that must be well rented at least in great part & make Jeanie & the children pretty sure of a good income before I resign. Now however I have given up resigning at present & had word from Mr. Woolworth about getting me ordered to your staff again. Did you understand from their answer to your last application that the new regulation was intended to mean that I was never in my life time to serve as an Aide again?

Jeanie will not go to San F. quite so early as we expected, for it would not be advisable for her to go at all if Aunt Terry is to retire and you should come to Chicago. Unless this becomes certain however she will leave

Albany for the Pacific by the last of May. Personally I like Fort Bennett very much and am enjoying my station here far better than I could have had the least reason to expect.
The children are wonderfully well & strong and most of our weather is bright and sunny & during the winter we have had very little wind. This is now near enough walking to get about on his hands & feet, which he prefers to crawling, and climbs up by chairs or chests. He has only tried to walk alone once, when Helen had something in her hand he desired & he started from his chair for her, but soon came to grief. Our crossing of the river is still perfectly good so we are very neighborly with Fort Sully and drive back and forward frequently. This however will not

My dear Father;

In as much as I was called to New York City twice within three weeks, to arrange for my beginning work with the Barber Co.

I was delayed a little in my study here. Therefore last week I did nothing, hardly, except complete all extra & regular study. I now stand perfectly in full standing. I have finished my designs & drawings for stone structures & they were passed & accepted on Friday. The advance course in Stone Cutting Theory closed the same day. I fortunately have not failed in it at any time. I have the preface to my thesis finished, also the Explanatory Introduction, and the Historical portion. I shall begin the portion concerning Asphaltum in pavements this week. The review & examination in Stone Cutting & the writing up a 20-pg report on 19 Physical experiments will keep me busy for the week - I shall try to do it so that I can take up the next weeks work on Steam etc. The Thames will however keep me busy for two months more at all spare moments.

So much for my studies. In regard to my position with the Barber Co. I have fixed the date for commencing, July 10, next (a Tuesday morning). I presume that I can leave here on June 15, if go to Andover. I cannot yet write of definite plans, because Adell & I have not made them. I will however, write another very soon regard to our plans from June 15 to July 10. I shall estimate what I will need at the end of March or the first of April very soon & write you.
I am glad I am approaching the end of this long severe day - study. I like study & its results.
I will be glad when I can have evenings without constant study.

Wed., March 14, 1888.

My dear Father:

Last Sunday evening it began to snow here & did not cease until Wed. (this morning) Such a fall of snow has not taken place here for some 50 years. Today the streets are being opened where necessary. The snow is deeper than ever was heard in the street. There has been no train to or from the city for almost three days. Even the telegraph lines are down. All business (except a little for food) is closed. To-day the sun shines & we expect a rapid thaw & much water - a flood in the river. It takes a good deal of snow to close almost all the traffic of business in N.E. & N.Y. State - but it has been done.

Some of our recitations were omitted because the professors & some students could not go to the Institute. But with careful wrapping up & wading & floundering we went to our meals & used the remainder of the time to accomplish.

much study. Thus to students the weather 2 gave an opportunity to study & get ahead a little.
Last recitations are not made up here in waitabris but we go on with the next lessons etc.

I think that the letter which I wrote to you of one to another, on Monday may have escaped the Eastern snow blockade. I asked mother to tell me if she could be East with Adelleid & me from June 12 to July 12 - not to make definite plans - but to see if there is any possibility of her being able to do so. Perhaps the expense would not be too great - It would be so nice in after life for Adelleid to have had some member of my or her family present - for, poor girl, she feels like a gypsy & it is a great disappointment to be married away from home. We have not yet decided whether we shall be married next June or wait until I can go to Germany next winter.
I think it wiser, altho' not so pleasant perhaps, to be married next June - There is no practical reason for delay - I am in no hurry; but wish to act for the best. Unnecessary delays do us good.
May do harm. I send you an estimate for my 2 expenses for March. I think you ³ have had to pay some extra expenses lately & I hesitate to write just now. But as I approach the end of my study I desire to have all expenses paid.

I can give no time to earning much money now. There are not quite three months more & I will have finished here. Can you spare me to pay all my necessary expenses until April 1st $75.? I had to go to N.Y. City a second time to meet Mr. Barber & conclude all final arrangements for my position to begin July 10 at Buffalo.

This is for Room, Board, Expense to & from N.Y. City. Pair of pants $4. Books pamphlets &c from Europe on Asplactum, Engineering Society dues, Paper stamps &c, hair cutting, Washing, extra little expenses & some money to visit Adelsheid who will be in Albany for a few days soon. The fare to & from Albany is 25 cent. Please send it as soon as you can conveniently do so. I can work on meanwhile. I don't & I keep our money matters en-truly separate. I think he is quite careful in his expenditures - very careful on the whole. I think it is wiser that we do not know how much (each the other) needs or uses.

In other matters we have every thing in common. We get along nicely.
I let him, certainly, do just as he desires, even get up late if he sleeps over or be late to recitation.
Such things he can most effectively correct alone from experience.
It does not happen often. He does well in his studies & is learning to concentrate on the one work before him.
I hope he will be able to go to bed earlier - my late hours study-material tend to keep him up. I therefore try to retire as soon as possible. We are both well. With love from Jamez

Dear Sir and Brother:

I have seen Mr. McCoy in regard to Y. M. C. A. work in Stockton, and if you will accompany him he will attend the mass-meeting which is to be held either Sunday evening March 25th or Apr 1st. March 25th will be the more convenient for him and for us. I have seen all the ministers of the city and find they are all very much in favor of the mass-meeting and will give up their evening services and help it in every way they can. Having secured the co-operation of all the churches I thought I would get the business men interested and so I have secured the signatures of nearly all the most prominent business^{men} of Stockton, saying that they are in favor of the work and will attend the mass-meeting unless some important engagements call them away. Everything has been planned to insure success and as this is a case of emergency, I beg you not to disappoint us.

We are very much encouraged with our prospects and pray that we shall succeed grandly.
If you will try to arrange for this once will bless you abundantly. Please answer as soon as you can and say "Yes, I will come".

Dear Sir and Bro.

You may remember a little episode which occurred at Howard St. M. E. Church something more than a year ago, on the occasion of the evening exercises on "Children's Day." It may have been pleasant to you, or otherwise, thus to meet in public, and for the first time after the lapse of so many years, one who, during all those years has cherished a fond remembrance of the christian General who so kindly spoke to, and prayed with him when lying in his blood after the fearful strife at Fredericksburg. To me it was the most pleasing event of my visit to this coast. I did not suppose at the time, that I should so soon, if ever, be thus near you again, or have reason to venture upon your busy life, and valuable time with a communication. You will see by this letter head that I am now at Los Angeles, brought here by the strange providence that presides over that system of pulpit supply peculiar to Methodism. I am happy in my work, and pleased to be located on this delightful coast.

That I weary you not, I will at once state the object I have in view in writing you.

Though the war is over, and my comrades long since disbanded and returned to peaceful pursuits, the soldier spirit is still alive in my breast. I have long felt a desire to be so situated as that the the means of leading my comrades to a glorious issue. I should be happy if I might be remainder of my life might be brought in immediate contact with the survivors of that grand army of brave men who fought the battles of the rebellion, a glorious issue. I should be happy if I might be the means of leading my comrades to hearty espousal of the cause of our blessed Master, and be permitted to stand by them when they endure the final struggle with the King of Terrors.

Now that we are to have a "Soldier's Home" on this coast, I find my heart longing for some official relation thereto. I notice in a recent news item that the Chaplaincy has not yet been filled. I feel that I ought to follow out the promptings of my heart by applying for the position. I am ignorant of the necessary steps to be taken in doing so, and write you for such information as may be necessary to direct me in the matter.

Would it be too much to hope that, after due inquiry as to my fitness for the position, you will aid me by such commendation as your conscience and judgment may suggest?

I do not seek this work from mercenary motives, for, if salary were the object I had better remain in my present relations to the Master's cause. I am now, and have been for some years receiving a salary much larger than the government pays the Chaplains of these Homes, and the future promises a steady advancement for some time to come; but I do so long to hold this spiritual relation to the helpless and dependant old veterans that all other considerations are entirely lost sight of.

Pardon me; my letter is longer than you will care to read.

Very truly Yours,

D. C. Warner.
