Sir:

For some time past Dr Gamble has had in his employ an old man who was a soldier in the Union army from the beginning to the end of the War. By some accident the old man has lost his discharge and he does not know to whom application ought to be made for a duplicate. If you would be so good as to furnish this information or mention some one from whom it could be obtained you would render this broken down veteran a great service

Dear General.

Among certain press notices I find it necessary to send in the country, I think it best to include one or two of a personal nature. Will general Howard kindly say (in about 20 or 40 words) as much in favor of Fred Emerson Brooks as to his power over an audience - humor, pathos imitations &c in diction - then as to giving an audience something new & original.

This to be printed over your name

Yours Sincerely

L.S.G. to General Howard,
General.

I wish to call your attention to my Patent "improvement in repeating fire arms" in last month's Gazette, serial number 223,255, it applies to pistols, rifles, and shot guns; its advantages are; simplicity of construction and in handling, keeps the center of gravity of the Gun in the same place as the Magazine empties, is not dangerous of exploding; magazines are carried separately are adjusted and taken off in a second, empty shells fall out all alone and it does away with the big lever and pumping of the Winchester system, its complications, disadvantages and dangers,

My arm is kept in aim all the time while shooting, like a self-cocking pistol and works nearly as fast, it is worked by $\frac{1}{8}$ turn of a small lever and trigger, Magazines are tin boxes, cartridges lay one on the other 8 in numbers and are pressed up by a spring, the lock is simple, the chamber air tight and well secured.

The Principle of loading and magazine can be adjusted to the Winchester system if desired, keeping their lever & sighting piece. The arm, either pistol, rifle, or shot Gun, with a single magazine shoots 12-13 shots and by doubling magazine in width 20-21 shots are obtained (as before stated without taking the arm out of aim.)

My dear General

Referring to our conversation of the 6th of this month I herewith transmit a formal invitation on behalf of the Emanuel Association to honor them with your presence on the second Tuesday in April at 8 P.M. in the vestry room of Temple Emanuel.

The Emanuel Association, founded by my self, is composed of some three hundred young men and women of the Jewish denomination. Its objects are to stimulate religious interests and awaken literary tastes. I know that in both these objects my association has your cordial cooperation and sympathy, and I trust that we may expect you on the evening mentioned to address us on a subject of your own selection. If I might be permitted to offer a suggestion I would say that any subject connected with American history or else with the conditions of the ancients, upon which latter subject you have so admirably lectured before, would be highly appreciated.
On our part we can promise you a hearty and fraternal welcome, tendered to the Christian gentleman and the valiant soldier. Awaiting an early reply and offering you my respectful regards and esteem, believe me,

General,

Very sincerely yours

Jacob Voorsanger

My dear Father:

You will have read the letter to mother. I send this one to you because Adelheid desires to know how you feel about her marrying away from home.

I am sure you feel that it is our wisest plan & perhaps duty to be married as soon as convenient next June, now that I am about to begin my business career - of which she will be more a part, if we start married. A note to her from you would help her in her determination to do that which is best.

I know her mother & sisters & surely the Grandmother will be perfectly willing to forego the pleasure of seeing us married that we may succeed better in life. I am to positively begin work July 10 of nothing, but God can change that. Therefore I had best marry first - after July 10 I am out my master to decide upon long absences - for my position is one of responsibility - Assistant Superintendent. Can you not write a letter to well head, who looks upon you as a father. Also a letter to her Grandmother or mother saying that the marriage can be arranged here in America, nicely, properly, pleasantly & wisely. I have already written to her mother & the others, in detail, of our plans with love & trust for you to

Trusting

that you will pardon my presumption in addressing you briefly, I hereby submit a statement of facts connected with my unfortunate position of which respectfully I have to solicit your merciful consideration and your recommendation to Executive clemency in my behalf. I was sentenced in July 1886 to ten years imprisonment having been tried by a General Court Martial on charges of theft and desertion at Alcatraz Island. I realize at this time the enormity of my offenses, of which I am guilty, and I protest that I am sincerely penitent for them. yet I respectfully submit for your better judgment in asking your intercession whether my term of imprisonment is not excessive in view of the following easily authenticated facts. This had been my first conviction and offense for the acts required but one impulse. The officers at the time of trial all certified to my previous good character and attention to duty. I had entered the service in perfect good faith to do my duty and legitimately better my condition in life and my offense had been unpremeditated to the moment of falling. My offense, I realize, is cowardly and criminal and I deplore it with inexpressible contrition, being unable to deny its truth. But as God is my Judge ^{my} repentance is true and if my freedom be granted my lifelong study shall be to prove myself repentant, and to outlive my misfortune. You I am aware, Sir, are not the Executive but a recommendation from yourself would be I feel equivalent to being pardoned wherefore I humbly solicit your intercession in my behalf. I have no friends to appeal to. Those who were my friends once are not now

Please do me the favor to peruse the accompanying observations on whiskey drinking to and forward to the person addressed, as I shall be obliged to defer writing a fortnight unless I should obtain special permission, and I shall be deeply grateful

My Dear Friend

Before I felt as well as I do today I thought I would have to let my letter to you wait yet a longer time, but I grow stronger in this pleasant-home with dear friends and I am trying to be good to myself and have a treat in writing to good and neglected friends. I saw the letter written by you to Mr. B. B. and I was annoyed that he wrote you so as to call out such a reply. but I had no knowledge of it, and do not yet know what he asked you for.

He is a good fellow and I think much of him, but he is young and apt to make mistakes as young men do. I hope you will keep him your friend for he deserves it and he has facilities which you might sometimes wish to avail yourself of. The Book Syndicate is an excellent medium for both are honest and good young men.

Do you stay in San Francisco this summer? I have hoped the army changes would promote you and bring you to Governor's Islands.

George regrets his leaving San Francisco and wishes he could go back again. I have tried to make him like Brooklyn but his wish is to go west again & I have thought that if he had the same plan had offered him or one as good I would go to the Atlan tic coast for the summer with with him. His happiness is my first concern & his prosperity my first duty. Business life in New York is too confining & the heat & roar of noise and commotion very disagreeable to his slight frame. His indifference has made me decide to leave Brooklyn as a home, if he can be established elsewhere, & I would be glad - if you see the way to give him a clerkship as good as the one he

I had that you would write for me. I could get him into the Army now through influence I can have, if he could stand the physical examination but he cannot: his sight is imperfect.

I have your servant Sam, who cooked for you at one time. He came to New York and I was looking for a cook and found him. He has been with me some time and we like him very well though I find him lazy sometimes.

I met Gen. Donbliday recently and was
w. of one of his of my friends to try to get his book of reminiscences published. But I declined, saying that I thought he had been so cruelly unjust to you that I would not like to read or have of his read his book.
He seems a very pleasant man, but lacking in his affectional nature.
Write me - tell me how Mrs are. How are you? I hope all are well. I send you all my true love. Sincerely,

Mar. 24th 1888

Dear friend,

You owe me a letter - had you forgot?

My excuse for this is a message for Harry. The butcher who serves his ship of provisions and, informs me that the "young gentleman's dog" has bitten some children & "What shall he do with him?"

I told him I understood that Harry did not want the dog at all, but the gentleman of the shop insisted he was to keep it - for him & that Harry said he might send for it.

I should like to have Harry send definite word about it - so that if he does care for the dog, which is undoubtedly a fine one, though average, we can dispose of it some way to save it - for him. If on the other hand he does not want it - I may settle that fact in the mind of the server of chops.

Do you know I dreamed about you the other night, and as usual in the flesh, you were busy in the dream, doing good, and I can not begin to tell you all you accomplished in the few moments - my dream held you. If you could work good's part - in real life I am sure you would feel happy -

I have been thinking that I was very egotistical about my attus - No one would have the petience to read them anyway and if they did just because they are stupid & I a nobody would not matter - they would not try twice to find fault among my claff - I think I must be pauily - & not modesty as I supposed that prompted me to suppl - destroying my effusions.

Certainly they are not worth considering at all, except - that they serve to carry to you my

Dear Sir:-

I have duly read your favor of the 6th inst with the 4 articles, and must congratulate you upon the defense articles. In fact I think the articles too good to be published ~~in~~ first in the newspapers and will with your permission publish ^{them together} ~~it~~ as an illustrated article in the American Magazine of which I am the Editor.
Each newspaper will without doubt eagerly copy it afterwards on their own account. Enclosed you will please find our check for $50 in payment.
I also am very much

Pleased with your second Nihilism article and will willingly use it if you will allow me to use it without the first article on the same subject.
The first I am afraid would serve as failure among the newspapers. While nicely written it lacks the interest of the second.

Kindly let me know how you stand on the matter.

Have you seen in any of the Registers any illustrations that would help our artists illustrate your Defense article. For instance a picture of the ship "Benbow" or of some of the large foreign ships Yours most truly
Chas. Brown
