Dear Gene WASHINGTON, D. C., July 5, 1889

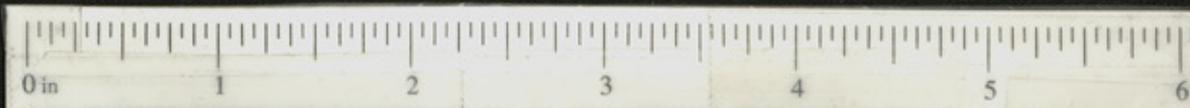

I felt that I must have simply worn you out. In reply to your very kind note of the 3^d would say - that the very unimpudent attempt of some of Dr Rankin's friends on the 17th June to force the Trustees of Howard University, ^{to an election,} very properly failed. There were 15 present - of these 9 were counted for Dr R. But the others asked, "why was this matter pushed so hard & earnestly? we have a committee on nominating"

-tion & the field is wide, & the question a very important one - let us move slowly and with care "

It seems to me that was wise counsel - and so, after a meeting of about an hour's length,
 an adjournment was had to wait the call of said
 nominating Com.

This is composed of good men = Gallandah, John
 Cook, Frank Smith, Strieby
 Patton and Pomeroy - all but Dr Patton and Frank Smith will act wisely - Dr. Patton is so greatly interested in his opposition to Dr. Rankin that I do not think he can be fair - and Frank Smith would

 of course vote for Dr. R.
 who is his brother in law.

But this action on part of the Trustees has filled the hearts of all opposed to Dr. R. with joy & gladness - as J. B.
 Johnson is reported to have said with emphasis
 "it killed Dr. R's chance"
 I am told that Mrs

I have been thinking of you very much lately and wondering how you are getting on. I hope you are well and happy.
 I have been very busy lately
 but I will write to you soon.
 Give my love to all the family.
 I am, my dear friend,
 ever your affectionate friend,
 J. K.

Douglas has set his heart on Dr. R's election and that Cook and Grint and Bishop Brown, are as earnest the same way.
The sole opposition, so far as I know, to Dr. R.
comes from those who don't like his orthodoxy

If he were a scientific Christian - or a universalist, pure & simple,
his present opponents
would go in for him heart & hand. But Dr. Patton ^{now} seems, in past few years to feel it his duty to turn the hearts of all men to "New Departure" - hence

 his very unhealthy in-fluence on the First Church - Hence the settle-ment of Townsend as its pastor - hence his displays at the meeting of the Am. Board - hence his sermons in First Church on that theme - and his articles in the New Englander

Now it seems to me
 we want a big man
 here who can conciliate
 all parties - get the Union
 visible - on a broad base

- dation - be felt here
 in this community
 on all moral & religious questions as being on the right side & stand in earnest too. I doubt for one instant suppose that Dr. R. would come here as any man's man.
 He is too large for any thing of the kind. He is fully posted on all
 the matters at issue,
 is wise, strong and true.

If you will add your influence to Mr Douglas'
 in favor of Dr R
 there can be, I think, no question of the result Sincerely
 L. Deane

I

That Dr. Patton is a very strong man no
one can doubt - an able preacher, a good scholar
a man of kind heart,
but somehow he is determined always to rule.
And his new departure is his Gospel - It is said that he has conversed with Whittier and Ballou as well as J. B.
Johnson - but the two former men are well
pronounced in their expressions - Your remark about J. B. Johnson's friendship for Dr. Rankin was meant for a joke - was it
not? L.D.

My dear Sir:

Many thanks for your kind letter of 3^d inst., and the information it contains.

If not trespassing too much upon your kindness, I should like very much to have a copy of your report of the Uzi Puci campaign, if you have any extra printed copies, as it is one of the few official documents pertaining to my army life that has been lost.

I am, Sir,

Gen. O. O. Howard.

Dear Sir:

I send you herewith a preliminary announcement of a very important feature in journalism. A number of widely separated newspapers in different parts of the world will publish simultaneously once a week during the coming year, a department of high class general reading especially adapted for youth, and edited by Frances Hodgson Burnett. This collection of matter will be published in newspapers with an aggregate circulation of over two million, and will thus reach by far the largest number of readers that can be secured by any possible means.

Through the active cooperation of Mr. Edmund Gosse in London, Mrs. Burnett has secured a number of the most famous English authors. She is now in London herself and expects to add to this list.

I write to you hoping to interest you in this matter, and to secure, if possible, from you a promise of contributions for this department.

Very truly yours,

S. S. McClure,

July, 1889.

Mrs. FRANCES HODGSON BURNETT

HAS BEEN ENGAGED TO EDIT A

YOUTHS' DEPARTMENT,

For a Combination of Leading Newspapers in the United States, England and Australia.

AMONG THE SUBSCRIBING NEWSPAPERS ARE

THE BOSTON GLOBE,
THE PHILADELPHIA TIMES,

THE NEW YORK WORLD,
THE CHICAGO INTER-OCEAN.

PRELIMINARY LIST OF CONTRIBUTORS.

ALFRED, LORD TENNYSON,

THE Poet Laureate, the most illustrious of living men of letters, will contribute a lyrical poem of great beauty, written expressly for the first issue of Mrs. Burnett's Youths' Department.

GENERAL LORD WOLSELEY

HAS consented to write on themes of personal adventure connected with the campaigns in which he has taken part. The scene of his first adventure will be laid in Africa.

BRET HARTE,

THE brilliant novelist and story-teller writes the first serial for the Youths' Department. This story, "A Waif of the Plains," describes the adventures of two children crossing the plains in early times. It is a strong and beautiful story.

THE MOST BRILLIANT AND FAMOUS NOVELISTS AND STORY-TELLERS WILL CONTRIBUTE FICTION
DURING THE YEAR, AND THERE MAY BE EXPECTED SERIAL STORIES BY

MARGARET DELAND,

AUTHOR of "John Ward, Preacher," perhaps the most successful American novel of the year. Mrs. Deland has a rare charm in dealing with young people. Her venture into juvenile literature will show that she is equally at home in interesting young and old.

ELIZABETH STUART PHELPS,

ONE of the most brilliant of American authors. Miss Phelps' stories are full of dramatic power, broad human sympathy and a fresh, stimulating spirit. She puts so much vitality, so much moral force and truly depicted human nature into her stories, that this new serial, dealing with life in an American college, cannot help being a most brilliant newspaper feature.

AMELIE RIVES.

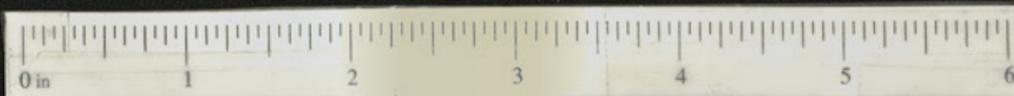

IN this new story, dealing as she does with child workers in America, and aided as she is by Prof. R. T. Ely, of John Hopkins' University, Miss Rives cannot help but produce a work of more than ordinary interest. Miss Rives writes with great intensity, and it is believed that this story will arouse the keenest interest among all classes of readers.

CAPTAIN CHARLES KING.

CAPTAIN KING has long been acknowledged as the most successful writer of army stories. In this new story he deals with a boy's adventures in one of the Indian wars in the West. It will be a wholesome tale of stirring adventure. It will be true to life, the author having been for many years a cavalry officer on the frontier.

FRANCES HODGSON BURNETT.

MRS. BURNETT has in preparation a novelette which will appear serially in this department as soon as it is ready. There are few living writers who command such a following among readers, both young and old, as does Mrs. Burnett

COMPLETE SHORT STORIES

will be a regular feature, one being published each week. They will be written by the most popular living authors. A special feature will be a series of stories in which each author will incorporate his idea of "THE IDEAL BOY" or "THE IDEAL GIRL."

THE IDEAL BOY

will be treated in fiction by EDWARD EVERETT HALE and ELLEN OLNEY KIRKE, author of the story of "MARGARET KENT," and by other famous authors.

THE IDEAL GIRL

will be treated by HARRIET PRESCOTT SPOFFORD, SARAH ORNE JEWETT and others.

Other writers of fiction, including H. H. BOYESEN, CLARK RUSSELL, MAURICE THOMPSON, SIDNEY LUSKA, JOEL CHANDLER HARRIS, and many other distinguished novelists will contribute short stories.

Among special contributors may be mentioned

ADMIRAL PORTER. Two papers. 1. Hints to American Boys. 2. Sketch of the Brilliant Naval Hero, John Paul Jones.

J. T. TROWBRIDGE. Letters for Young People from Europe.

Mr. Trowbridge has long been known as one of the most brilliant writers for such publications as St. Nicholas and the Youths' Companion. He is now in Europe, traveling with his family and expects to remain there for some years. He will write an occasional letter, telling what seems to be to him of interest to the youth of the United States.

SIR ROBERT BALL. Astronomy for Young People.

Sir Robert Ball, astronomer royal for Ireland, and lecturer for young people before the Royal Institution of Great Britain, is regarded as one of the most brilliant and interesting writers on astronomical questions. He will contribute during the year occasional papers on the most interesting questions connected with this subject.

ANDREW LANG. Reading for Boys and Girls, and other Topics.

Mr. Lang is one of the most brilliant writers on literary questions. His short articles cannot fail to arouse general interest.

HAMO THORNYCROFT, R.A. How a Statue is Made.

Mr. Thornycroft is probably the most distinguished living English sculptor.

HUBERT HERKOMER, A.R.A. How a Portrait is Painted.

C. VILLIERS STANFORD. The Place of Music in National Education. The Choice of an Instrument.

Prof. Stanford is perhaps the most eminent English musical composer. He is professor at the University of Cambridge.

MAX MULLER. On Subjects Connected with his Specialty.

HELEN GLADSTONE. The History and Aims of Newnham College.

Miss Gladstone, daughter of the Rt. Hon. W. E. Gladstone, is the president of Newnham College, and has been identified with the education of women for a number of years. Although often importuned to write, she has steadily refused, and has finally consented to write her first papers for Mrs. Burnett's Youths' Department.

JOHN NEWPORT LANGLEY, F. R. S. Experiments in Mesmerizing Animals.

DR. WILLIAM HUGGINS. The Use of the Spectroscope in Astronomical Discovery.

Dr. Huggins is the first living authority on spectroscopy, and has some very interesting things to tell

EDMUND GOSSE. Tennyson's Early Home in Lincolnshire.

Prof. E. R. LANKASTER. How to Keep an Aquarium.

Hon. E. J. PHELPS. On the Law as a Profession for Young Men.

Mrs. L. HUXLEY. Humors of a Hen House.

Mrs. Huxley, sister of Mrs. Humphrey Ward, and daughter-in-law of the famous scientist, relates in this short paper her experience in keeping hens. It is a very charming and interesting article.

Col. A. K. McCLURE. Personal Anecdotes of Lincoln.

Col. McClure, the well-known editor of the Philadelphia Times, will tell in two or three papers some extremely interesting recollections of Lincoln and other public men of that period.

JAMES PARTON, Gen. A. W. GREELY, Gen. O. O. HOWARD, OCTAVE THANET, Prof. N. S. SHALER, Dr. LYMAN ABBOTT, S. G. W. BENJAMIN, Dr. W. A. HAMMOND, DANIEL C. BEARD, GEORGE PARSONS LATHROP, C. A. YOUNG, R. H. THURSTON, E. S. HOLDEN, and many other distinguished writers have engaged to contribute. The department will thus contain the choicest serial fiction, tales of adventure, helpful articles, sketches of travel and exploration, contributed by the most distinguished authors, scientists and travelers, and written especially to meet the wants of young people.

FACTS OF INTEREST TO EDITORS.

1. The Youths' Department begins September 15, 1889.
2. Frances Hodgson Burnett is editor of the department, and her name is published at the head of the department in each newspaper, and she holds herself responsible for the high literary character and interest of the service.
3. Contracts for this service are made for one year.
4. Each week there will be: (a) Installment of a serial story (3,000 to 4,000 words). (b) Complete short story (3,000 words). (c) Two or three special articles on the most interesting topics and by famous authors. In the course of the year the most interesting subjects in History, Biography, Mechanics, Games, Adventure, Travel, Popular Science, Success in Life, Practical Information, etc., etc., will be treated.
5. The whole department will fill about three-fourths of the average newspaper page, but editors may divide the department, using special articles in any other part of the paper.
6. Constant efforts will be made to secure striking features; outlay for matter will exceed $600.00 each week. It is proposed to make this department the most popular feature in the newspaper press.

some five years, has friends there among the teachers and has often expressed a desire to be engaged in this work, & knowing that she can

that she would at once feel at home there, I write to let you know

her desire, thinking that possibly you can secure her a position as

that you do not let her know of my request
because she is ^{fully} of age and would not thank me for writing this, though would fully appreciate any favor you might show her & if in my power to reciprocate
I shall be made glad.

I must thank you for your hearty response to my request regarding the library but ^{think} ~~fear~~ that some one else will have it,
many applicants, & few offices!

Very Truly Yours

I guess, if you have for some of the rest of us. Best what was once a principle, of

The truth is, that Dr. P. & J. B.

than a man, whom they do know,

I did not mean, that

Dear Brother Oliver

I presented your letter & J. G. Whitham to Mr Whitlam Reid U. S. Minister at Paris, & he invited me & my party to his house and to his 4th of July "Reception", & was kind & courteous exceedingly - as was Mrs Reid, who knew you in California when she was Miss Mills. I had several interviews & many hitches from them. Both wished to be kindly remembered to you. Our meetings were large, good & met my expectation. The Grandson of Maryuis de Lafayette - Edmond "aged 75" gave me a good ride and a pleasant interview after our decoration of his Grandfather's grave July 4. My health is still poor & Paris did not improve it. After this week in London, I am going to an expensive & well-spoken of Sanitarium in Wales for an experiment of rest, medical advice & diet. The latter is difficult to manage in the hotels & the financial question became so Embarrassing that I
