NEW YORK

April 29th, 1891.

My dear General Howard:

Please accept my warm thanks for your very kind and full reply to my question about the riderless horse. The information you send is so complete and interesting that I feel that we have imposed upon you somewhat in taking so much of your time. I did not mean to do more than to ask you to refer us to the necessary authorities; but of course we are extremely glad to have the results of your own research and observation.

Thanking you again, I am

Very truly yours,

Lawrence Abbott.

General O. O. HOWARD,

My Dear Sir:-

The musical and military pageant, designed to revive the patriotic memories of the war, notices of which have appeared at length in the daily press, promises to be a grand success.

We have reserved for the use of yourself and family a special box among the generals who have volunteered to assist us as a reviewing staff, which we hope you will accept.

In order to make the scene as vivid as possible, we are anxious to secure one company of U. S. Troops armed and equipped and in marching order present at the afternoon performance at one p. m. sharp so as to augment the officers which we are obliged to divide for the afternoon and evening performance.

I am aware that this request is at short notice, but I have ventured, at the suggestion of our efficient secretary, Prof. R. T. GREENER, whom I have requested to bear this note personally, to rely upon your generous co-operation, as we did with such grand results last Monday.

At no time in the history of the country is a revival of true patriotism more needed, and we hope to make this affair something more than a mere contribution of money for our fund,

I remain,

Very truly yours,

HORACE L. HOTCHKISS,

Treasurer and,

Chairman of committee on entertainment.
