Gouverner's Island & Y.

Dear Brother:-

With great pleasure I remit to you a check for fifty dollars ($50) being the amount of the pledge made by the Cornell Memorial Sunday School to your school on Sunday last. If it does you as much good, as it affords us pleasure, to feel that we could contribute something to some school more needy than our own, it will, "Like the gentle dew that falls from heaven, bless alike him who gives as well as he who receives."

Yours. Very truly
Edward Kilpatrick

1. A small, thin, yellowish brown bird, about 5 inches long, with a dark cap and a white patch on each side of the neck. It feeds on insects, small worms, and other small animals. Found in open woods and along roadsides, especially near streams. Its song is a clear, ringing trill, often heard in the early morning hours. Nest is a simple, shallow depression in the ground, lined with dry leaves and twigs. Eggs are usually three or four, light blue in color, with dark spots.

My dear Sir, We are trying to arrange for the Anniversary Meeting of our Association, which we propose holding some time the end of December. We should like very much if you could come to Toronto and give us the address on that occasion. The dates suitable for us would be Friday Dec 18th, Monday the 21st or Tuesday the 22nd.

Kindly let me know by return if it is at all possible for you to come for this occasion, also the date you prefer. Will you also kindly let me know what expense will be connected with your visit. We can assure you of a warm and hearty welcome, and I am sure your coming to us will help us in our work very greatly.

Kindly give this your most favorable consideration. Hoping to have a satisfactory reply from you,

I remain,
Sincerely yours

My dear General:-Your favor of the 11th, with reference to the artist's proof copies of your picture duly at hand and satisfactory. Pach, the artist sent me one copy of your picture, that where you appear on horseback; the face is so small in that picture and so shaded by the hat that it is difficult to recognise you. Did I understand you to say that you had directed him to send two pictures? If so what is the other picture? If you directed him to send two, he has failed to do so.

GENERAL OFFICE,

My dear Friend:-

I write to ask your very kind and friendly attention to an Association call of peculiar interest. There is a little town up the Hudson called Nyack, and at that town next Friday (Nov. 20th) assembles a district conference in our friend George Hall's field.

I learned confidentially that the Association there is in a condition where the appearance of a prominent friend of the work like yourself, with some hearty words of cheer and greeting and encouragement concerning our work for young men would exert precisely the influence that is needed to give the young men there heart and courage in their work at a critical time; and I have been asked very importunately whether it would not be possible for you to come and speak such words.

The call is so peculiarly strong that I venture to bring it to your attention though I know you must be under continual pressure of this kind. I know too, however, that you always have a most brotherly willingness to help us out in time of need.

The Convention meets Friday afternoon and continues in session over Sunday. If you can go, what time would best suit your convenience. Could you spend Sunday with the brethren there? That would be a great blessing and benediction to them. If you cannot do that would Friday or Saturday evening suit you better than any other time?

With my affectionate regards
Micently yours
Richard Morse

My dear Friend:-

I write to you now very much engaged in the Association still of business matters. There is a little time in the morning still, and at first towards Friday (Nov. 8th)
I have a great deal of correspondence to do with George Hall's family.
I suppose a great deal of correspondence in our friend George Hall's family and the prison still, and so far towards Friday (Nov. 8th) I have some time to do with the work like correspondence which the Association has done, with some other work to do with the Association and the movement concerning out work for young men mostly except briefly the influence of which is seen of late of late more than before in general work of a social time; and I have been asked very frequently whether it is possible for you to come and speak some words.
The office is so constantly changing that I venture to think it to have still to be made over again to be used for the Association which will have a more permanent character. I know too, however, that you always have a more permanent kind. I know too, however, that you always have a more permanent kind. It is out of time to speak of this.
The Convention meets Friday afternoon and continues in session over Sunday. If you can go, miss this meeting past until next morning going on Sunday with the pleasure that this morning be a busy day passing and preparing to leave. If you cannot do this morning earliest possible and prepare this early this afternoon, it is better early and leave this day.

Gen. O. O. Howard,

Dear Sir:-

We ask your personal co-operation in a matter that seems likely to prove of great public importance. The Prohibitionists throughout the country are circulating the enclosed Agreement by which each person signing agrees to vote for the Prohibition party candidate for President provided 1,000,000 signatures are secured.

We desire to secure your consent to act on a commission of five who will announce to the public when the million signatures will have been secured. This commission will consist of one representative member each from the republican, democratic and people's parties and two from the prohibition party.

Of course all these blanks will be received by us and a tally kept. We will not trouble you until the million names have been secured. We will have them arranged in packages and so classified that the commission can in a little time satisfy itself of the accuracy of the count and make an announcement to the public to that effect.

Of course we shall be careful that in rendering this service that you do not in any way commit yourself to this agreement but simply as a favor to those interested help to audit the account. Hon. Abram S. Hewitt, ex-mayor of New York; George F. Washburn of Boston, Mass; A. A. Hopkins, Secretary of the East Tennessee Land Co., have agreed to help audit the agreements. Will you kindly permit us to use your name as a member of the Commission in connection with the others?

changes for the present having been agreed upon by the section
We have to secure your consent to act on a combination to fill up the remaining vacancies of the public who will be able to do so. This combination will consist of one hundred and fifty members each from the Republican, Democratic and Free and Fair from the Abolition party.

To commence all these plans will be necessary for us and a first step. We will not propose for myself the million names have been secured. We will have given sufficient to the speaker and to those present on the platform to make it possible to give effect.
The committee will be out to get in touch with this to commence we shall be obliged to do so in order to
